

Studebaker

"The wagon that stands up like the reputation of its makers"

When you buy a Studebaker wagon you buy a wagon that will last until you turn the farm over to your son and he turns it over to his son.

One of the first Studebaker wagons ever made saw constant service for thirty years, and we will gladly send you the names of farmers who have in their possession wagons that have been in constant use anywhere from 17 to 48 years—and there are thousands of them. We are building the same kind of wagons today.

A Studebaker wagon is an investment that will give you full return for your outlay. It is built on honor, iron, steel, wood, paint and varnish used in its construction are tested and retested to make sure each is the best.

For work, business or pleasure—for town or country use—there is a Studebaker vehicle to fit your requirements.

Farm wagons, dump carts, trucks, buggies, surreys, runabouts, pony carriages, business vehicles of every description—of the same high standard.

BATTLE SECTION IS WORTHY SOUVENIR
North American's Gettysburg Supplement Fitting Memorial of Celebration
The editor of this newspaper has been asked to look over this special Gettysburg Semicentennial Section of the Sunday North American for June 29. The section in appearance and contents bears out all statements that have been or can be made in its favor, and the Gettysburg section will be prized and preserved in every patriotic household.
The North American has devoted little of its space to the retelling of the story that great historians have told so well, but has undertaken to tell the human interest incidents of the great fight in a very human way. It has discovered new and retold old personal stories of Gettysburg in such a way that veteran warriors and the later generation of Americans will enjoy them.
Perhaps the biggest and best single feature of the section is entitled "A Guide's Story of Gettysburg," in which one of the battlefield guides, active today, recites the story of the fight as he tells it to visitors. A story of the drummer boys is thrilling and compelling of admiration for youthful valor. General David McMurtre Gregg, leader of the mounted soldiers in the battle, slams the article "The Cavalry at Gettysburg." Over fifty photographs and a great number of drawings serve to emphasize the articles featured.
Enterprise worthy of The North American is shown in devoting eight pages to this special section, for not a line of advertising appears in it. It is a patriotic souvenir of a great historic event.

Summer Sessions at the Academy
The tenth annual Summer Session of Franklin and Marshall Academy will open on Monday June 16, 1913, to continue for a period of six weeks. Girls as well as boys will be enrolled as students at this session.
The course offered will cover a few of the elementary subjects and practically all of the subjects required for college entrance. In fact, if there is any demand, arrangements may be made by which Freshmen and Sophomore college work may be done in the Language and Mathematics.
Recitations will be conducted in the forenoon only. The classes will be small so that the work will be equivalent to private tutoring. Under these conditions a large portion of ground may be covered, thoroughly and efficiently, in a short period of time. Students will receive individual attention. Full credit will be given for work satisfactorily completed.

EXPERIENCE OF MOTHERHOOD

Advice to Expectant Mothers

The experience of Motherhood is a trying one to most women and marks distinctly an epoch in their lives. Not one woman in a hundred is prepared or understands how to properly care for herself. Of course nearly every woman nowadays has medical treatment at such times, but many approach the experience with an organism unfitted for the trial of strength, and when it is over her system has received a shock from which it is hard to recover. Following right upon this comes the nervous strain of caring for the child, and a distinct change in the mother results.

There is nothing more charming than a happy and healthy mother of children, and indeed child-birth under the right conditions need be no hazard to health or beauty. The unexplainable thing is that, with all the evidence of shattered nerves and brain, the result resulting from an unprepared condition, and with ample time in which to prepare, women will persist in going blindly to the trial.

Every woman at this time should rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism.

In many homes once children there are no children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy and strong.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.
