EDITORIAL

If the flies get too thick, feed them anti-fat, says G—

The latest stayers aren't necessarily those that are out latest at night.

Dead men's shoes are apt to make corns on the disposition of those who inherit them.

In extending kindnesses too many of us are inclined to serve ourselves very liberally first.

It requires a person of tact to be a relation-in-law and a welcome person at the same time.

Music hath charms; but, like all other charming things, it takes cold cash to get next to it.

Being a person of well trained habits is being a moderately successful person in any situation.

The reason why there are so many easy marks is because it is easier to be an easy mark than not to be.

Adjustment is the secret of harmony, and discord comes in cover who shall do the larger part of the adjusting.

It is always desirable to reason with difficult people, but the trouble is that most of the sort never have their reason with them.

When things go easily with us conscience takes just that time to go to sleep and when the sledding gets hard refuses to stay asleep.

There is plenty of trouble in the world. The safest course is to accept the proposition without question and spend your efforts trying to keep out of it.

It is easy enough to convince a man that he can make a sudden fortune, but you have mighty hard work sometimes to persuade a man he isn't hungry.

We never have any fear that we won't have all our faults shown us. Our acquaintances and friends all resolve themselves into a committee of the whole for the sole purpose of informing us.

Council is showing the proper municipal spirit in going right ahead with the important matters on its calendar. Mt. Joy does not step growing on account of hot weather or any ordinary thing. Installing fire hydrants day and night, grading streets, laying new crossings, etc. Let the improvements go right on!

Census Completed

We have received from Census Enumerator Falck the following in regard to the population of this county: "On the 30th of June the office of Supervisor of Census for the 4th district of Pennsylvania, Lancaster Co. closed. The work has been completed. The population and agricultural schedules have all been thoroughly examined, revised and sent to Washington. A material increase in the population of Lancaster City and county is shown.

Just what position Lancaster Co. will hold in agriculture is hard to say because I have nothing to compare our values. Our corn, tobacco and potato values are way below the average yield. It is because of these falling off so much, our leadership stands in danger.

Should we, when the final comparison is made by the Bureau of the Census, stand first, the credit will be largely due to the aid given by our newspapers, the interest shown and help given by the Hon. W. W. Greist in looking after Census matters in Washington, the great aid and work done by the clerks in this office, Miss Stackhouse and H. S. Hartman and the enthusiasm and hard work done by the excellent corps of enumerators." Respectfully, Milton S. Falck Supervisor of Census.

HICKS FOR JULY
Reliable Information From "Word and Works" Magazine

Following is an abstract of Rev. I. R. Hicks' forecast for July as published in "Word and Works":

A regular storm period, central on the 4th, covers the 2nd to the 7th. At the beginning of this period look for decided rise of temperature and fall of the barometer in western sections. From the 3rd to 7th these conditions will gradually move eastward across the country, growing into a warm wave and attended, on and touching the 4th, 5th and 6th, by vicious storms of thunder, wind, rain and possibly hail and local tornadoes. The indications are good for some celestial fireworks on and touching the "Glorious Fourth." Higher barometer and cooler will follow storms from the west.

A reactionary storm period covers the 9th, 10th and 11th, but the storms of this period may center in and culminate on the 12th, the date of the Moon's passage from north to the south across the celestial equator. Westerly winds, rising barometer and cooler should naturally follow this storm period.

A regular storm period runs from the 14th to 19th, being central on the 16th. Storm conditions, such as change to warmer, falling barometer and cloudiness, will appear to the west early in this period, about the 16th, 17th and 18th, blustering thunder clouds, with heavy showers and wind will touch many localities in their sweep from west to east across the country. This period will also be followed by rising barometer and cooler air from the northwest.

A reactionary storm period, with Full Moon at its center, falls on the 21st, 22nd and 23rd. The Moon will be at extreme south declination on the 20th, and hence atmospheric tides naturally should flow from northerly directions and prevent excessive warmth at this period. Notwithstanding, rise of temperature, falling barometer and scattering thunder showers will be natural on and touching the 22nd.

A regular storm period centers on the 27th, extending from the 25th to the 30th. The Moon crosses the celestial equator on the 26th, is at last quarter on the 29th, and in perigee on the 30th. Throughout this period the Moon will be outrunning the Earth and approaching nearer to us, swinging from the equator northward. Hence, a great warm wave will be natural during this period, increasing in extent and intensity as it spreads eastward from day to day. Low barometer and storms of rain, wind and thunder may also be expected, all reaching a general culmination on and about the 30th. There are reasons to apprehend that seismic disturbances may be prolonged, or retarded from the preceding seismic period, into the closing storm period for July.—Watch the reports of same on and touching the 29th and 30th.

