A grand surprise party was given in honor of Mr. Ephraim Arndt on Saturday night. It being his 45th birthday anniversary. The following were present: Mirlam Guhl, Minnie Nentwig, James Shatz, Nellie Vogel, Thilie Weidman, Oscar Young, Harry Grosh, John Guhl, John Raymond of Florin, Margaret Kline of Newport, Pa.; Charles Stephan, Elizabethtown; B. W. Brosey, Howard Chandler of Maytown; Anna and Margaret Dearbeck Mrs. Sylvester Dearbeck, Sylvester Dearbeck, Jr., William Tyndall, Clara Arnts, Mary Hoffer, Anna Hoffmaster of Mount Joy; Gussie Barclay, Mrs. Geo. Barclay of Donegal; Elmer McKain, Jacob Lindvater, Herbert Mason of Marietta and Abraham Culp of St. Louis. The evening was spent by playing games, and all present had a very enjoyable time.

Postal Shower. The postal shower is likely to become an institution. It is designed for the benefit of a friend who has gone to live in a strange place. The shower was originated by a woman living in St. Louis to encourage her son, a young lawyer, who had established an office in San Antonio, Tex. Knowing he was bashful the mother wrote to all her friends, asking that each one send a post card to him, with some cheering message. In many cases a friend would encourage her own friends to write also, and thus the list grew. The young man got so much mail matter that San Antonio people got to think he was a person of some consequence, and they took to him in great style. The "shower" worked so well in this instance that the story spread. Now the idea is gaining popularity by leaps and bounds and bids fair to spread while the supply of lonesome friends holds out.

Teaches Bird Life in School. Georgia is putting on her statute books a law that a bird day shall be observed in the public schools, the Memphis Commercial Appeal remarks.

This is not to be a holiday, but a day set apart for instruction in bird life and uses, so that children may be educated along these lines to such an extent that the birds of the state may receive the protection they should have. Not only will children be instructed as to bird manners and habits, but they will be particularly impressed as to the usefulness of the little creatures in keeping down insect life and thus protecting trees, fruits and growing crops. Few children think of birds as serving a useful end. They regard them as things of beauty merely or else as legitimate prey for slingshot and gun.

Solar Eclipse Affects Wireless. During the recent solar eclipse an interesting test was undertaken between the radio station of the Royal dock yard in Copenhagen and the Blaavandshuk station on the coast of Jutland, so as to ascertain the effect of the eclipse upon wireless transmission. It transpired that the telegraphing became more distinct and reliable as the eclipse progressed, and that it was most distinct shortly after the culmination of the eclipse. The view that it is the effect of the solar light upon the atmosphere which is the cause of radio telegraphy being much better at night than during the day seems thus to be confirmed.

Grandchild of George III. The Grand Duchess Augusta Caroline of Mecklenburg-Strelitz, Europe's oldest princess, celebrated her 90th birthday recently. She is the only surviving grandchild of George III.

STRONG PLAYS TO BE FEATURE

'The Pilgrimage' and 'Two Thousand Miles for a Book' at Baltimore.

'The Pilgrimage,' an Arabian play, and 'Two Thousand Miles for a Book,' an American Indian drama, will be given in the Missionary Play Hall of 'The World in Baltimore,' to be held from October 25 to November 30, at the Lyric theatre, Baltimore. Both of these plays are unusual, demanding many participants, the requirement of people for both being three hundred and fifty.

Beautiful incidental music will accompany these plays, the weird strains of Indian lyrics being heard in one, and mystical Oriental strains supporting the other.

The scene of 'The Pilgrimage' is laid at Jiddah, the port of Mecca, at the time when the whole Moslem World makes its annual pilgrimage to the tomb of Mohammed. The populace becomes aroused over the conversion to Christianity of several natives, especially that of a young Mohammedan student of high caste, which is the work of Missionaries who have been working in Jiddah. Several perilous situations are encountered through the attitude of the natives to the Missionaries and their friends.

The acknowledgment of a gradual conversion to Christianity is made by an high caste Professor of Mohammedanism, whose wife, a princess of high degree, finally joins him in sacrificing all dear to tradition among their native people, as well as their riches, for the sake of The Christ.

The wonderful longing for the 'White Man's Book of Heaven,' the Bible, is demonstrated in the play 'Two Thousand Miles for a Book,' when, in 1838 a delegation of American Indians went from the Oregon country to St. Louis for 'The Book,' long before promised by the white men who had passed their way.

Several short plays, lasting something less than an hour each, will also be given. In 'Sun-Light or Candle-Light' the scene is laid in Japan; 'Election Day' takes one to the moonshine district of our own country;

Torii and Temple, Japan Scene, 'The World in Baltimore.'

China is the scene of 'School-Girl and Slave Girl'; 'Kosiki' is located in Korea, and a fifth play has its scene in Africa. The best talent obtainable in Baltimore has been secured for these plays, which are short enough to be snappy and interesting, yet intensely dramatic.

Motion pictures, the best collection it has been possible to secure, will be shown. These rare pictures for the most part have been taken by special representatives for missionary societies especially to illustrate conditions in foreign lands.

