There is a rumor afloat that Florin very near future. How about it, John?

Mr. and Mrs. N. S. Gantz were pleasantly entertained at the home

The Talbot Stores

No longer can it be said "there's nothing new under the sun." There is. It's the Talbot stores, a chain of establishments comprising each "newer and better kind of popular priced store" with the first store in Lancaster, one in York shortly to open, and others under way in Hanover, Reading and Easton.

The management of these stores has provided many units of popular not usually found in establishments selling 5c, 10c, 25c, 50c and $1.00 goods—indeed, not often found in the largest Department stores.

The Talbot store in Lancaster is located at 154-158 North Queen street, which is but a short distance from the intersection of Queen and King streets to which all the trolleys converge. The first thing, therefore, that will claim attention is the free checking room where all, whether patrons or not, may have packages or bundles checked and cared for until wanted without charge.

Another feature which both Lancaster City and Lancaster County folk will appreciate is comprised in the Free Retiring Rooms and Rest Rooms for Women, comfortable and cheerfully fitted up and open to all; like "Providence" where a woman ground with a real sand pile playground and toys, and so on, and facilities for cleaning up the youngsters before they leave.

There will be in the Lancaster Store a fine Mozambique Gallery for free Musical Concerts; a Venetian Garden where ices and sodas may be obtained; a fine new soda fountain—one of the handomest in the state; Elevator; lounging rooms; Basement Bargain Store; a Colonial Shop (a Novel Store Within a Store) and many other unusual features and facilities.

The merchandise will be of the Popular-Priced type for home and personal use, but not only from the representative of almost every country in the world.

The Talbot Stores will be the local Premium Headquarters for B.
T. Babbitt, Inc. who will display their premiums in "Ye Colonial Shop" which will enable patrons (who save Babbitt Trademarks—and thousands exchange for as little as 10 trademarks, making selection at will, not only from the Babbitt premium tables, but from anything in the store.

In the Lancaster Talbot store there is a large side entrance to the Hippodrome Moving Pictures Theatre. Babbitt Trademarks will even be good for admission here.

That the Talbot Stores will be a success seems to be the unanimous opinion of those who have examined late their plans of the new service.
They will certainly be stores with a purpose—to win and to hold public confidence.
