the premises of Mr. H. Faus, cut off several grape vines near thte roots and excoriated a number of fruit trees on the place. Persons like that would seem to have little difficulty in hating themselves to death if they turned their poisonous attention in yard, as they should. Fireworks may sizzle and scream, and the skyrockets hiss and glare; the small boy may shoot off his fingers and put out his eyes with their blare; he may fill a tin can with fire crackers, and tie to a howling dog's tail, and go off to heaven by the tetanus route, while a set tof relatives wail that their little sons are prohibited from buying powder or other combustions to celebrate an insane Fourth of July. Returning from Elizabethtown at the hour when grave yards yawn, flickering lights were observed in a secluded spot on the Ridge road-so verified a young man from our town which seems fabulous to any reasonable man or woman. The light formed itself into a fiery vertical circle neter, then sud Collection of,
