Something In It Constables will benefit from a recent act of the legislature. The Act of 1887 required constables to visit the liquor stores in their district at least once a month, but the Act of May 14th makes the job a paying one. The constables will receive 25 cents for each saloon visited and six cents a mile for each mile traveled in making the visits. There is nothing in the law forbidding constables to visit saloons oftener than once a month, but they will get paid for only one visit; and it's a ten-to-one shot they'll make the "visits."

Cattle Feeding Profitable From the Lititz Record One of the finest herds of cattle ever seen in this section was shipped from the Warwick House stock yards to Philadelphia on Tuesday afternoon. They were forty in number, and were fattened on Albert Shenk's farms, about a mile west of town. The forty head averaged 1,430 pounds, a total gain per head of 425 pounds since Mr. Shenk started to feed them last November, at which time he bought them for $6.75 per hundred weight. He received $8 per hundred pounds for them from Gingrich & Bro. of Lawn, and it paid Mr. Shenk well to fatten the cattle. They cost him about $2,713 and he received about $4,576 which leaves him in the neighborhood of $1,863 as his amount with which to pay the feed and keep the wolf from the door of no other year.