We calculate that the general rain-falls will be moderately sufficient in all the grain producing regions in June and up to the middle of July, but we fear that drought will be severely felt before the end of July and through August into September.

SOME USEFUL INFORMATION FOR FARMERS—READ IT

The Scour in Calves—Where the Alderney Cattle Are From—Barn Itch in Cattle. Shade for the Chicks—Potato Blight and Other Notes.

Every farm should have its patch of popcorn.

Carnations are not usually bothered much by insects.

The maize crop of Argentine has almost trebled in the 15 years.

Spring and early summer cultivation, where it does not disturb plant roots, should be fairly deep.

Cultivate with a cultivator having small teeth, close together, so as to break up the soil into fine particles.

Weeds not only take the moisture from the soil, but they extract plant food which should be used for the growing crop.

Asparagus takes the place of new peas in haste and is a sovereign remedy for late kidney troubles of every kind.

Soy beans will grow on all kinds of soil, rich or poor, clay, black or sand, limestone or freestone, dry soils or well-drained soils.

In a village garden the owners must often put up with the inconvenience of growing berries and vegetables on the same little plot.

When aphid attack garden plants use tobacco or kerosene emulsions just as soon as the insects appear. Repeat if necessary.

A good time to kill weeds is the day before you see them. A seed which has just thrown out a sprout is very easy to kill, simply moving it does the trick.

From 300 acres of alfalfa a Kansas farmer obtained 300 bushels of seed, which brought on an average of $10 per bushel. The seed was threshed from the third crop.

The value of the farm products of the country for the year was estimated at $8,760,000,000, the highest on record, in the annual report of Secretary of Agriculture Wilson.

For potato blight use bordeaux mixture from July 1 to 15, again two weeks later. Watch the plants carefully and if any blight is noticed spray the third time without waiting two weeks.

Provide chicks with shade and where a cool breeze can fan them in warm weather. This should be supplied even if a temporary board roof is the only thing that can be furnished.

The animals are affected about the ears and eyes principally, the hair dropping out, leaving the skin rough and cracked. No doubt this is a form of mange called barn itch, due to the presence of a very small parasite which burrows in the skin. Wash affected parts thoroughly with warm soapsuds, using soft soap and scrubbing brush. After washing rub in thoroughly the following: Creolin, one ounce; oil of tar, one ounce, flower of sulphur, one ounce lard of vaseline, eight ounces.

When cattle were first imported from the Channel Islands they were commonly called Alderneys. The Channel group consists of the following islands: Jersey, Guernsey, Alderney and Sark. As we understand it very few, if any, cattle were imported from the island of Alderney which is in no sense an agricultural island. Only a few cattle are kept on this island as compared with the island of Jersey or Guernsey. The term Alderney is usually applied to the Jersey breed, but in some instances it was used to designate the cattle coming from the island of Guernsey.

It is held by some writers that there never was a distinct Alderney breed, but that they originated from the Guernsey.

There are many things which may cause calves to scour. One of the most common causes of calf scouring is over feeding or feeding milk at too low a temperature. We do not believe it is a safe practice to depend upon the finger to determine the temperature of the skim milk, but a thermometer should be used where it is necessary to heat the milk for calves. The calf will do the best on milk heated from 98 to 100 degrees F., and not given more than it can reasonably take care of. To begin with the calf should not have over a quart and a half of milk at a feed; then gradually increase the allowance as the calf develops. When calves are permitted to have all the skim milk they can drink they will gorge themselves and indigestion and scours will usually follow. Isolate affected calves. Give newborn calves a clean, sunny, well ventilated, disinfected and whitewashed box stall and see that the bedding is kept clean and dry. Treat scours by giving a dose of castor oil in milk and follow two or three times a day with a teaspoonful of a mixture of two parts subnitrate of bismuth and one of salol. If factory or other skim milk is fed give small quantities often from clean, scalded utensils and in each pint of it at time of trouble mix one teaspoonful of a mixture of half an ounce of formaldehyde in fifteen and one-half ounces of freshly boiled water.

Something For Nothing
A remarkable deal was pulled off at South Bethlehem when George B. Hudock purchased thirty-one acres of growing clover hay for 5 cents. The hay is on a tract near Bethlehem and was owned by a land company which is about to cut up the plot into building lots. It was offered to Mr. Hudock at any price he would name, which offer he accepted and bid 5 cents. The agent was game and stood by his word by writing out a receipt for the nickel. Mr. Hudock expects the crop to yield him no less than seventy-five tons of hay.
