The Week in Grain

Compiled for the Mount Joy Bulletin, at Mount Joy, Pa., by Wm. L. Bear & Co., Pennsylvania Building, Philadelphia, Pa., by D. B. Lehman, Manager, Woolworth Building, Lancaster, Penna.

Phila., Pa., Dec. 9, 1912

The net results of a slow and featureless trade, has been a narrow price advance. News items have been chiefly concerned with the progress of crops south of the equator, and private reports upon the condition of fall sown wheat. The estimate of the agricultural Department will be issued early in the week, and from the tenor of private estimates should show a slightly increased average over last year, with a condition approximately five percent better than at December first a year ago.

Bullish advices have emanated from Argentine from day to day, the crop especially in the province of Buenos Ayres reported to be suffering serious injury from drought and excessive heat. In a trade way they have made little impression, largely by reason of the fact that European markets have been undisturbed by them, but more particularly because prices at Buenos Ayres have not advanced.

Trade sentiment is divided, with a bearish undertone. The failure of prices to advance during the Balkan turmoil has reduced the buying power now that peace approaches. On the other hand there has been a very liberal movement of grain from first hands, which reduces the volume of interior reserves and consequently the amount available for spring distribution. Nor has there been burdensome accumulation at primaries, increased exports caring for the excess movement. Thus we approach the close of navigation with liberal foreign distribution and heavy interior movement accomplished, leaving an available supply well placed for later advances.
