WHY MOUNT JOY MERCHANTS SHOULD ADVERTISE IN THE BULLETIN

A $2,000,000.00 Example

Without a dollar's worth of business in sight, the Ward Baking Co. erected and equipped two magnificent bakeries in New York City, at a cost of $2,000,000.

They knew the possibilities of advertising and depended upon advertising to make their New York business a success.

The result was that in eight months they obtained distribution for 350,000 loaves of bread per day.

Without advertising those two million dollar bakeries would be accumulating dust and cobwebs, and the two hundred autos used for delivery purposes would be idle.

HAD TO THINK THINGS OUT

For Once, at Least, Moving of Furniture Proved a Trap for Sleepy Housewife.

A woman who lives in a south side apartment made up her mind the other day it would brighten up the rooms and relieve the monotony if the furniture were shifted around.

She spent the afternoon "shifting" and went to bed, tired. Her son, at night, called her up over the telephone, but could get no response. A little later his office telephone rang and his mother asked:

"Were you ringing me?"

"Yes," he said. "Why didn't you answer?"

"I heard the bell ringing. I thought it was you and I got up to answer but I could not find the telephone."

"Why didn't you turn on the light?"

"I couldn't find the switch. I tried to feel my way to the switch, but I had moved the furniture and I became lost. For a while I could not find my way back to the bed. When I found the bed by feeling my way in the dark then I sat down and got my bearings and figured out how I had moved the furniture and just this moment figured out where the light switch was."

HOLD DEER IN REVERENCE

Peculiar Regard for Animal is Entertained Throughout the Japanese Empire.

From time immemorial deer have been held in reverent regard by the Japanese. Herds are kept in compounds, and the highest respect is paid to the animals. In olden times the shogun gave the people such a strict order to protect the sacred animals that if anyone happened to hurt or kill them he was put to death on the spot. It was a period of terror.

Even at the present day the deer are so tame and abundant in the shrine grounds that they, in fine weather, stroll round the streets by twos and threes and surround passers-by, asking for food, and sometimes holding their sleeves in their mouths in an affectionate manner.

Once a year some of the deer are caught by means of a net with a handle by several tamers (in service of the Kasuga Shrine Office) and taken to an enclosure, where their splendid horns are cut off with a saw, while a crowd of spectators watch the work with breathless interest (admission ten sen, equal to about 3 cents). This done, some of the sacred horns are, as a custom, awarded to the spectators by means of lottery.

NEW IDEA NOT IMPRESSIVE

Calman Tried it, and It Worked, but He Still Prefers the Old Way.

"I was in a county court the other day," said the seedy-looking calman, "and I heard one of those solicitor chaps say, 'People don't seem to understand that the only thing necessary to keep a horse from kicking when he is down is to get hold of his ear and keep his nose up in the air. A horse cannot kick when his nose is in the air.' I have seen a lady keep a horse quiet that way without soiling her gloves. 'What's good enough for a lady,' says I, 'is good enough for me,' and I tried it experimental-like, instead of sittin' on his 'ead."

"Well," remarked the attentive listener, "did the horse kick?"

"Not a bit! He seemed so tickled with the idea that he couldn't stir for laffin! But I think I shall sit on his 'ead next time, all the same."—London Answers.

Not in the Orders.

Jim's boss sent him up on the roof to paint it. That was early in the morning. Toward nightfall the boss clambered up the ladder to see whether his workman had done away or been eaten by the birds. There was Jim sitting on the edge of the house, singing.

"Jim, you lazy piece, what you been doin'?"

"Nuffin."

"Didn't I send you up here to paint the roof?"

"Yassir."

"Well, did you do it?"

"Yassir."

"What else did you do?"

"I went to sleep."

"Why didn't you come down if you had finished?"

"Deed, boss, you jes' said paint de roof. You never said nuffin 'bout comin' down."

Old Sunday School.

