Greater Values in Men's Clothes

It isn't what you pay that makes value— It's what you get and the kind of service and satisfaction it gives

When you buy a suit of clothes a large part of the price you pay for it is for fit and that subtle called style. This you will admit is true. In this connection here's a point to consider. In the ordinary suit style and fit disappear with the first shower. The dampness shrinks and wrinkles and warps the garments all out of shape. The money spent to secure style and fit has been wasted. This is true in most clothes but when purchasing the Unique Brand, style and fit are permanent because Unique Clothing is all thoroughly shrunk before they are made up.
