

You Will Need Extra Power

WHEN you buy your engine, get it big enough to do more than your present work. If it's an IHC engine it will last a long time. Your farm work is bound to increase in volume. Very likely you can save yourself the price of another engine later, by getting an engine a size larger than you need now. When you buy an engine powerful enough to handle your work easily while running at the correct speed you add years to its life. Get your engine big enough and buy an

IHC Oil and Gas Engine

You can use it to run any farm machine—pump, saw, feed grinder, cream separator, grindstone and on up to a husker and shredder or thresher—depending on the size of the engine you buy. The power is so economical, so steady and dependable that IHC engines are in daily use in printing offices, laundries, bakeries, machine shops, mills and factories.

An IHC oil and gas engine will deliver 10 to 30 per cent above its rated horse power. All parts are carefully, accurately ground and perfectly balanced. Combustion is perfect and the maximum power is secured.

Sizes—1 to 50-horse power. Styles—stationary, portable, skidded, vertical, horizontal, tank-cooled, hopper-cooled, air-cooled. Fuels—gas, gasoline, naphtha, kerosene, distillate or alcohol. Oil tractors, 12 to 60-horse power, for plowing, threshing, etc. Get catalogues from the IHC local dealer, or, write

A Bird That Shaves.
The bonmot, a South American bird, takes a dry shave regularly. The bonmot has long blue tail feathers. Each quill is adorned from base to tip with soft blue down. This arrangement the bird dislikes. Therefore with its sharp beak it tips the quills bare from the base out to about an inch from the tip, where it maintains a neat oval of soft blue whisker. Such action seems silly on the bonmot's part to certain philosophers, though it seems no sillier than man's action in regularly scraping bare his cheeks and chin while he maintains on his upper lip an oval of soft hair not unlike the bonmot's tail oval.—Exchange.

Montenegro's Easy Going Prison.
The central prison at Cetinje is probably the most easy going in the world. No walls surround it, and the inmates, who furnish their own cells just as they please, seem to stay there only because they find their quarters comfortable. The diet is liberal, with wine on occasions and always cigarettes. There is no work to do, no distinctive garb worn and comparatively free intercourse is allowed with the outside world. On certain feast days, indeed, the prisoners are even allowed to entertain friends.

The Next Boxing Show
On Thursday April 17, the next show of the Lancaster Athletic Club will take place with these bouts: Johnny Greiner vs. Henry Besom of Denver; Harry Lenny of Baltimore vs. Tommy McCann of Philadelphia; Tim Dronney vs. Young Russel; Kid Keener vs. Elam Eisenberger; Young Hackman of Lancaster vs. Young Wormley of Columbia.
