that you are going to wear Hart, Shaffner & Marx Clothes this Fall: For the certainty of being dressed in correct styles: For the keeping high grade tailoring: For the assurance of all-wool fabrics when cotton mixtures are the rule: For real economy. No other clothier can offer you better clothes than ours, every dollar they cost is in the goods. In these days of advancing prices of wool and of fabrics, the temptations to cheapen the quality are strong; You'll find many lower priced clothes, but none really equal in value. Hart, Shaffner & Marx Clothes appeal to the wearer because they have a positive style character, an individuality, the ideal type of garment for a gentleman. Arthur B. Heisey spent a few days in New York City on business. Mr. and Mrs. Phares N. Kraybill spent Sunday with friends at Florin. Russell Benner of Thurmout, Md., was a visitor in the family of his brother-in-law, John E. Kesseling, several days. Miller Weaver has purchased an automobile and on Sunday gave his wife and two sons a thirty-mile trip across the country. Rev. Frank E. Bossart, of Mount Joy, pastor of the Presbyterian church, was a guest in the family of W. L. Heisey on Sunday. Miss Etta Friedenberger, of New York who has been the guest of Mrs. H. E. Heisey, Ira Shenk, Joe Ebersole and a few friends enjoyed an automobile trip on Sunday, and explored the cave at the Cove near Mount Joy. The lawn sociable given by the C. E. Society of the Donegal Presbyterian church on Saturday evening was a success, although the cool weather kept some persons at home. Levi Henry is West Donegal's oldest tobacco farmer. He is 78 years old, and is now engaged in harvesting a crop that he raised on John G. Reist's farm. H. E. Hoffman, formerly station agent here, and now an assistant at Conewago, will move to that place before October 1st. C. E. Rank, the new agent, will occupy the house vacated by Mr. Rank. The pressure in the mains of the Rheems Water Company was demonstrated when making a connection at H. K. Landis' residence. The stream shut up in the air to the height of about thirty feet. Connections are now being made with the pipes and some fire plugs are being installed through the town. Dr. William Thome, who for many years has resided at Milton Grove, will on October 1st take up his residence in Elizabethtown. His son, Dr. Arthur Thome, will continue his father's practice at Milton Grove, and the latter will open an office in Elizabethtown, in the office room formerly occupied by the late Frank W. Miller. Arrangements have been made for a memorial service in commemoration of the death of Susan Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Smith who died of diphtheria in July. No funeral services could be held at that time, and the Church of the Brethren have tendered the use of their meeting house for this purpose. The memorial address will be given by F. W. Williamson, of Brooklyn, N. Y., and he will be assisted in the service by Rev. S. S. Shearer. Rev. Simon B. Landis and Amos Ebersole of Leola. The services will be held on Sunday, October 3, at two o'clock in the afternoon.

Married in February Miss Sue Drabenstadt of this place surprised her many friends within the past few days when they heard that she had joined the matrimonial band. When "quizzed" she admitted having been married to James T. Hanley, of New York City, at the home of his sister in Lee, Massachusetts last February. However late, we all join in wishing them much joy and happiness. Fairfield's Blood Tonic for Hogs Only is specifically compounded for that animal and is a positive regulator of the digestion and purifier of the blood. It prevents cholera and all diseases to which swine are subject. For sale by F. H. Baker, Mount Joy; H. C. Greider, Landisville, and D. E. Ebersole, Elizabethtown.

Strong Star Course

The Star Entertainment Course committee have again arranged to give an exceptionally strong bill in Mount Joy Hall for the coming Winter—the best and most expensive course since the committee's debut in the business. The attractions of previous courses were certainly all that could be expected and this year they have spared neither time nor trouble in securing the best in the entertainment bureau. The tickets for the course have been issued and are ready for distribution at $1.00 per set of five while five cents additional will be charged for reserved seats. Solicitors will canvass the town and everybody should encourage the promoters from the start. Following are the five attractions of the course: Friday, November 19th—Martha Alexander Company. Thursday, December 9th—Dr. Roland D. Grant. Friday, February 18th—Sidney London. Tuesday, March 1st—Lyceum Ladies' Quartette. Monday, March 14th—Chicago Ladies' Orchestra. By the foregoing list of attractions it may be seen that the course this year consists of a variety. The first number, the Martha Alexander Company, are a lot of great entertainers. They will be followed by one of the best lecturers on the American stage. As vocalists the Lyceum Ladies' Quartet has few equals. Last but not least is the Chicago Ladies' Orchestra with good instrumental music. This surely completes a great entertainment course. The reserved seats will be placed on sale in ample time prior to each engagement at Dr. E. W. Garber's drug store. The following committee has charge of the course: Rev. W. H. Edge, Rev. C. H. Grove, Rev. J. E. Deacon, Rev. Frank Bossart, Rev. J. B. Ritters, Dr. E. W. Garber, H. C. Brunner and Dr. J. J. Newpher.

There are numerous requests from citizens of our village for gas connections and it is quite likely that a petition will be circulated in the near future asking the Donegal Gas Co. at Mount Joy to extend its mains to this place. Gas is certainly O. K. and with the mains in town it is a certainty that many would have the convenience in their houses. A grand supper was held at the pretty country home of Mr. and Mrs. David Barnhart, west of town, on Sunday evening when they entertained about forty of the leading society ladies and gentlemen of this district. The supper was given in honor of their son Tillman, who is very popular in society circles. The supper was a grand affair and was more than enjoyed by those present.
