DOUBLY PROVEN

Mount Joy Readers Can No Longer Doubt The Evidence

This Mt. Joy citizen testified long ago.

Told of a quick relief of lasting benefit.

The facts are now confirmed.

Such testimony is complete—the evidence conclusive.

It forms convincing proof of merit.

Mrs. L. P. Heilig, Main St., Mt. Joy, Pa., says: "I had been troubled by kidney complaint for some time and nothing had helped me. My back was often so weak that I could not get about and I had severe headaches and dizzy spells. Spots flashed before my eyes and I felt all run down. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills advertised, I procured a box at Garber's Drug Store and began their use. I consider this remedy worthy of my endorsement." (Statement given October 26, 1907.)

Confirmed Proof

On January 29, 1911, Mrs. Heilig added to the above:

"I can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills just as highly now as I did over two years ago when they gave me such great relief. I take pleasure in confirming my former statement."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Banquet at Garber's

The members of the local Y. M. C. A. held a banquet at E. W. Garber's cafe on Thursday evening, March 28.

The courses consisted of Chicken corn soup, Fried Oysters, Ice Cream, Cake and Salted Peanuts. After the courses had been served, the members listened to some interesting talks by Mr. Harry Nissley, Prof. I. R. Kraybill, Dr. E. W. Garber, Mr. John Murphy and Mr. B. F. Garber.

The main features of the banquet were "George" and the "Victrola."

Messrs. Harry Nissley, I. R. Kraybill, James Schatz, Nissley Gingrich, Howard Arntz, Alvin Shonk, Edward Miller, Elmer Brown, Raymond Nissley, Harold Brown, John Murphy, Charles Bennett, Harry Greiner, Clyde Eshleman, Lee Ellis, Willis Greenawalt, Bernard Eber-sole, William Ellis and William Roberts.

BABIES ALWAYS IN STYLE

Each One Is Perfect to Its Parents and Perfect Nuisance to Other Persons.

A baby is a small person about which there is great diversity of opinion. This is because every baby is considered perfect by the parents and a perfect nuisance by everybody else.

There is really nothing new about the baby. Its institution dates back to the beginning of the world, and at that time it was a garden production. The garden idea, however, is now obsolete, and for many years the baby has been grown in the house, with early transplantings to the sunlight.

Every baby has a good voice, a distinct resemblance to some rich relative, and an afternoon nap. The voice is heard by everyone, but the resemblance is heard chiefly by the rich relative. The afternoon nap is heard of everywhere as being necessary to the baby, but sometimes the nap is more honored in the breach than in the observance. After the nap the baby is unable to understand why it should be expected to sleep again at night, and everyone else is unable to understand why it should want to stay awake. The baby's decision, however, always carries the day—or, rather, the night.

There are millions of babies, but only two kinds—boys and girls. The boy baby is always the maternal and paternal selection for the presidential chair, and the girl baby is expected to some day become the wife of a gentle and loving millionaire who will do his best to appreciate her.

Later on the presidential nominee develops a strong desire to become a motorman, and the future millionaire's wife is seen to blush at the mentioning of the plumber's son. The fond parents sigh gently. In point of looks, likewise, babies generally bear strong resemblance to the well-financed and unnumbered relatives.

Fashions may come and fashions may go—but babies will always be in style.—William Sanford, in Puck.

SHE MAY NOT WEAR JEWELRY

Princess Mary Is Fond of It but Must Eschew It Until She Is Seventeen.

Though Princess Mary is very fond of jewelry she is not allowed to wear any ornament except a string of perfectly matched pearls on state occasions and a little gold chain and locket which contains a piece of white heather in the home circle. The pearls were her mother's gift to her at the time of the coronation, and the locket was presented to her by the Prince of Wales, who thought it when he was at Cowes for the regatta.

Queen Mary has let it be understood that no one is to give Princess Mary jewelry of any sort till she is 17, and before the royal party left for the Durbar the queen repeated her wishes on the score.

The princess has confessed to some of the ladies of the court that she does not mind not having rings and pins and chains, but that she yearns for long gold earrings set with rubies and diamonds and that when she is 17 she hopes a set will be given her, and if not she will buy them herself.

Persian Weddings.

Tying the matrimonial knot is a very prolonged and serious affair in Persia. In fact, a wedding may extend for a week. On the last day of the wedding the bride, who has been treated as a sort of outcast, is conducted by a near relative to a room, where she undergoes further and more elaborate decoration.

She then returns to the guest-room, and her dowry is laid before her in trays. The dowry often comprises such queer things as cheap and high-top shoes, oleographs, gaudy vases, birdcages and many useful household articles. Having kissed the hearthstone of her home, she is then given bread, salt, and a piece of gold, and thus equipped and closely veiled she is hoisted on to a gaily-adorned donkey and, accompanied by a circus-like procession of friends, goes to her future home, where her husband awaits her.

Helping the "Lumberjacks."

Tuesday marked the beginning of a new order of things in the daily life of the Maine woodsman in the great northern lumber regions. At 2 o'clock on the afternoon of that day the new lumbermen's Christian association building at Greenville opened wide its doors to the 12,000 men annually entering and leaving the northern forests. On the third floor of this building is a hospital, with expert attendants in constant charge, and through their ministrations many an injured lumberman will be saved from death through careless or inexperienced handling. That is the principal mission of the organization, and besides the hospital work in the building itself men will be sent out among the lumber camps to teach the great advantages of skilful first aid.—Lewiston Journal.

The Call of Duty.

"I try to do my duty," said the exceedingly sincere person, "and I do not hesitate to remind others of their duty."

"Go ahead," replied the easy-going citizen. "You may prove to be a very useful member of society. But when you get through you'll have about as many sincere friends as an alarm clock."

Puts End to Bad Habit.

Things never look bright to one with the blues. Ten to one the trouble is a sluggish liver, filling the system with bilious poison, that Dr. King's New Life Pills would expel. Try them. Let the joy of better feelings end the blues. Best for stomach, liver and kidneys. 25c at S. B. Bernhart & Cos.
