INTEREST BOYS IN POULTRY

No Part of Farming That is More Fascinating to Average Youth Than Care of Chickens.
(By KATHERINE A. GRIMES.)
There is no part of farming more fascinating to the average boy than the care of poultry.

Silver Wyandotte Hen.

any ambitious boy with very little expenditure outside of his own work. Then a small outlay for eggs or a trifle larger one for stock, and he is ready for business.

The most important consideration in the breed to be kept. It all depends upon the market which will pay the best. The layers are seldom as good for raising, frying and broiling as some of the larger breeds, as they usually weigh less at the same age, though maturing even more quickly in the matter of egg-producing.

PACK CHICKENS FOR MARKET

Fowls Should Not Carry Too Much Fat, but Just Enough to Make Flesh Tender When Cooked.
An over-fat fowl is almost as objectionable as a lean one. To fatten chickens properly they should be so fed as to have just enough fat to make them fleshy and to cook well.

Chicken Weighted by Shaping Board.

It does not make much difference how chickens are fed, so long as the fat is laid on in proper quantities and with right distribution.

The bird should be killed by a knife blade piercing the brain, as this promotes free bleeding. It should be hung up by the feet, head down, and plucked before it becomes cold.

After being plucked, the bird should be placed on a shaping board, the weight on top, to give it a compact appearance. Never allow chickens to remain hanging by the legs after being plucked, as it gives them a thin and leggy appearance.

DOULTRY NOTES

Success with poultry is a matter of details. A clean hen house is necessary both summer and winter.

Fertile eggs cannot be shipped safely unless they have strong shells. Slacked lime is a good disinfectant to scatter around the poultry yards.

For quick fattening try a mash of corn meal and skim milk. Feed it warm three times a day.

Success in commercial poultry farming depends upon success in the hatching and rearing of the chicks.

No one need hesitate to buy incubators or brooders because they have not before used them or saw them used.

The person who raises good stock need have no fear about prices. First class fowls always bring good prices, no matter how great the surplus of ordinary stock is.

TREASURE TROVE IN OLD GUN

Find of Turquoises in Arab Firearm Raised Interesting Question as to Their Ownership.

In the narrow and rusty depths of an old Arab gun which had stood for years in the shop of M. Zucconi, an art dealer of 16 Rue Victor Masse, Paris, France, huddled 241 brilliant turquoises, which came to light in a curious manner.

An amateur came into the shop searching for some sort of a decoration for his room. After looking over weapons of all styles, conditions and uses, he eyed the Arab gun, which was standing in a corner, its long unused barrel plugged with a cork.

After a time the search for the turquoises was finished, but not so the argument, which was rising in temperature every moment. Finally both men agreed to turn the jewels over to the police and let the commissary decide to whom they belonged.

Possibly in some desert camp some Arab chieftain got by his long fire and wonders, cursing the while, the white man who years ago robbed him of his fortune and the weapon with which he won his place at the head of his tribe.

What's in a Name?
Mayor Brand Whitlock, of Toledo, was talking about a certain trust magnate. "He's got a bad name," said the mayor-novelist. "Hence he can't get a square deal. He's got as bad a name for a lawsuit as Dodgin had for a manager."

His Notion of Home.
A New York surveyor had an assignment that took him into the depth of the wilderness ten miles from camp. The camp was a hundred miles from the nearest railroad station.

Why a Tailor's Thimble.
If you have ever noticed a tailor's thimble you must have observed that it is not like the one your mother or your sisters use, because it has no top.

Not Like Canute.
At the Acorn Club in Philadelphia a young lady was praising the wit of the late Bishop Mackay Smith.

Her Claims to Fame.
Rising Author—Ah, Miss Porkingham, you little know the glory, the self-satisfaction, the pride one feels in having one's name brought before the public mind!

The Choice of a Husband

How's This?
We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure.

Bad Air and Incubation.
The atmosphere of a cellar where vegetable are kept is not fit for an incubator. The air, according to Popular Mechanics, is charged with carbonic gas, which is fatal to young chicks.

Feed for Growing Ducklings.
Growing ducklings thrive best on a feed composed of equal parts, by measure, of corn meal, ground peas, bran and middlings, all made into thick mash, either with scalding hot water or milk, the latter being the better. The mash is improved by adding short-cut green grass, clover or some other green stuff, and a few handfuls of coarse sand.

CONSTRUCTION OF HEN HOUSE

Few Practical Suggestions That Will Be of Much Assistance to the Poultry Keeper.
(By J. G. HALPIN and C. A. COCKE, Wisconsin.)

For success in poultry keeping it is necessary to have a suitable house which will protect the fowls from inclement weather and from their natural enemies.

It must be remembered that from the standpoint of the hen, appearance makes very little difference, but the house must be so built and so arranged that it will be a comfortable place for the hens to live; otherwise they will not thrive and production will not be satisfactory.

Poultry houses should be located where it is dry and well drained. If the ground is not naturally dry, it should be ditched and drained artificially, for poultry will not thrive in a house when the floor is constantly wet.

Proper Way to Moke Partition.
poultry house all the way through, and the result is that the fowls are affected with many troublesome diseases.

Houses should be placed so that they will not be subject to violent winds, yet good air and drainage are essential. A house should never be placed in a low, damp spot where early fall frosts are likely to occur.

Generally speaking, it is far cheaper to build a wide house than a narrow one. A house 20x20 is cheaper than a house 10x40 and contains as much floor space for the hens. A house 20 feet wide, however, will be found impracticable for some types of roofs and will not be found satisfactory where one wishes to keep a number of small breeding pens.

Just which style of roof should be chosen is largely a matter of personal preference, but the type of roof will be found to influence the cost of construction to quite an extent.

Wherever there is only one poultry house a partition is always advisable as it permits one to keep the hens separate.
