EDITORIALS

It cost $265,000 to renominate Taft. What a bargain!

Immediately after the election the millennium will begin. It always has.

You can't judge the importance of a thing by the fuss a woman makes over it.

A Southern aviator who jumped from a biplane proved that it cannot be successfully done.

There is nothing exclusive about the Annals Club. Its members come from every class of society.

There are four kings in the Balkans deck, but as a joker the sultan looks like the highest trump.

Milwaukee at least has the satisfaction of knowing that no native son outraged the laws of hospitality.

Gov. Wilson's pre-convention campaign cost $298,565, and doubtless he thinks it was worth every penny of it.

Gov. Deneen's ticket of admission to the Annals Club has the magic initials "T. R." stamped upon it in red ink.

The new Zeppelin dirigible is equipped with a kitchen, but the average aviator doesn't need one to cook his goose.

We greatly fear that when they once get into battle those Greeks are going to look like Italians to the vengeful Turk.

The latest New York theatrical offering is "The Brute." From the name we judge the hero is a Gotham married man.

Sarah Bernhardt says the way to remain young and lovable is to drive the black butterflies from the soul. Get the net.

Uncle Sam is at a disadvantage in not being able to pay his senators as generously as some great corporations pay theirs.

The southeastern portion of Europe is always prepared to get up some kind of demonstration to offset the efforts of the Hague.

After looking Washington over recently Col. Roosevelt went away convinced that it is as desirable a place of residence as he knows of.

Woody Wilson's list of campaign contributors give Princeton a bully recommendation as an institution which instructs its graduates in the gentle art of money making.

A man who is seeking his first presidential election always feels rather generously disposed to the idea of one term. It is so much better than no term at all.

We see by the New York dramatic critics' cruel remarks that Pierre Loti's play, "The Daughter of Heaven," has gone to —. But what's the use of rubbing it in?

Everybody knows that a campaign fund has to be contributed; it does not fall like the manna of old, nor yet like the rain upon the Democratic and the Republican alike.

The widow of one of the heroes of the Titanic, who gave his life that she might live, has married again, and a California court has taken her child from her. The hero of the Titanic is still dead.

The census bureau reports that there are 116 men in the United States for every 100 women, which would give every girl a husband if it were not for the widows and actresses.

Even if the District of Columbia did have a delegate in Congress he would have to be Republican on his paternal side and Democratic on the maternal side to make everything happy.
