RASES ON HEEL AND TOE

Words Seem to Have Lent Themsolves to Innumerable Coined Expressions.

The fact that heels and toes are the nly words which signify both parts of the body and parts of its clothing is doubtless responsible for the innumerable phrases in which both words play an important part. In these unquestionably the heel is the more frequent factor-generally in its corporal as distinguished from its sartorial significance. It is amusing, for instance, to recall the time when the "mashers" of the period wore red heels to their shoes, thereby, it will be remembered. subjecting themselves to the flagellation from the pen of the spectator. Not that red heels were a novelty in Addison's time, for they were in evidence in the reign of Elizabeth. In France the height and color of the heel were a fashion set by the grand Liver Salts cilor, Geo. S. Derr; recording secretary, Charles Welchans; assistant recording secretary, Clayton McCurdy dence in the reign of Elizabeth. In

Breakers May Cost Townships Dearly

The old-fashioned water breaker which our ancestors thought a road was not complete without but which modern road consruction has proven entirely useless is doomed. Not only has it been found useless in modern road practice but along comes a decision of the Pennsylvania Supreme Court which will result in breakers costing a township or turnpike company dearly. The Court decided that townships, municipalities, and counties are responsible for damages to vehicles from such obstruction to regular transportation, and travel as are presented by water breakers, cross gutters and poorly constructede culverts. A township was sued because of injuries sustained by a road user. The defnese was the breakers had been in the road at the same point for several years and they were necessary to carry off surface water. The Court held that neither of these defenses was good as time did not sanction unlawfully obstructed highways and water breakers were not considered necessary for modern
