A Wreck at Landisville. About 6 o'clock last Tuesday morning a wreck occurred at the Landisville crossing of the Philadelphia & Reading Railroad. Two P. & R. cars and the caboose were derailed while shifting. The accident was due to a rope dropping down, which was fastened to the water tank and catching the guard rail and the main track. As a result the cars were lifted off the track. One car was nearly overturned, but was held up by being coupled to another car. Nobody was injured, but the interlocking plant was damaged. The Columbia wrecking crew cleared the tracks and traffic was only delayed for a brief time.

Tendered a Kitchen Shower. In honor of the recent marriage of their teacher, Mr. W. H. Pool, the pupils of the East Petersburg Grammar school on Friday evening tendered him a kitchen shower at his home. Mr. Pool was taken completely by surprise and was almost at a loss for words to express his thanks to the pupils. The "shower" comprised about everything for use in the culinary department of the house Mr. Pool is most appreciative of the kind regards of his pupils.

Will Build a Fine Store. The firm of Hager & Brothers, at Lancaster, the West King street merchants, contemplate radical changes and improvements in their big store and it is understood that operations will begin in the spring, to erect a five-story building. The work will be done in such a manner so as not to interfere with the business of the store. When completed it will be one of the finest establishments in that city.

From Far-Off Africa. Mount Joy friends have received a letter from Rev. John M. Sheetz, formerly of Rapho township, who is now in South Africa, in the interest of the Brethren in Christ missionary work. He has been in Transvaal, the country made famous through the Boer War. Rev. Sheetz has been in the church in which Paul Kruger, the President of the Transvaal and leader of the Boer War, used to preach.

Hoffer-Helsey. Mr. Arthur Enos Hoffer, son of Allen Hoffer, and Miss Sue Helsey, both of Rapho township, were married on Thursday evening at the home of the bride, by Rev. Henry Hoffer. On Sunday a reception was held at the home of the groom.

Deer at Hershey. Two young deer were recently received by M. S. Hershey for the large park at Hershey. These deer are very beautiful and attract a great deal of attention. It is expected that several more will be received later.

A Case From Bainbridge. Mr. John Shundike, arrested in Bainbridge by Constable Price on the charges of false pretense and defrauding a boarding-house keeper, has been committed for a hearing before Alderman Stauffer at Lancaster.

Many medicinal elements so beneficial to one kind of animal cause serious injury to some other kind. That's why there is a separate Fairfield Blood Tonic for each kind of animal. Ask for free book. For sale by F. H. Baker, Mount Joy; H. C. Greider, Landisville, and D. B. Ebersole, Elizabethtown.

Marriage Licenses. Frank G. Bostic and Carrie M. M. Meister, both of Marietta. N. S. Kendig of East Donegal, and Annie L. Walters of West Donegal.

Talk is Cheap When you can get a telephone in your house for $12.00 a year. Call up the Columbia Telephone Company and they will tell you all about it.

Many People Are Sick. Penn township has a measles epidemic; Rapho has many cases of typhoid; measles and mumps are raging in Manheim township.

Execution Issued. H. B. Gingrich and Brother of Lawn, have issued an execution for $140 against Mr. Joseph H. Detwiler of this place.

Harsh physics react, weaken the bowels, cause chronic constipation. Doan's Regulets operate easily, tone the stomach, cure constipation. 25c Ask your druggist for them.

WARREN TOPPAN, Lynn, Mass. Cured of severe compound cold and cough by Vinol. 'From Dec. 20, '08, to March 1, '09, I had three bad colds, one on top of the other. I got so weak I could hardly get around. Nothing seemed to help me until I began to take Vinol. The change was magic. Three bottles completely fixed that compound cold and stopped the terrible cough—and what surprises me most, at the same time it cured me of a severe stomach trouble that has bothered me for 20 years. Vinol is certainly a wonderful medicine.' Mr. Toppan is one of Lynn's most prominent and highly respected merchants, whose word is as good as his bond. The reason Vinol is so successful in such cases is because it contains the two most world-famed tonics—the medicinal, strengthening, body-building elements of Cod Liver Oil and Tonic Iron. Your Money Back if You Are Not Satisfied. E. W. GARBER, Druggist, Mt. Joy.

