At Court

LOCAL CASES ARE BEING DISPOSED OF THIS WEEK

Mr. Z. W. Keller of This Place, Loses His Suit With Jacob R. Herr—The Greider vs. Trolley Company Case is Being Argued Today—Many Witnesses. When Court opened on Monday morning the first attached was that of John S. Herr against Amos H. Biever. Plaintiff resides in Dauphin county and the defendant is a hotel keeper at Elizabethtown. The suit is brought to recover a claim of $33.75, alleged to be due for domestic services rendered the defendant by the plaintiff's eighteen-year-old daughter, Edna Herr. The plaintiff alleges that it was agreed his daughter should receive four dollars per week for her services. She worked fourteen weeks and after giving the defendant credit for the payments he made it is claimed that $33.75 remains yet unpaid. The defense was that the girl was to be paid $2.50 per week or $3.50 when she proved capable of earning it. The claim was that all wages were paid, except the last week the girl was with defendant. The verdict of the jury was in favor of the defendant. Jacob R. Herr vs. Z. W. Keller was a suit in a horse transaction. The plaintiff is a horse dealer in Elizabethtown and in May, 1910, he gave a horse to Aaron Stark for trial. Stark sold the horse to Keller, who refused to surrender it. The value of the horse was $165. The defense was that Keller agreed to give back the horse if proper legal proceedings was instituted for the same. Herr refused to replevin the horse, but brought this suit. The jury awarded the plaintiff $65. The suit of B. H. Greider vs. the Elizabethtown & Florin Street Railway Company was attached for trial this morning. It is to recover the value of plaintiff's land taken in the construction of the trolley line. The jury was sent to view the land, and the taking of testimony began today. The case was non-suited on the grounds that the jurors might have been influenced.

MAINTOWN

A pleasant birthday party was given on Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Kemmerly in honor of his mother Mrs. Elizabeth Kemmerly who reached the 81 milestone of her life on that day. Relatives and friends, including quite a number of grand and great-grand children were present which swelled the number to 47 guests. A fine dinner was served by the hostess in due time and the day was pleasantly spent by social chat and some fine vocal selections by Revs. Lynch and Dixon accompanied by Miss Iona Kemmerly on the piano. We extend congratulations and hope for many happy returns of the event.

KINDERHOOK

Miss Nettie Christy spent Sunday at Marietta. Miss Mael Herr, of Millersville, was the guest of friends at Kilmessville. Mrs. Howard Eisenberger was the guest of her sister, Mrs. Joseph Weaver, at Ironville. Miss Etta Conysman, of Donerville, was the guest of her sister, Mrs. Reuben Kame. The Kinderhook Sunday School will hold its session at 10 o'clock beginning with next Sunday, Oct. 1st. Miss Beulah Remick of Lancaster and Harry Kitch and family of Columbia, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Bucher.

Determined to Have Better Roads

That citizens of Lancaster county will no longer tolerate bad roads but are determined to have better highways was illustrated at the meeting of the Lancaster Automobile Club at Honey Brook on Friday evening when Solicitor Baker reported that at the last term of Quarter Sessions Court more supervisors had been returned for failure to keep roads in repair than formerly were returned in an entire year. Recent terms of court have been marked by a growing number of returns of such a nature. Martin Rudy in his good roads committee report in referring to the number of returns made stated that this is an important matter and each return should be followed so supervisors merely as a joke. Mr. Rudy also stated that the Lancaster and Harrisburg pike is being repaired at various places but that the use of a roller would make the road satisfactory to patrons and the work more profitable to the company. The next meeting of the club will be held at Romig's Hotel, Akron. Seven new members were elected.

Methodist Church

On Sunday, Oct. 1, Holy Communion will be administered and members received into church fellowship. The following changes have been made in the evening services: Epworth League at 6 o'clock and preaching at 7 o'clock.

