

MARIETTA

Mrs. B. F. Hogentogler, of Philadelphia, was in town several days.

Raymond Zing, of Coatesville, was the guest of relatives and friends for several days.

William Kline of Philadelphia, is the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Kline, Gay street.

Mrs. Abraham Stehman, of Baltimore, was the guest of relatives and friends several days. The family will soon come here for their summer vacation.

Thomas Loucks, the painter and paper hanger, is nursing a very sore hand, having almost severed the first joint of his first finger on the right hand while using a sickle. Dr. Zoell's attended him.

Earl Zink, son of Saddler and Mrs. Joseph Zink, employed at the Marietta Holloware and Enameling company's works sprained the ligaments in his left arm while assisting to lift a tank. He will be off duty sometime. Dr. Zoell is the attending physician.

A valuable horse was badly injured, belonging to Turner and Taggart, while standing in front of the home of the firm, on Market street. The animal in some manner had his face caught in a chain at the hitching post, and tore badly. Drs. Parsons and Sornman were summoned and dressed the injury.

Mother's Day was fittingly observed in some of the churches in this section on Sunday. There was special singing and the decorations consisted mostly of white. Many persons wore white carnations, and as a result they were high in price and scarce. In the Methodist Episcopal church in the evening, Rev. Lindsay, pastor delivered a very entertaining sermon.

The Marietta high school baseball team has the following line-up and they would like to hear from teams in the county. Address all communications to Charles M. Kraus, Marietta. The players are: Brenner, catcher; Kraus, pitcher and third base; O'Brien, short stop; Hipple, second base; Graves, first base; Killian, third base and pitcher; Post, left field; Thompson, center field; and Wikel, right field.

William Hill, one of the oldest Civil War veterans in this section, is visiting at Reading, Harrisburg, Philadelphia, Buffalo and other places. He has resided here nearly fifty-seven years and despite the fact that he will soon be seventy-seven years of age, this is his "first trip around the world" as he terms it.