BALTIMOREANS FINANCE MISSIONARY EXHIBITION

'The World in Baltimore' Exposition, which will be opened in the Lyric theatre and a specially constructed hall, Baltimore, from October 25 to November 30, is under the management of committees of Baltimore men of the highest standing and reputation, who have provided a guarantee fund of more than $50,000 to finance the exposition. It is hoped that the admission fee, which the visitor will be asked to pay, will enable all expenses to be met, and any money advanced by the guarantors to be repaid. Should a profit remain after this has been done, it will be turned over to the Missionary Education Movement for the extension of missionary education. The great missionary boards and societies are supporting the exposition through the Missionary Education Movement.

SPECIAL BUILDING ERECTED

No public hall in Baltimore was large enough for the Exposition, 'The World in Baltimore,' to be held there October 25-November 30, so a special hall was built for the purpose. This hall will be the Hall of Nations; the Lyric theatre will be used for the pageant, plays, etc.

A RESTAURANT FOR USE OF THE VISITORS.

A well equipped restaurant under the management of one of the best caterers in Baltimore, where meals and refreshments may be obtained by visitors at fair prices, will be maintained at 'The World in Baltimore' Exposition, October 25 to November 30, and it is expected that this feature will add no little to the pleasure of those who attend.

Hager & Bro.

WHEN the Hager Piano Store was opened to the public a little more than a year ago, we announced that we should apply our one-price system to the new Piano Store. Our inaugurating a strictly one-price system for selling pianos set a new standard in Lancaster City and County.

This policy applied to musical instruments of unquestioned world-wide reputation at once established confidence between ourselves and the buying public.

We are more than gratified with our first year's business in this department, and the foundation is laid for a greater piano business. We know of no more fitting way of celebrating the Piano Store's first birthday than by holding which enables you to buy at Cash prices on Time Payments for Yourself or for Gifts.

It's a simple plan. You know that co-operation in buying saves the buyer money. That's the whole story of our Christmas Musical Club. Fellowship and co-operation and money saved to you.

You can have any of the famous Heppie Pianos—C. J. Heppie & Son, Marcellus and Edouard Jules—which have three sounding boards and excel one sounding board pianos in tone as greatly as a pipe organ excels a reed organ.

We are also agents for the H. C. Schomaker, Francesca, Knight-Brinkerhoff and Francesca Heppie player piano.

You can bring music and happiness into your home by joining the Club and buying one of the marvelous Pianola-Pianos—the Steinway, Weber, Wheelock, Stuyvesant, Steck or the new Stroud—you can have a Pianola to use with your own Piano.

Then there's a Victor or a Victrola, and Regina Music Boxes—any style you like. And for those who already have Pianolas or Talking Machines there are Music Rolls and Victor Records.

You Get These Advantages

- Lowest spot cash prices with easy payment privileges.
 - No interest charges or extras for accommodations.
 - Unlimited selection from Standard lines—not a special line built for club selling.
 - Free Delivery in the City or outside; now or just before Christmas, as you prefer.
 - Life insurance—insures the family against loss of instruments should the Club member die. (This applies to all instruments except Talking Machines.)
 - Relief Insurance—gives privilege of minimum payment during illness.
- Here are the instruments; pick out what you want, and then send for the Club Information.

The quality of materials and the tailoring are of the higher order; that's what you want to keep clothes in good shape. Better have the best clothes for your money.

Snappy---Hart, Schaffner & Marx Styles, $20

A lot of new suits at this popular price that are worthy of special mention are of rough chevrons, in warm gray, brown and blue mixtures. Coats are three-button models, with long, soft roll collar—which is often worn open to the second button—and is very English in effect. High-cut vest and rather straight trousers emphasize the English tendency more strongly. Mighty good suits for a twenty-dollar bill.

Other good styles in Hart, Schaffner & Marx suits up to $26.50.

Young Men Can't Find a Better Suit For $15.00

When a man buys a suit of clothes, he naturally wants just as good a suit as his money can buy—and if $15 is his price, he'll beglad to take one of these suits.

The coats are two and three-button English Models with soft roll lapels and two-inch cuffs on sleeves. High-cut vest and trousers are medium width with two-inch cuff bottoms.

A large variety of patterns including the new shades of blues, browns and grays.

Advance Models in Men's Fall and Winter Overcoats

The recent touch of winter convinced a good many young men that they needed a new overcoat. Overcoatings this season are thick and warm, yet light in weight—and the new coats have any amount of style about them.

H. S. & M. Models at $18.50

Nobby coats for young fellows are these belted black models. Single and double breasted styles that button through in Oxford and brown mixtures—warm and light. Have half inch cuffs on sleeves. Forty-four inches long, serge lined.

Other practical winter coats of heavy plaid-back coatings, come in a variety of blue, brown and gray mixtures. Single breasted, button through, and have adjustable collar. These H. S. & M. Coats are $25.

Soft wool coatings in blue mixtures, make mighty snappy overcoats with belted back and shawl collars. These have wide lap, split seams, and cuffs, and are unusually good coats at $15.

The New Chinchillas

Chinchilla overcoats seem to be quite the thing this season. Our new gray chinchillas at $18, have the popular shawl collars, belted back, split sleeves, and wide lap seams. These coats are skeleton lined.

Nobby blue chinchillas at $20.

Lighter Fall Overcoats at $12

Medium weight oxford overcoats, in Chesterfield style; are serge lined and only $12.

Black Thibet Chesterfields in medium weight are silk lined to edge. These are $16.50.
