

The Fountain Head of Life Is The Stomach

A man who has a weak and impaired stomach and who does not properly digest his food will soon find that his blood has become weak and impoverished, and that his whole body is improperly and insufficiently nourished.

DR. PIERCE'S GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY makes the stomach strong, promotes the flow of digestive juices, restores the lost appetite, makes assimilation perfect, invigorates the liver and purifies and enriches the blood. It is the great blood-maker, flesh-builder and restorative nerve tonic. It makes men strong in body, active in mind and cool in judgement.

This "Discovery" is a pure, glyceric extract of American medical roots, absolutely free from alcohol and all injurious, habit-forming drugs. All its ingredients are printed on its wrappers. It has no relationship with secret nostrums. Its every ingredient is endorsed by the leaders in all the schools of medicine. Don't accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this time-proven remedy of known composition. Ask your neighbors. They must know of many cures made by it during past 40 years, right in your own neighborhood. World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R.V. Pierce, Pres., Buffalo, N. Y.

EX-COUNCILORS MEETING

Members of the American Mechanics Gather in This Place

The Ex-Councilors Association of the American Mechanics of Lancaster county held their monthly meeting in the chamber of Aurelia Council, No. 162, of this place, Wednesday night. Among those present were members from Conestoga and Thaddeus Stevens Councils of Lancaster, Waterford, of Marietta and Aurelia. Fifteen new members were admitted and there was considerable discussion upon subjects pertaining to the association. H. M. Harnish, of Stevens Council, exhibited to the members prizes that had been awarded to him by the National and State Councils. They were given to him in recognition of his services in securing new members of the order. The prizes were a gold watch fob, and two gold emblems of the order. After the meeting the members were entertained at a banquet at the Washington House given by Aurelia Council. The next meeting will be held at Quarryville or Manheim. Aurelia Council No. 162 O. U. A. M., has a membership of 56, all in good standing, 54 of whom are Past Councilors. The lodge has a fund of almost $10,000 and is one of the wealthiest in the state.

WELL KNOWN MINISTER

Restored to Health by Vinol Rev. D. Schneider, who is a well known minister in Rice Lake, Wis. writes: "I had a very severe stomach trouble last year from which I was kept in bed three months. I had engaged the services of a doctor, but to no avail. I then read of Vinol and determined to try a bottle. Before it was used up I was out of bed, and four bottles made me a well man. Vinol is a splendid medicine, and I can gladly recommend it." Prominent men from all over the country do not hesitate to endorse this wonderful tonic. For twelve years Vinol has been sold on the "money back" plan, and every year strengthens its popularity and proves by continued tests that it will do what we claim for it.

Electric Bitters

RAGTIME AT HIS FUNERAL

Louisville Barber Provides Funds to Make it Occasion of Jollity and Feasting.

Backing his belief on the argument, "The only weeping that should be done over a man should be 'weep' at his birth," Frederick G. Burghardt, barber, living at 211 South Shelby street, has made his will, wherein he provides funds for the hiring of a brass band to play only ragtime tunes at his funeral, another sum of money for the serving of a lunch and accompanying drinks, and an additional sum for his undertaker, who is to place him face down in the casket that "he may rest comfortably." His body he wants covered with hyacinths and rosebuds. Burghardt does not look upon the provisions of his will as being humorous. On the contrary he declares he is so serious that he has frustrated the secretary of the Barbers' Aid to set aside the benefits accruing to him from that organization for the purposes outlined. Asked for the reason for his unusual desires, he said: "I don't see anything unusual about them. A will, as I understand it, generally is the last wish of a man, and if I cannot do as I wish, what is the use of making a will?" "For a number of years before becoming a barber," he continued, "I was employed by undertakers. I saw so many dead persons that I became hardened. I wondered why people cried at funerals, for I always have insisted that as we don't know whether the dead person is happy or otherwise, his friends should not cry over him. I have witnessed the passing of fourteen members of my family and while my feelings were sorrowful, not a tear have I shed. In fact, I cannot recall the time when I did cry. I have no one in the world to whom I should leave my little insurance money and I think I ought to be allowed to do as I please."

BUTCHER'S SON WAS A KING

But Orellus Antony I. Did Not Rule Long Over Araucania in South America.

The death of "Princess" Marguerita, daughter of "King Orellus Antony I." in a poorhouse on the Danish island of Reygades brings to light a romance known to few, and half forgotten even by these. "King Orellus Antony I." was the son of a French butcher who lived at Perigord, the city of pies. His name was Antoine Toumens. He studied law, but having a taste for adventure, set out for South America. That was in 1861. His wanderings took him to Araucania, where he persuaded the inhabitants to set up an independent monarchy and make him king. This did not suite Chile, which sent a force of troops to Araucania. King Orellus Antony I. was put in prison and remained there until the French government obtained his release. His efforts to be reinstated on the vacant Araucanian throne were futile and the former king returned to France and obtained employment as a waiter in Asnières. He died there in 1878. While her father reigned in faroff Araucania the Princess Marguerita, an only child, was supported by revenues from the Araucanian treasury. It was a generous supply of money that was sent to her and she had many suitors. Eventually she married a Danish officer, who had saved her life in a shipwreck. Just before King Orellus Antony I. was deposed the consort of the princess committed suicide. The princess went to live in Denmark, and her supplies having ceased, she was obliged to seek refuge in the almshouse, where she died.—New York Sun.

Plea for Proper Education.

Sir John Gorst is trying to rouse the British mind to a sense of the futility—even to the viciousness—of an educational system which bears small relationship to the practical needs of the time. His indictment is not lacking in directness. "A starved and stunted race," he says, "is being allowed to grow up as a legacy for the next generation to deal with, for in most elementary schools children are only drilled, not educated." Again, "The higher and university schools are still fettered by mediaeval systems which makes the acquisition of learning to be produced at examinations the main work of the students." It would seem that our American system is not the only one which needs overhauling.