There is many an old collier, agricultural laborer and factory operative living who owes knowledge of reading, writing and arithmetic to attendance at Sunday school, for down to quite modern times secular as well as religious instruction was given, relates the London Chronicle. The change came with the enactment of compulsory education in 1870; and an aunt, still happily vigorous, and alert, has told me her embarrassment when, as a young girl who had just left Miss Pinkerton's academy, she found among the class allotted to her in the Sunday school the gray-haired old coal dealer of the village, who wished to learn arithmetic. For many years also Sunday school teachers were regularly paid. Robert Raikes, for instance, gave his assistants 1s 6d per Sunday.

Woes in the "Movie" Business, Too.

Downtown theatrical managers who have to deal with jealous actresses and fussy stars, and exercise diplomacy a thousand times a day, need not think the lesser "movie" managers haven't troubles of their own, says the Kansas City Star. "In all my experience in the show business," remarked the manager of a motion picture place on Thirty-first street, "I never had such a time as I had last night. I have two machines. One of them lost the governor belt, the other snapped a tension; three keys on the piano stuck, and the trap drummer broke the head of the snare drum."

Fitting Name.

"What's that you call your mule?"

"I call him 'Corporation,'" answered the old colored man.

"How did you come to give him such a name?"

"Fum studyin' de animal an' readin' de papahs. Dat mule gets me 'blame an' abuse dat anyt'ing else in de townshipp, an' goes ahead havin' his own way jes de same."

MAN'S LOVE FOR THE DOG

Strong Spirit of Affection That Binds Them Together Has Long Been a Matter of Note.

The day before I reached Chitina I met a trapper carrying five little puppies on his back. He had the mother dog with him in good condition. He had been three days (two of them without any food) making 12 miles rather than sacrifice these dogs and he had frozen his feet and hands so badly as a result that I am afraid he was bound to lose some of his fingers and toes.

I like to think that I finished my 1,000-mile trip in 21 days with the same five dogs with which I started, and that not one of them had even a sore foot during the entire journey. In fact, before I started Psyriak had cut his left hind foot, which made it necessary to mucklock it, but when I finished my journey he was in better condition than at first.

Not once during the whole way did I sit on the sled; I pushed it for at least 500 miles and ran beside it for another 300. Running became such a habit that when I got to Cordova and started to go down the street I found myself unconsciously running. I really had to learn to walk from the beginning all over again.

I hated to part with my dogs, but as our country is too hot for them I decided to give them away. I broke up the team and separated them, so that they would not work together again. I had several chances to sell them, but I could not think of doing so.

When I boarded the boat at Valdez, where I left two of my dogs, my leader, Psyriak, tried to get up the gangplank after me, but when they would not let him he stood there until the boat pulled out, whining, as much as to say, "How can you desert me now?"—Lieut. George F. Vaughn in World's Work.

IMAGINATION.

An obsolete form of power, at one time used in making countries, religion and literature, and now superseded by the higher psychology. In former times imagination was employed by children in playing games, and in the making of mud pies out of mud and real soldiers out of wood. It is the father of many dead heroes, among whom may be mentioned Theseus, Jack the Giant Killer, King Arthur, Caliban, Robinson Crusoe and Santa Claus. It is still discovered in the extremely young. At one time, when man was crude, imagination was thought to be servicable. The notion, however, along with mythology and other follies, has long since been exploded, the greatest efficiency having been demonstrated to lie along the lines of least resistance, which includes among other things, playground supervision, department store tactics, child labor, white slavery and currency reform.—Life.

Timely Admonition.

The death of a child as a result of the clothing catching fire from an open grate has moved Coroner Jamison to admonish parents that the safety of their loved one is imperiled by the tolerance in homes of unscrupled grates and gas stoves. Year after year the advent of cold weather has marked the beginning of a long list of fire fatalities, probably the most agonizing form of death, and yet, in spite of such warnings, the unscrupled grate is the exception and not the rule. In the months of January and February of the present year no less than 22 children were burned to death as a result of the use of open coal and gas grates, and during the year many women have met a similar fate.—Pittsburgh Chronicle Telegraph.
