RABBITS FAIRLY PLENTIFUL

George Myers the Only Person to Bag the Limit on the First

If all of the more than 9,000 persons who have taken out hunter's licenses were out on Saturday, the opening day of the "bunny" season and got anything like a decent "bag" then there cannot be many cottontails left. Mount Joy itself sent quite a respectable army to the field and some showed very nice bags upon their return. These must have got into regions where the farms are not posted against trespassers, or else they have rural friends who gave them the privilege of hunting over their farms. But for the average gunner hunting was rather ticklish work, for it was hard to tell what farms were posted, as the notices were not scattered broadcast. It limited the field of sport, however, and while a good many rabbits were shot, the number from all reports, is very much less than in former years. As for other game, it is scarce and very little was reported killed.

Among the reports from gunners the following have been reported: Ed. Ream 3, Harry W. Garber 2 in half an hour, S. H. Miller 2, Harry Carpenter 3, George Loraw 4, George Moore 8, Jack Arndt 2, Martin Brown 8, Frank Schroll 6, Henry Smeltzer 6, Frank Good 3, Daniel Schroll 4, Henry M. Engle 3, Oliver Mateer 2, Harvey Shaeffer 6, "Sixty" Groff 3, Jno. E. Schroll 7, Walter Derr 3, Daniel Brubaker 9, George Myers 10, Engle Mumma 9, Eli H. Shreiner 6, John Weidman 3, James Richardson 3.

Rev. H. N. Faulconer, Who Will Conduct Evangelistic Services in the Presbyterian Church Nov. 9 to 18

Rev. H. N. Faulconer, who will conduct evangelistic services in the Presbyterian Church next week, beginning Sunday, Nov. 9th and continuing until Tuesday, Nov. 18th is an evangelist well known in Philadelphia and vicinity. For seven years he has been the evangelist of Chester Presbytery, under a committee of laymen, with Chas. L. Houston of Coatesville at their head. This year the Presbytery of Westminster secured half of his time. Recently he has been conducting meetings in Lancaster, York, Strasburg, Piqua, Christiana and Chestnut Level with great success.

He is a speaker of marked ability, but uses no peculiar methods in preaching the straight Gospel, and making his appeal direct to the heart.

At Memorial Church, Lancaster 45 were received after his meetings last winter. In Center Church, York County 35 were received only a few weeks ago.

The meetings are not only for Presbyterians. All denominations are most heartily and cordially invited to attend. No collections will be taken, the expenses being met by subscription.

Alexander's Gospel Songs No. 2 will be used during the services.

Rev. Bossert is conducting meetings every night this week in preparation for Mr. Faulconer's coming.
