SALUNGA

Spelling Bee for General Hospital's Benefit, a Success

Things in our country stores are assuming quite an Easter look. Miss Mabel Nissley of Harrisburg, spent Sunday with Miss Martha Eby. Mr. and Mrs. Howard Pelfer and children were Sunday visitors to Mt. Joy.

Mrs. Walter Eshleman is rapidly improving after an operation at St. Joseph's Hospital at Lancaster. Mr. Henry Erb, who has been seriously sick with pneumonia has slightly improved at this writing.

The Mennonites of this place had a baptism in their church on Saturday morning and Sunday morning the service of holy communion was held by Bishop Peter Nissley.

On the 19th of this month the Anti Saloon League will send one of their most talented orators to our town, to stir up a sentiment against the juglers in dope. The exercises will be held in the evening, commencing at 7:30 o'clock.

Among the miseries of this backward season is the rapid depletion of the coal supply. More coal is the repeated cry and we would add in the way of a suggestion to the Interstate Commerce commission that they stop in and say just what proportion of slate and coal mixed constitute marketable coal. Let our well paid commissioners move in the matter and put a check on the coal frauds.

The Spelling Bee held in the Maple Grove school house on Saturday evening, for the benefit of General Hospital was a decided success. The ladies wish to thank all who in any way contributed toward the Bee. The crowd was limited by the size of the house. Many more would have been there if they could have got in. The Ladies' chorus of Salunga and the Landisville Orchestra rendered some very fine music.

We were especially pleased with the way some of the violinists drew the bow. The readings by Misses Herr and Steincomp were very much enjoyed by all and the ladies deserve more than passing credit for the able manner in which they were given. The classes were very well conducted. Mr. Henry Stehman of Rohrerstown, kept every one in grand humor with the way he asked the general information questions. Misses Baker and Eby conducted the spelling classes. Dr. B. E. Kendig and Mr. Nolt were the judges.

MASTERTONVILLE

Gingrich Bros., of Lawn, Ship Their Third Carload of Cattle to Seattle

About 100 wild geese flew over this town on Thursday on their flight to cooler regions.

Mr. Irvin Helsey is slowly recovering from a very severe attack of inflammation of the bowels.

The Mt. Hope and Chiques Sunday schools organized their classes on Sunday afternoon at their respective homes.

There are many signs of spring—namely, the chirping of robins and bluebirds, the splashing of wagons through the mud, patches of green grass here and there, digging of garden but the piping of the frog has not yet been heard.

Any persons who have not sold their tobacco and wish to have the head packer of the Seed Leaf Growers Association call around and give a price on the tobacco notify the president of the board of this section, Mr. Frank Geib, or the advisory board which consists of H. B. Wisegarver, C. G. Becker, John Geib and A. S. Brubaek.

Gingrich brothers, of Lawn, who are considered to be the most extensive dealers in cattle in Lancaster and Lebanon counties, have shipped their third carload of the finest Holstein cattle to Seattle, Washington, ever produced by any Lancaster county farmers. The cattle consisted mostly of heifers which will be exhibited at the world's fair in California in 1915. The west does not have Holstein cattle and wish to introduce them into that part of the U. S. The prices paid for these cattle ranged from $100 to $200 per head. Messrs. Clarence Hostetter and Harry Ebersole accompany these cattle to feed, milk and keep them in condition.

The association is organizing in many sections of the county. Although they may not do so much business this year, the association will succeed. Bear in mind the time is coming, in fact is here now, that the farmers must organize or starve. This company is straight and reliable. They will have to fight against heavy odds but will finally conquer. In every other section of the U. S. associations have been formed and are successful, why can not the Lancaster county farmers be successful? The advisory board of this section can and will answer any and all questions farmers may entertain in their minds.

Gets Warm Greeting
The members and friends of the United Evangelical church at Kinderhook gave a reception in honor of their new pastor, Rev. Norman N. Lower.

Senator Tillman has persuaded the Senators to refrain from smoking in executive session, but the senators continue to sizzle.

Will Work at Hershey
Irwin Gladfelter a former teacher in the public school at Maytown, which closed last week, has accepted a position at Hershey for the summer vacation.

PLEASANT HILL

Chickens Sold at Nineteen Cents a Pound at John Martin's Sale

Martin Gish has been extensively engaged in buying up tobacco in this immediate vicinity.

Irvin Fridy disposed of his tobacco last week, to Hoffman Garber, a Marietta tobacco buyer.

Miss Barbara and Anna Neideigh were Sunday callers on their chums, Mabel and Maggie Floyd.

Robbins and blackbirds are thicker than flies around here, indications that springtime has come.

Jacob Daveler has a lot of tobacco hanging on the pole yet, awaiting a damp spell to get it down.

Samuel K. Weaver and E. R. Neideigh attended Keller's cattle sale, last week down at Mount Joy.

We enjoyed the hospitality of our friends Mr. and Mrs. Phares Gish on Friday last and the pleasure of seeing the young heir.

Dead crows are lying around loose in the fields nearby caused by the exposure and lack of food. Snow drifts did the work.

After April first the doleful notes that emanated from the Pleasant Hill school bell will cease until the swallows homeward fly.

The Bossler school taught by Miss Fitzkee closed up its business last week. It will resume again when the frost is on the pumpkin.