Will Pension Employees

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Conestoga Traction Company, Edison Electric Illuminating Company, Lancaster Gas Light & Fuel Company and the other subsidiary companies of the Lancaster Co. Railway and Light Company, held in the Conestoga Building yesterday, a plan for pensioning old employees and ones disqualified for further service was approved and ordered to be put into effect on October 1st. These Companies ever have the interests of their employees at heart and are continually doing things which result in bettering their conditions. Just about six months ago they organized a new Relief Department, which takes care of sick and injured employees, and pays benefits in case of death, a small fee being charged each member. The Department is not self-supporting, the Company having agreed to make up any deficit there may be. They are now arranging to employ a medical doctor, who will give his services free to all members of the Relief Department, and have at the present time a man who looks after the welfare of the employees, calling on the men and their families when they are sick or in need of help. A year or more ago they equipped rooms for their employees at the New Standard Hardware Works was locked in the vault at that institution. After fellow employees persuaded him to go into the vault they closed the door. After a vain effort to figure out the combination Mr. M. A. Rollman put in an appearance and the young man was set free. Clyde promised to be good.

Locked in a Vault

A few days ago Mr. Clyde E. Fenstermacher, an employe at the New Standard Hardware Works was locked in the vault at that institution. After fellow employees persuaded him to go into the vault they closed the door. After a vain effort to figure out the combination Mr. M. A. Rollman put in an appearance and the young man was set free. Clyde promised to be good.

Humor and Philosophy

By DUNCAN M. SMITH PERT PARAGRAPHS.

A MAN'S most frequent astonishment is caused by the stupidity of those persons who fail to recognize his ability. Somebody ought to speak to Opportunity about her detestable habit of going round losing herself. The man who knows when to quit has a good start. Nobody looks for perfection, yet everybody expects it. Every time you really boost yourself you knock your enemies. The man who was licked doesn't see what the row was about anyway. When you talk to yourself you give very little information. A small amount of common sense has to work scandalously hard for some people. Being firm is your own specialty. Obstinance is what ails your wife. A modest man asks only as much credit for his good deeds as he gets condemnation for his evil ones. For an Outlet. A dapper young tenderfoot was getting all the points he could from a grizzled old timer concerning the country in which he was about to make his home. The tenderfoot knew more about how the country should be run than the old timer did, but that didn't disconcert the latter. They got around to the subject of wells. "How deep do you have to go here for water?" "About ninety feet." "That is pretty deep. And do you always find it?" "Not always." "And what do you do if after digging down that far you don't strike water?" "We cuss."

The True Reason. "See here?" "Well?" "I am going to sue you for damages." "What for?" "Because you are rich." Caught at it. "The die is cast," the person said. "But your pill was more than bitter—Down came the cops and caught him fast. For he was but a counterfeiter. Her Revenge. "Mrs. Brown has got a divorce." "You surprise me!" "It is a fact." "Why did she do it when she knew that he was just crazy to marry a woman she hates?" "That's why." Quite a Force in Itself. "I had seven ancestors who fought in the Revolutionary war." "Indeed." "Yes, sir, seven of them." "Did they have any help?" Served the Purpose. "Did you notice his table manners?" "Who could help it?" "Weren't they something awful?" "Yes, but he won't starve to death with them." Paradoxically. "She gave him a cool reception." "How did it affect him?" "He was hot about it." Fixing It For Him. "I always lose my bet." "Then why don't you always bet the other way?" Saucy. Hear the motorcycle chug As it splutters down the street. Always large, ferocious bug. That a man or two might eat—Such a noisy chatterbox! You can hear it on the way For a half a dozen blocks As it splutters out its say. If a thing inanimate Ever could be charged with spite, Filled with envy, malice, hate And in manners take delight It's the motorcycle then. That would this description fit As defiance to all men It continues to emit. Seems to challenge any one To a foot race or a fight, Barks at every mother's son. They're in luck it doesn't bite. Full of bluster, noise and brag. Telling all to clear the way. If they'd rather chew the rag It's as heavy on that lay. One who wants to slip a wink As it clatters down the pave Always has another think. He can stay awake and rave. Never does it make a hit As it clatters up the air. If you are not riding it It will drive you to despair.

Guard the Family Health

Health is often endangered by unsanitary cooking utensils. Physicians have found that cancer is caused by enamel ware chipping off and irritating the stomach.

If you have children or invalids in the family beware of cheap cooking utensils that crack, scale, peel off, tarnish and rust. Disease germs lurk in the worn places and there is further danger of tainting the food. Health is too precious to take risks with it. Be safe. Use

"1892"
Pure Spun Aluminum
Cooking Utensils

which are guaranteed for 15 years constant service and will never spoil food nor endanger health. This new ware is featherweight, beautiful, easy to clean—does not tarnish nor rust. The slight extra cost is more than made up by long service and absolute safety.
