The Week in Gram ompiled for the Mount Joy Bulle our stock when the price was right.

Now we give you the benefit. We can supply you with all kinds of Manager, Woolworth Building, Lan-Paster. Penna Phila, Pa., August 5, 1912

News developments of the week have offered little to distinguish from that proceeeding. A good inquiry for export and a shade of unesiness over possible spread of rust tain values earlier in the week, altho neither prompted buying sufficient to sustain advances, and a narrow trading area prevailed. Toward the close of the week, a predicted yield of 700 million for the combined winter and spring wheat crop, by a leading expert who was estimating 90 million lessthan that a month ago brought strikingly to mind the unfavoroble conditions that prevailed during July, and prompted a selling movement of more consequence. Prices stablished new low levels for the more deferred deliveries, with the net loss rather narrower than might have been anticipated. The technical condition created by the decline may be more important than the price changed, however for the loss in premium for the late deliveries should stimulate the in-flow of cash wheat and give the big movement of new wheat that has been anticipated from day to day, but has not yet materialized. The of wheat should be a surer test of prevailing levels, and establish a better basis on which to forcast probable price movements. oes not necessarily mean lower prices, however, for such influences are discounted more often than not. The corn market has shown de-pest opinions suggest a yield materially above that of a year ago. SPORTING HILL