Farmers' Column SOME USEFUL INFORMATION FOR FARMERS—READ IT The Acidity of Soils and How to Cure —Winter Work for Horses—Lice and Mite in the Poultry House—Cow and Hog on the Dairy Farm.

In a territory like the west, where dairy interests are increasing rapidly, it would seem that there is an opportunity to raise a large number of hogs in connection with the dairies. If there are any two animals which are particularly fitted to go together on one farm they are the dairy cows and the pigs. In cases where dairies are run for city purposes and all the milk sold direct there may be some excuse for the proprietor not raising any hogs, but on farms where only cream is sold and the skim-milk kept at home, the absence of a good herd of pigs shows bad management. There is probably no one article of diet that is cheaper or more capable of producing quick growth in pigs than fresh skim-milk, and the pig-pen is the one market where every dairyman can dispose of the surplus skim-milk with the greatest profit.

The poultry house absolutely free of lice and mites is the happy exception and not the general rule. One must be ever vigilant and constantly aggressive in the warfare against these pests in order to even keep them in subjection says the writer in an exchange. When a breeder tells me that a louse or mite can be found in his poultry domain I cannot help thinking that a thorough investigation of the houses would discover some of those torments hidden away under perches or in some dark corner. Why this doubt of my brother or sister breeder's assertion, do you ask? Well, the time was when I made like assertions, and thought truthfully, but I had a rude awakening from my dream of louseless and miteless houses and fowls. Just as soon as I became aware of the presence of lice, a general cleaning was the order of the day, but never since have I declared as emphatically as in the times before I discovered the unwelcome residents that there were neither lice or mites in my poultry house. Whether you know that there are lice or mites present or not it will do no harm to treat the houses as if you were sure the unwelcome insects were there. Spray the perches often with some one of the good lice killers on the market and occasionally dust the fowls well with a good insect powder.

After the ground freezes in the fall a large majority of the farmers do not have enough work for their horses to give them a sufficient amount of exercise. When horses are first confined after having had plenty of outdoor exercise all summer they have trouble with swelled legs, and other derangements. The best way to prevent these troubles is to adjust the food to the changed conditions of the horses. Those of the horses that do very little work during the winter do not need much grain if they are getting all the hay they can eat. Horses can be kept in excellent condition when fed oats straw that has been stowed in the snow and a very little grain. Bran makes an excellent feed for the greater part of the winter grain ration; it keeps the digestive system in good healthy condition. An occasional mess of boiled oats is greatly relished by the horse; a feed of this kind should be given at least once a week. Carrots make an excellent feed during the winter and most horses are very fond of them. Horses should always have warm and well bedded quarters. Give them water the first thing in the morning and last thing in the evening. Have a lump of rock salt in each stall that they can go to daily.

Acid soils are readily detected by the reaction which they give with sensitive litmus paper. In making the test the moistened soil is pressed against the blue litmus paper, which changes to red in the presence of free acids. Acid soils are made productive by using lime and other alkaline material to neutralize the humic acid before applying farm and other manures. Acid soils are not suitable for the production of clover legumes. Experiments by Wheeler at the Rhode Island Experiment Station indicates that there are large areas of acid soils in the Eastern States which were much improved when treated with airslacked lime. There is great difference in the power of plants to live in acid soils. Some agricultural crops as legumes are particularly sensitive, while many weeds have such strong power of endurance that they thrive in the presence of acids. Weeds frequently reflect that character of the soil as to acidity, in the same way that an alkaline soil is indicated by the plants produced. The acid and alkaline compounds of the soils greatly influence the bacterial flora. In the presence of strong acids or alkalis, many of the bacterial changes necessary for the elaboration of plant food fail to take place.
