TWO TEAMS COLLIDE

Mr. Elam Hersh of Rheems, Was Injured Last Week

A bad driving mishap occurred on the state road west of town last Wednesday evening, whereby Mr. Elam Hersh of Rheems, was injured. Messrs. Paul Wisner and Walter Welby, two young men residing just west of Florin, both owning horses with speed, were trying them out last Wednesday evening. The Welby horse was ahead and passed Mr. Hersh's team but the Wisner horse caused the collision. Mr. Hersh turned to the right and Mr. Wisner thinking there was more room also turned to that side. The horse driven by Mr. Hersh ran directly into Mr. Hersh's wagon, badly demolishing it and throwing the occupants heavily to the ground.

Mr. Hersh was brought to this place and Dr. F. L. Richards attended him. No bones were broken but he was badly bruised.
Mr. Hersh brought suit against the young men before Squire Epler, at Elizabethtown, on three charges. They were given a hearing yesterday and the Squire held the case under advisement for a few days.

THEVES USED CHLOROFORM

Rummaged House of Martin Smith at Bainbridge

The residence of Martin Smith at Bainbridge, was entered a few nights ago by an intruder, placing a ladder against the balcony, while the family were asleep, and the entire upstairs was ransacked. The thieves procured the ladder from the barn. The inmates of the home Mrs. Elizabeth Shallow and Eli Helsey, Mr. Smith and his aged mother, think they were chloroformed so they could not awaken, as the next morning they were awakened with difficulty and felt drowsy. Money amounting to fifty dollars was stolen from Mr. Helsey, who had the amount in a chest which stood against his bed. Two razors were also taken. From Mrs. Shallow five dollars was stolen. Many of Mr. Helsey's valuable papers were found in the barn the next morning. The house was completely rummaged, many burned matches were left on the floors. There is no clue to the perpetrators, although an effort is being made to find them.

Mirror Scares Team

Mr. Harry Hostetter, a farmer living along the Marietta pike, was in town with a load of wheat on Friday. When he drove across the Lumber street bridge a pedestrian carrying a large mirror turned it toward the horses and they took fright, broke the middle-ring and the leaders ran off. They were caught on the Eckhardt lot soon afterward. The damage was slight.

Nearing Completion

The large new building of the New Standard Hardware Works here is so well under way that the boss contractor left yesterday. A concrete floor and the roof which will be of slag, is the only work that remains undone. Grading is now being done about the place and it is expected to have it ready for occupancy within a few weeks.

Mr. H. S. Newcomer has returned from Detroit, Mich., where he arranged to take the agency for the Krit automobiles for Lancaster Co. He has already sold a fine runabout to Dr. E. W. Newcomer for this place. For full particulars read his ad on page 6 or call at his place of business on East Main Street.

Few Were Killed

The plover season opened on Saturday and very few were killed around here. There are some about but grass is as yet short and gunners say they are hard to get. Grasshoppers are quite plentiful which usually means a good plover crop.

Landisville is Proud

Having an unbroken stretch of concrete pavement 4,320 feet in length, the full length of the village, Landisville people think they have the longest unbroken bit of such paving in the country.

Case Was Continued

The two young men who are in jail charged with stealing money from landlord Phillips of the Florin Hotel, were brought here and heard before Justice C. H. Zeller yesterday. The case was continued.

King Bolt Broke

On the Vinegar Ferry road, between Marietta and Maytown, a cold bolt of lightning struck the barn of I. N. Terry, tenanted by Mr. Milton Shank, and the one entire end was so badly damaged that it will require a new end. Pieces of wood flew considerable distances and the report sounded like a cannon and could be heard distinctly at Maytown. It was at first supposed the barn would be entirely destroyed. There was no other damage by lightning. Lightning struck a number of trees on the York County hills, and the campers from Lancaster, who are camping there, were badly frightened.
