Largest Flying Fish. The largest flying fish on record was served up for breakfast on the British warship Ardeola a short time ago. The Ardeola was homeward bound and was off the Canary Islands when a large school of flying fish was observed. They were apparently in full flight from some deep sea enemy and traveling rapidly. As the ship met and passed them several flew on board and were seized by the crew as welcome additions to the mess. One of the fish measured 19 inches, the largest flying fish ever seen before the Ardeola's catch have never exceeded 10 inches. The big one was fried for the captain's breakfast. Flying fish are very palatable and taste like trout.

The Mt. Joy Township Dwarfs

Indirectly, dwarflings are exclusive dwellers of northern tropical regions and subsist on oviparus animals as a staff of life, but two miles east of Milton Grove, reside a trio of the most diminutive fishermen in the State. George Fry and his two tiny sons Michael and William. With a medial weight of 75 pounds and a uniformed height of four feet six inches, they are truly remarkable on account of their quantity notwithstanding, of the long standing sobriquet of "the dwarfs," these little men in their physical labors, accomplish more manual work than their more developed rivals. The father is stooped from age and is concave at the waist line, where his sons are convex and straight as a church spire. For the past thirty years they enjoyed the comforts of their rural abode in an Eveless Eden and feminine intrusion is not permissible in their house. Their culinary skill and cuisine is palatable; their washing and mending par-excellent; house cleaning of high merit, and perhaps there are few families in the country who enjoy life more thoroughly than the trio of little fishermen in their rustic home perched on a pyramidal spur of Cherry Hill.

LANCASTER COUNTY FAIR

Noteworthy Improvements in Arrangements for Handling Crows.

A most noteworthy improvement in the arrangements for handling the large crowds at the Lancaster County Fair is the cash-at-the-gate system tried out in this city for the first time at the recent horse show. Instead of the public being obliged to purchase tickets before entering the gates every person can go direct from the train to the turnstile and enter the grounds simply upon the deposit of a quarter with the turnstile attendant. This system is in practice wherever tremendous crowds are handled. All the large amusements parks and State and National exhibitions have adopted it. For the benefit of those who may not have the exact change, outside booths have been erected to make change for them. Cash only will be accepted at these turnstiles except on school children's day when the teachers and children will be admitted with the tickets furnished them. The exit arrangements have also been greatly improved, more space having been provided on the outside of the gates between the fence and the railroad. Five large gates have been made to prevent congestion at any one exit. The management is doing all in its power to promote comfort and convenience for its many thousands of patrons.

Date of Planting Wheat to Avoid the Hessian Fly

The season for planting wheat is now at hand, and as the chief feature in avoiding destruction by the fall breed of the Hessian fly lies in not planting too early, Prof. H. A. Surface, State Zoologist, Harrisburg, sends out the following information from his office.

Over the greater part of Pennsylvania wheat should not be planted before the last week of September, and to be sure of avoiding the planting in all parts of the State until after the 20th of this month. A year ago the Hessian fly was very destructive throughout Pennsylvania, and farmers then learned the importance of taking precautionary measures toward preventing an increase. Volunteer grain should be plowed down by the end of this month. Those who are wise enough to have a trap strip across the field in order to catch the eggs of the Hessian fly can turn this down by the last of September, and drill it to wheat for their regular crop.

Seeding before the middle of September is almost sure to be infested with the fly, and carry this pest over the winter for its spring brood, which is the one that causes the wheat straws to break and fall before harvest time. There is no means of preventing the destruction by the spring brood of the Hessian fly. No agricultural practice, no fertilizing and no insecticide has yet been able to check it or reduce it. The best recommendation that can be given for preventing the ravages of this pest, which has destroyed hundreds of thousands of dollars in Pennsylvania, is the one point of late fall seeding. This, of course, does not mean that the seed bed should be prepared late. The seed bed should be prepared by early plowing and abundant harrowing, so that it is in a good state of cultivation to receive and retain moisture and keep the plants growing vigorously.

It is getting so that a nice suave gentlemanly set of grafters hardly get under way any more before that Burns fellow drops in and sets 'em upside-down.
