EDITORIALS

When they formed the Harvester trust, evidently they let George do it.

Every time an aviation meet does not kill anybody congratulations are in order.

It is almost impossible to believe that in his youth Col. Roosevelt had weak lungs.

Would it be considered intervention if we sent a regiment of suffragettes across the border?

Judging by the case of Banker Morse, there is no sanitarium in the same class with a jail.

So much for the porch swing—it is not as slippery as the old-fashioned hair sofa used to be.

With all those big crops the farmers of the United States will be able to buy a lot of money.

How did it happen that they have named the new battleship Pennsylvania instead of Penrose?

The rebels in Mexico have again taken flight, adding still more to the moving picture man's burden.

That war between Turkey and Italy is almost as full of thrills as an international chess tournament.

Well, anyhow, the Standard Oil Company doesn't need a press agent to keep its name before the public.

An Agricultural Department report says that lightning does strike twice in the same place. Cheer up, Bill!

Since Col. Roosevelt rode in the engine, Doc Wilson seems to have become restless on the rear platform.

Countries to the south have always found that the Dove of Peace has difficulty in learning to coo in Spanish.

As a supreme test of fealty, the Suffragettes should organize another parade and invite Col. Roosevelt to march.

Reports from Mexico suggest that the southern republic meditates being good just as Uncle reaches for his slipper.

Some people are seeing the sights of New York from the "murder-car" used in killing Rosenthal. They are easily amused.

Lil Nordica has returned from abroad as thin as a match, but no doubt she will fill out again after a prosperous season in America.

If the doctors could give hay fever a high sounding name, they could make more money out of it than they do with appendicitis.

It now develops that employees of John D. have been stinging him for bounty money on propagated snakes, so we look for another boost in the price of auto juice.

King George has bestowed the title of "Colonel" upon Aviator Cody; so it seems there are other ways of getting it than by living two weeks in Kentucky.

The Colonel became enraged at a hotel keeper in Portland when a volume of essays by Paul Hermit vanished from his room. Tut! Tut. Colonel. You have Caesar and Revelations left.

Fortune in Faces
There's often much truth in the saying "her face is her fortune," but his never said where pimples, skin eruptions, blotches, or other blemishes disfigure it. Impure blood is back of them all, and shows the need of Dr. King's New Life Pills. They promote health and beauty. Try them. 25 cents at S. B. Bernhart & Co's.

Do You Know "Toke"?
Tobias H. Hershey of Rapho, vigorous and busy every day, passed his 80th birthday on Wednesday.
