EDITORIALS

It's tough on the airship chaffeur when he takes a drop too much.

First, Gov. Wilson said he dearly loved advice and then slid out for Bermuda.

Ortie McManigal was almost as reckless with his conversation as with high explosives.

Some women seem to forget that there are still other pleasures in life besides nagging one's husband.

A whole lot of applicants for cabinet jobs are busy these days seeing what clever limesicks they can write.

It seemed never to have occurred to any of the New York gunmen to offer the plea that they didn't know it was loaded.

Every time little Willie thinks of Saturday night he congratulates himself that they've busted up the bathtub trust.

It is doubtful whether it will ever be necessary to pension presidents while the chautauqua business retains its propensity.

That single six term of six years for presidents has great possibilities. Therefore it is going to win by constitutional amendment.

The rich Brooklyn man who married a vaudeville actress because she sang "Oh, What a Beautiful Dream You Seem," will now wake up.

Hetty Green is one of the successful but still sensible women who may be interviewed without fear that she will undertake to advertise some system of beauty culture.

MAYTOWN

Advertiser in the Mt. Joy Bulletin. Fire broke out at the residence of Mr. Nicholas Beck, on Thursday morning, doing considerable damage on the second story. The timely discovery by a passerby averted what could easily have meant the wiping out of all the buildings south of the Peck home, as a high wind was blowing that way at the time. Five minutes more would have been enough for a blaze. What has become of the Old Home Week fund that was promised to be appropriated to purchase some means and apparatus for fire protection? The contributors have a right to know why it is not appropriated as promised.

Now, your pleasure will be greatly enhanced if you are dressed up in new

Swissalu Cleaner

An Aluminum
Cleaner and Polisher

The scouring soaps and cleaners generally sold are not at all suitable for aluminum. They change the bright silvery color of the metal into an appearance of lead.

Use the "Swissalu Cleaner" according to directions and aluminum kitchen utensils will always be bright.
