The Orchard Demonstration Train Greeted by a Big Crowd in This Place Yesterday

By arrangements of the Department of Agriculture of this state, the Pennsylvania Railroad Company ran its Orchard Demonstration from Harrisburg to Lancaster on Monday. The first stop was made at Middletown and a run of twenty miles brought the train to Landisville, where there were demonstrations in spraying and pruning from 1 p. m. to 3:30 p. m., on the farm of Harry L. Mumma, close to the Pennsylvania R. R. station.

Among the prominent persons in attendance were: Simon Minnich, Herman Long, Allyn G. Dissinger, Israel F. Root, A. R. Strickler and Simon Hershey, of Landisville; John Keady, Christian Newcomer, Norman Newcomer, of Mount Joy; Abraham Kreider, I. S. Weiss, Amos Heistand and C. B. Herr, of Salunga, Henry Brandt, of Florin; I. A. Shank, of Manheim; and Ephram S. Hoover, and Jonas E. Shank, of Lancaster township.

There were addresses during the course of the afternoon by J. D. Herr, of Lancaster, who explained the method of preparing the lime and sulphur wash and how to apply the same; and Cyrus T. Fox, of Reading, who spoke of the importance of spraying and the necessity of farmers co-operating to fight the San Jose scale, in order that the fruit trees of the State may be saved.

Ephram S. Hoover, who is the owner of a farm close to the one on which the spraying operations were conducted, also spoke. He related his experience in regard to spraying an orchard which had been attacked by the scale four years ago, and told of the good results accomplished. He advised all present to pay greater attention to their fruit trees.

The car provided for the purpose is especially fitted out for lectures and will accommodate one hundred or more persons. All the apparatus used in orchard management, including a complete spraying outfit, was exhibited.

The Educational train, mention of which was made in these columns last week, arrived at the old passenger station here yesterday at 9:30 and was greeted by a number of farmers and people from this place. Among the subjects discussed were Dairy Profits, Soil Fertility, Alfalfa and Corn. These were very interesting and many profitable hints were given how to farm to advantage. Demonstrated that lime and manure were the best fertilizers for corn and that a rotation of crops and 6 tons of manure to the acre every other year, was the most profitable form of fertilizing our soil. They also demonstrated how too much fertilizer was futile. The selection of seed was also treated. Literature containing valuable information was distributed. The train consisted of three cars and a "diner."

A Special Meeting

President Wm. Tyndall called borough council into special session on Friday evening for the purpose of taking action on the insurance of borough property, paying freight and express and such other business as may come before council. Those present were Messrs Wm. Tyndall, Geo. H. Brown, B. S. Dillinger and J. G. Reist. Burgess Hoffman also present. The Burgess stated that when the documents were handed over to him by his predecessor J. W. Shrite, there was no insurance policy for the council chamber. Neither was there a policy for the pumping station or the machinery therein. After due consideration it was ordered that the Burgess and Messrs. Dillinger and Brown of the Property and Finance committees should place insurance to the amount of $3,000 on the council chamber $1,500 on the water works and $25,000 on the machinery. The policy on the water works expired six years ago but was never renewed while according to the records there was never any insurance on council chamber. Upon motion it was ordered that the clerk should draw orders for freight, express and anything of utmost necessity hereafter. It was also ordered that a new plug be placed at the Washington House. Upon motion council adjourned.
