JULY FOURTH

Observe the National Holiday Tomorrow—Thursday

The fourth day of July has had a significant place in the history of all ages and nations—more so probably than any other date in the calendar. But the crowning achievement of this day was reserved for this hemisphere when on July 4, 1776, the trumpet blast proclaiming liberty and equality to all men was sent re-echoing throughout the land.

On July 4, 1097, in the battle of Dorylaeum, in Phrygia, the Moslems under Soltman were defeated by the crusaders. This battle ended the fighting in Asia Minor.

It was on July 4, 1215, that King John of England was compelled by his barons to sign the Magna Charta, the English prototype of our own Declaration of Independence.

The American continent, just north of Florida, in the year 1584 was discovered on July 4 by Amidas and Barlow, English explorers and navigators, who sailed along the Atlantic coast under orders from Sir Walter Raleigh. Formal possession was taken for the British queen, and the land was delivered over to the use of Sir Walter Raleigh. Sixty-nine years thereafter, on July 4, the Barebone's parliament assembled at Whitehall, and Cromwell delegated their chairs to them for fifteen years.

At the instance of the lords the trade commissioners from the colonies of New Hampshire Massachusetts Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, Pennsylvania and Maryland met at Albany on June 19, 1754, to arrange a treaty with the Six Nations. They also proceeded to consider a plan of colonial union proposed by Franklin and adopted in the same year on July 4.

Here is a list of the epoch making events that have taken place on the Fourth of July since the signing of the Declaration of Independence: 1778—Clark took Kaskaskia. 1778—The Wyoming Massacre. 1780—British evacuated Williamsburg.

1778—Great celebration in Philadelphia apropos of the ratification of the constitution.

1802—J. Q. Adams delivered his first address to the United States Senate.

1804—Pioneer weekly mail stage made its trip from Philadelphia to Pittsburg.

1807—Garibaldi, the Italian patriot, was born.

1817—Work began on Erie canal.

1826—Death of John Adams.

1826—Death of Thomas Jefferson.

1828—First spike driven for the Baltimore and Ohio railroad.

1831—Death of James Monroe.
