Our Weekly Grain Letter
Compiled for the Mount Joy Bulletin, at Mount Joy, Pa., by Wm. L. Bear & Co., Pennsylvania Building, Philadelphia, Pa., by D. B. Lehman, Manager, Woolworth Building, Lancaster, Penna.

Phila., June 20, 1911.

Further declines early in the week have been followed by a rather narrow price range in which the trend has been toward a moderately higher level. Toward mid-week the upward movement was fairly well pronounced under claims of drouth injury from important portions of Dakota, a condition to which the trade was disposed to pay some attention because of lack of moisture over the entire northwest. Late in the week good rains in that direction served to check an advancing tendency, without, however, forcing back the price to the low levels that prevailed earlier in the week. Coarse grains have continued strong, the best advice continuing to point to a material shortage in the oats yield, but the market hesitating as an aftermath to the striking advances that have hitherto been recorded. Several important holdings of this cereal are supposed to have been liquidated, this selling preventative of further advances, while advices from crop centers were sufficiently alarming to prevent price depreciation.

With the movement of the harvesting operations from the extreme southwest, to the important producing regions, there is the usual disposition to anticipate a heavy movement of new wheat and regard it as a factor of price depreciation. While this is a natural influence it should also be considered that the harvest period—the time of heaviest movement—is also the period of lowest prices for the crop year, and all conditions being normal affords to the investor the most opportune time for investment purchases even though the price action is slow and sluggish as it usually is. A condition of $0.6 means a yield of below normal, and with the spring crop still to be made the situation would seem to warrant investment purchases on a scale.

PLANTS AND THEIR PESTS
Matters of Interest to the Farmers and Fruit Growers of the County

The weekly bulletin of the division of zoology of the State department of agriculture has the following notes of interest to farmers and fruit growers of the county:

Orange Rust on Berry Plants
At this time of year a disease known as the orange rust is quite conspicuous on the leaves of the raspberry, blackberry and dewberry giving them a bright, orange red appearance. As this is the time of year that such diseased plants can be seen and caught and destroyed, and as the disease is very general in its spread over a great portion of this State, information concerning it will be not only timely, but also practical.

A prominent York county berry grower sent diseased leaves to Prof. H. A. Surface, State Zoologist, at Harrisburg, and the latter replied as follows:

"The raspberry leaves, which you sent to us, are infested with the orange rust. There is no known cure for this. The only thing to do is to take out and burn the infested parts. The disease attacks blackberry, raspberry and dewberry, and is quite conspicuous by its orange yellow color on the leaves, due to the red spores or productive bodies of this parasitic plant, which it really is.

It should be understood that when it once enters a plant it remains there until its host (i. e. the plant) is killed, and thus a plant that is infested or diseased should be taken out and burned at once, and prevent its spread to other plants. Multiple millions of spores come from these infested leaves, and if any are left they will infect other plants. Prompt treatment by destruction of the entire plant as soon as the diseased plants are seen means much in helping to prevent the spread of the disease to other plants."

Destroying the Woodchuck or Groundhog
State Zoologist H. A. Surface says that the woodchuck, or groundhog, is quite liable to bite into and seriously injure or even kill fruit trees during the summer time, and this may be mistaken for injury by rabbits. By this means, as well as by injury to grain fields, this animal is liable to become quite a pest.

In reply to an inquiry as to how to get rid of the woodchuck Professor Surface gave the following:

"The best method to destroy the woodchuck or groundhog is to soak some absorbing material like moss, rags or cotton, with carbon bisulfide and push it down into the hole where the animal lives, and close this hole with earth. One-half teaspoonful of carbon bisulfide, or more, put into each hole will destroy the inmates."

"This method is economical and it is efficient. It will surely do the work, but it must be remembered that knowledge is power, and excepting in the cultivated districts, where the woodchuck is seriously objectionable to field crops or orchards, it is not advisable to use this power to exterminate it uselessly. In fact, Pittsburg objection has been made to the dissemination of this knowledge, because there are many persons in that region who hunt it, and shoot it for food, and are not willing to see it destroyed wholesale by gas fumigation."

