EDITORIALS

According to the diagnosis at Chicago, the Republican party in Florida is a pretty sick man.

By resigning, Senator Lorimer might have saved his senatorial friends from political extinction.

Nobody has ever yet discovered just how much ice cream a young girl at a strawberry festival can eat.

Representative Hamilton of W. 7, is fifteen times a father. He may meditate the forming of a dynasty.

Perspiration is vexation; a palm leaf fan's as bad; the fly and flea both bother me; mosquitoes make me mad.

If Billy Lorimer had only been a general in the Army, what a general he would have been to lead a florn hope.

J. Pierpont Morgan is having built one of the largest gates ever constructed. Going to fence in his net perhaps.

The proposal to celebrate the birth of July with electrical displays instead of fireworks is worthy consideration.

The confirmed pessimist rise to mark that the reason we mortals distrust each other is that we are so much alike.

The old question of, What shall we do with our ex-presidents? is being way to What will our ex-presidents do with us?

Something nearly always happens to break the strain. Ex-Governor Packer of Pa. has made his clearance in public life again.

That fire on the Carmania will serve to emphasize Richmond Pearson Hobson's remark respecting the inflammability of passenger steamships.

It may be that the 95,000,000 lbs of coffee stored up in New York is held as a reserve in case the third cup of coffee comes into general usage.

There is chance that Col. Roosevelt will get so far from his party that he will be tempted to run over and try to take charge of the Baltimore Convention.

KINDERHOOK

Mrs. Christian Rodkey who was cured by falling from a cherry tree Friday is gradually improving. The annual district convention of Day Schools, of West Hempfield township, was held at the Kinderhook church last Saturday with session afternoon at 2 o'clock and ending at 7 o'clock. A strong program was arranged and there was large attendance.

The close of the prayer service Wednesday evening a surprise was given the class leader, Chas. and his wife in honor of their tenth wedding anniversary. Their was silver ware from the members of the class. The affair was arranged by Mrs. Christian Rodkey, on account of an accident the service was completed by Mrs. How-Elisenberger and Mrs. Elmer. The presentation speech made by the pastor, Rev. W. A. maker, and responses by the members.

Meeting at Elizabethtown Sunday School meeting will be at the Brethren in Christ at Elizabethtown, on Saturday evening, July 6, at 7:30 o'clock. Following speakers will discuss lessons for July: July 7, Malig-Elisabeth, A. R. Gish, Elizabethtown; July 14, The Seed in Four of Soil, Ezra H. Zercher, Mt. Joy; July 21, The Growth of the Seed, Abraham H. Martin, East Mt. Joy; July 28, The Wheat and the Tares, Levi F. Sheetz, Florin.

Anyone interested in Sunday work should not fail to attend this meeting. The speakers are experienced Sunday School workers and are able to discuss these in a very interesting and instructive manner.

Chas. H. E. Ebersole has purchased a fine 32-horsepower Hudson car.

POULTRY

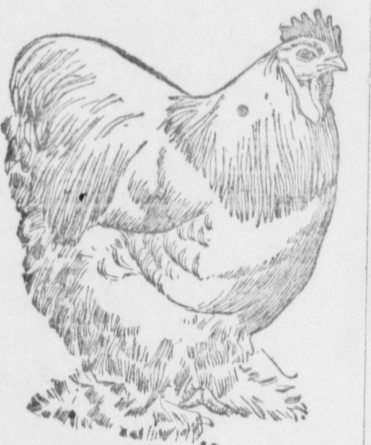

TO KEEP LICE FROM POULTRY
One of Most Difficult Problems That Confronts Chicken Fancier—Proper Procedure.

(By R. G. WEATHERSTONE)
One of the most difficult problems which the poultry keeper has to meet is that of keeping his poultry houses and stock reasonably free from lice, mites and other external parasites.

In keeping a poultry plant free from lice there are two points of attack: One, the birds themselves; the other, the houses, nest boxes, roosting boards, etc.

In using any kind of lice powder on the birds themselves, it should always be remembered that a single application of powder is not sufficient. When there are lice present on a bird there are always unhatched eggs of lice ("nits") present, too. The proper procedure is to follow up a first application of powder with a second at an interval of four days to a week.

If the birds are badly infested at the beginning it may be necessary to make still a third application. To clean the cracks and crevices of the woodwork of houses and nests of lice and vermin a liquid spray or paint is probably the most desirable form of application.

A splendid lice powder may be made at a cost of only a few cents a pound in the following way: Take three parts of gasoline and one part of crude carbolic acid; mix these together and add gradually with stirring, enough plaster of Paris to take up all the moisture. The liquid and the dry plaster should be thoroughly mixed and stirred so that the liquid will be uniformly distributed through the mass of plaster. When enough plaster has been added the resulting mixture should be a dry, pinkish brown powder having a fairly strong carbolic odor and a rather less pronounced gasoline odor.

