CHAPTER VII
Valuable Information Relative to Road Making

In the last chapter was given proof of the great mistake it is to place upon roadways stone of a size larger than will pass through a 1 1/2 inch ring. It was shown how the erroneous practice will allow water to penetrate the foundation of the road to its injury and also how it is destructive of drainage. But there is another particular in which large stones are harmful to the road. On a highway where large stones have been placed the first team to pass over that road will make a well defined wheel track. The stone in the track will be more even than those in any other place on the road. What the result? The next team that has occasion to use that road will move over it in the same wheel track to get the benefit of the packing down caused by the wheels of the first team. Successive teams will do the same thing for everybody is looking for the most comfortable place on the road to drive and do not care to be jolted over loose, large stones. In time these stones will become smaller and will mass, becoming the only portion of the road fit to travel upon. Frequent use of it will make a rut, and the best that can be done will be under this mode of construction or repair will be a much rutted section of a very bad road.

An error frequently made in connection with the placing of stone upon a highway is in not preparing the roadbed for the stone. All mistakes in drainage should be rectified and very often it will be found that a smaller amount of stone than at first deemed necessary will be needed. The road official is very often required to repair places in the road where holes have developed on long stretches of wide and deep rutting that fills with water and resembles a miniature canal after a rain. The wrong way to repair such places is merely to dump stone into them. The better mode of repair is to prepare the road for the stone. First, clean the depression of the mud which has settled there. Then do a little grading that will restore the road to its proper contour, higher in the middle than at the ends. After this has been done some fine stone can be distributed evenly upon the road and in a short time travel will compact it into a good stretch of road. Had the road been repaired in the other manner travel would have gotten out of one rut to settle into another.

Different Views Altogether
The twenty-fourth annual session of the Lancaster County School Directors Association, was held at Millersville last week. The subject, "What Advantage for Play and Exercise Should the School Yard Offer?" was discussed by O. E. Martin of Providence. He emphasized the fact that places for the popular games of the day should be provided for by all School Boards. In our town the directors prohibit the playing of base ball, the most popular of all present day sports.

"Let me see some of your black kid gloves" said a lady to the clerk. "These are not the latest style, are they?" she asked when the gloves were produced. "Yes, madam," was the reply, "we received them only two days ago."
"I didn't think they were because the fashion paper says black kids have tan stitches and vice versa. I see the tan stitches, but not the vice versa." The shopman explained that vice versa was French for even buttons, and she bought four pairs.

The ashman was raising a can of ashes above his head to dump the contents into his cart, when the bottom of the can came out. Mary saw it and ran in and told her mother. "I hope you didn't listen to what he said" her mother remarked. "He didn't say a word to me," replied little Mary; "he just walked off by the side of his wagon, talking to God."

Farmer (whose son has been at college): "What was all that howling you was doing out in th' grove?" Cultured Son: "I was merely shouting Miss Brighteyes what a college yell is like!"
Farmer: "Well, college is some good after all, I'm gonn' into town to sell some truck tomorrow. You kin go along an' do th' callin'."

"Who can mention one leading fact about the Epistles?" asked the Sunday School teacher.
Jimmy's hand went up.
"Well, Jimmy?"
"They were the wives of the Apostles."

A Swede entered the postoffice and inquired:
"Bane any letters for me today?"
"What name, please?"
"Ay tank the name is on de letter."

Lady (giving tramp a dinner) "I am not giving you this because you begged, but for my own pleasure."
"Oh, ma'am make it a quarter and thoroughly enjoy yourself."

A good rule for every farmer is the two-foot rule.