The Appearance of the Seventeen-Year Locust
The seventeen-year locust or Cicada has appeared in Pennsylvania from the Susquehanna river eastward, and promptly upon schedule time, as predicted by State Zoologist H. A. Surface in communications early this spring, notwithstanding the fact that many persons thought this could not be possible, as they did not consider this as "locust year" Professor Surface explained that this was not the re-appearance of the 1902 brood, but was another brood coming from eggs laid in the twigs of trees in 1894.

State Zoologist Surface is making a special study of this brood of the Cicada or seventeen-year locust, and requests information to be sent to him at Harrisburg, giving the dates of appearance and disappearance of the insects, some statements as to abundance, the amount of damage effected, the extent of the area covered, the enemies observed, and other points that will help to make complete the records and a detailed study of these insects throughout those portions of the commonwealth in which they may appear.

It is recommended either to cover small trees with cloth or netting or wrap strips of cloth around the trunks and larger branches of fruit trees three years of age or less, where these insects are numerous. This is to prevent damage by piercing the bark and wood for the purpose of laying eggs. They do not feed on the trees as is popularly supposed. By the last of June they will have disappeared as suddenly as they came, and the young hatching from the eggs laid in the injured places of the living wood feed on the roots of the trees during another interval of seventeen years.

Flea Beetles on Garden Plants
A farmer in Central Pennsylvania wrote to Prof. H. A. Surface, State Zoologist of the department of agriculture, Harrisburg, asking for a formula to "kill a small black flea beetle, white."

WOMEN MAY AVOID OPERATIONS
By taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound
The following letter from Mrs. Orville Rock will prove how unwise it is for women to submit to the dangers of a surgical operation when it may be avoided by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. She was four weeks in the hospital and came home suffering worse than before.
Here is her own statement.
Law Paw, Mich.—Two years ago I suffered very severely with a displacement, I could not be on my feet for a long time. My physician treated me for seven months without much relief and at last sent me to Ann Arbor for an operation. I was there four weeks and came home suffering worse than before. My mother advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I did. Today I am well and strong and do all my own housework. I love my health to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and advise my friends who are afflicted with any female complaint to try it."—Mrs. Orville Rock, R. R. No. 5, Law Paw, Michigan.

If you are ill do not drag along until an operation is necessary, but at once take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for women's ills, and has positively restored the health of thousands of women. Why don't you try it?

the leaves of various plants. The directions for its treatment were as follows:
"The flea-like insect on your plants is no doubt a flea beetle, which attacks many kinds of plants. It is quite a serious pest, as it eats holes in the leaves, and in these holes disease germs may find entry into the plant, and cause blight and other disease."
"I consider it very important to spray for such insects when they first appear. The best means of doing this is to spray with arsenate of lead, one ounce in each gallon of water, which is practically three pounds in one barrel. Spray as soon as possible, and if the pests are not destroyed within two days, repeat the operation. Spray again whenever they re-appear. Use the same remedy for the larger flea beetle now on the grape vines."

Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only blood and mucous surface of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution, and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in their curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address: F. J. CHENEY & CO., Tol. O. A. D. S. Malted Milk
Mr. V. G. Newell, a prominent druggist of Warren, Pa., says: "Gentlemen—Enclosed you will find a picture of my youngest boy, whose LIFE WAS SAVED BY A. D. S. MALTED MILK. "That sounds like a pretty big story, but here are the facts."
"John Winston Newell was born January 29, 1909, and after the first week his mother was unable to nurse him. He was put on a well advertised brand of malted milk, and at 5 weeks weighed only 7 1/2 pounds, was very thin and showed symptoms of starvation. Then we put him on A. D. S. Malted Milk and he began to gain at once. At 5 months, when this picture was taken, he weighed 15 pounds. We cannot recommend it too highly."