Do not use more plaster in mixing than is necessary to blot up the liquid. This powder is to be worked into the feathers of the birds affected with vermin. The bulk of the application should be in the fluff around the vent and on the ventral side of the body and in the fluff under the wings. Its efficiency, which is greater than that of any other lice powder known to the writer, can be very easily demonstrated by anyone to his own satisfaction. Take a bird that is covered with lice and apply the powder in the manner just described. After a lapse of about a minute, shake the bird, loosening its feathers with the fingers at the same time, over a clean piece of paper. Dead and dying lice will drop on the paper in great numbers. Anyone who will try this experiment will have no further doubt of the wonderful efficiency and value of this powder.

For a spray or paint to be applied to roosting boards, nest boxes or walls and floor of the hen houses the following preparation is used:—3 parts of kerosene and 1 part crude carbolic acid. This is stirred up when used and may be applied with any of the hand spray pumps or with a brush.

In both of these formulae it is highly important that crude carbolic acid be used instead of the purified product. Be sure and insist to the druggist on getting crude carbolic acid. It is a dark brown, dirty looking liquid, and its value depends on the fact that it contains tar oil and tar bases in addition to the pure phenol (carbolic acid).

Guinea in Winter.
The guinea fowl is a native of warm countries and has a natural fear of snow, so in the north when guineas are caught out in a snowstorm there is a good chance for trouble if we undertake to force them to walk through snow to the poultry house.

The guinea will take to flight rather than wade in snow and rather than light on the ground when covered with snow they will light in trees, or if there are no trees they will light on the tops of buildings.

It saves trouble to house the guinea as soon as it is apparent that snow will cover the ground and keep them housed until the storm is past.

Dressing a Duckling.
The manager of one of the largest duck farms claims that an expert can scald and dress a duckling in ten minutes.

NORTHWEST HAPHO
Harry Springer and family spent Sunday at Henry Ulrich's.
C. G. Hollinger bought a valuable horse at Ephrata last Wednesday. Nathaniel Hollinger's were Sunday guests in the family of David Hilty, near Elizabethtown.
Aaron Gibble and wife and Arthur Kauffman and wife, of Milton Grove were guests in the family of John W. Geib.
Sunday school at Chiques on Sunday morning was well attended, considering the weather. The school was favored by addresses from Revs. A. P. Geib, of Brooklyn, and S. S. Eshelman.
Issac P. Eshelman lost by death a fine valuable black horse last Thursday morning. The deceased was the finest animal of his kind to be seen in this neighborhood.
Rev. Amos P. Geib of the Brooklyn Mission, who returned home by way of the annual meeting to spend a short vacation visiting relatives and friends, expects to leave on June 24 for the Mission where he is engaged in mission work "where-soever his aid is required."
Abram B. Brandt had an experience on Sunday evening not so soon to be forgotten. While on the way to Elizabethtown his horse was suddenly frightened and began kicking and resulted in a torn line, smashed dasher, broken shaft and badly punctured wheel. Mr. B. was lucky enough not to be hurt.
Farewell, ye old creamery, Reist, Nisley & Co., of Mt. Joy, sole owners of the contents of "Stern's" creamery, which has been idle since last November, have removed the contents to Mt. Joy. Thirty years ago this creamery was the strongest known within a radius of about six miles.

Launched a New Church
The Daily Telegraph of Berlin, Ontario, under date of June 17, contains a lengthy article relative to the launching of the first English Lutheran Church in that city. At the first service 44 persons constituted the congregation and 83 in the evening. The first two sermons were ably preached by Rev. M. J. Bieher, who is doing field work in that section and who was instrumental in assembling the organization. A Sunday School will be started on Sunday. Rev. Bieher was a former Lutheran pastor here.
Fined $70 Each
For catching five bass out of season and using a net with a 1 1/2 inch mesh, which is not allowed, Walter Baxter and William Trazor of Lancaster, were fined $70 apiece. They didn't have the seventy and are now in jail doing 70 days.

LEBANON VALLEY FARMS FOR SALE & EXCHANGE
Any Size, Location or Description
Lancaster County people who bought farms through me last Fall were offered profits of $1,000 to $1,500 before they had their deeds. The easiest sales are made to the best judges of land, and those who have a good general knowledge of values.
One of my recent sales was a 140-acre farm at a price of $9000 to a Chicago man, a graduate of an Illinois Agricultural School, who has traveled extensively all over the world.
If you want to buy a farm for farming, speculation, or investment, write to me.
I can give you the best references both in Lebanon and Lancaster counties and can easily show you that you can deal safely and profitably.
Many of the farms will increase 50 per cent. in the next few years. The best bargains will go to early buyers.
Write at once for list and make an appointment to see the farms while the crops are growing.