Frank Fisher, Elizabethtown's energetic furniture dealer passed the Fort last Wednesday, with a load of goods consigned to Marietta.

Those mortar bed roads that lead toward Maytown were drying off to a considerable extent these last few days, before we had another rain.

Frank Aldinger, the progressive auctioneer, disposed of Frank Eshleman's Beagle pups at John Martin's sale at high figures, but go they had to.

John Matrin who operated the John E. Garber farm near here, took his departure for Palmyra last week where he intends making his future home.

Phares Gish was engaged in hauling out his manure, down on the Harry Erb farm, last Wednesday. Amos Erb, E. R. Neideigh and Milton Haines were the trio that constituted his battery.

John Martin's sale that was pulled off near the Fort last Tuesday, drew a large attendance. An ideal day was selected by the aforesaid party. Chickens ran the limy at 19 cents a pound. The trotting horse was ordered back to his stall when $175 was bid and did not get any higher.

MARIETTA

Methodist Church Shows Its Appreciation for Pastor's Return

The congregation of the First Methodist Episcopal church at Marietta, to show the appreciation for the return of their pastor, Rev. H. H. Potcher, who secured them last year, gathered at the parsonage to the number of nearly sixty, and aside from spending a very enjoyable evening, brought with them almost everything necessary for a well filled larder. The pastor and his family were surprised, and at a seasonable hour refreshments were served, and speech-making, both of young and old, was in order, as nearly everyone present had something to say. Rev. Potcher last year had a very successful year in Marietta.

A miscellaneous shower was tendered Miss Laura Stroub of Marietta, Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Simon L. Brandt, where she is rooming. Miss Stroub is a native of Perry county, a graduate of the Mt. Pleasant Normal School and a teacher in the Marietta public schools. She was the recipient of a number of very handsome gifts, including one from her class in the Lutheran Sunday school. Refreshments were served at a seasonable hour and games of all sorts were used to pass the evening. Among the Lancaster guests were Miss Freda Swisher and Miss Clara Bahn.

Bought a Valuable Horse
Mr. J. D. Smith of Rheems, bought one of the highest-priced horses that has come to this section in recent years, at a horse sale in Lebanon last Friday. The horse bought is a blue roan stud colt for which Mr. Smith paid $750.

RHEEMS

Our Town Had a Slight Fire Scare Last Saturday

Andrew Felker flitted into the B. H. Greider cottage one day last week. Mrs. John M. Weaver and Mrs. P. C. Sloud spent last Monday at Philadelphia.

Geise & McBride enclosed the H. H. Bard residence with some of their famous fence last Saturday.

E. R. Dougherty made his annual trip to Lancaster Apr. 1 where he Mr. and Mrs. Phares Stehman of near Lancaster Junction were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Bard.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Risser and daughter Myra spent last Saturday and Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Jos. W. Kraybill.

E. H. Hersh has built a noodle roller for E. Hostetter of Mt. Joy, who expects to turn the noodles loose in large quantities.

Geo. Coble has quite a force of men employed casing tobacco in his Rheems warehouse, known as the canning factory.

Apr. 1 was a record breaker for inclement weather for moving day. Many moved just the same. The following day furnished sufficient air to remove all dampness.

Martin Gish and Abe Snyder have joined hands in the wholesale leaf tobacco business in the A. S. Bard warehouse and contemplate starting with a large force in a few days.

Hiram Shunk, the village blacksmith, swung his shingle at Elizabethtown commencing Apr. 1. This leaves this place without a horse shoer and wagon maker. Time to boom up something or the East ward will swamp the west ward.

Edward Neideigh and family and their guest George Zinn, deserted the Fort down in Donegal one day last week and now hold forth in the east ward of Rheems in the B. H. Greider house vacated by Wm. Howard, who flitted into the Geo. Nauman house purchased from Allen Hahn.

W. L. Heisey returned from New York City last Saturday, expecting to remain here a few days—just long enough to get the required number of signers to nominate him as a candidate for the next Legislature. After filing his papers at Harrisburg he will return to New York City where he has stenographers and type writers employed in his office, making future plans.

Tillman Schwanger, the Maple Dale blacksmith who met with an almost fatal mishap while working on a vicious horse, had three ribs fractured and the left side of his face bruised. His hearing is also effected. Mr. Schwanger is experiencing considerable trouble to get assistance. One day his helper failed to turn up as early as usual and when he arrived there were nine head of horses waiting to be shod.

Last Saturday about 10:50 there was an alarm of fire sounded near the Geo. Coble tobacco warehouse. Smoke was noticed on the roof of Landis Bros. storage shed which is a large structure about 35x70 ft. The fire spread rapidly, starting near the peak with a strong northwest wind to it like experienced fireman, tearing galvanized and Jno. M. Weaver and Stephen King, two staunch railroaders, perched themselves upon the roof. Among the raging flames they stuck to it like experienced fireman, taring away the shingles and dashing water. It will require two or three thousand shingles to make the repairs.

It will require two or three thousand shingles to make the repairs.

Last Saturday about 10:50 there was an alarm of fire sounded near the Geo. Coble tobacco warehouse. Smoke was noticed on the roof of Landis Bros. storage shed which is a large structure about 35x70 ft. The fire spread rapidly, starting near the peak with a strong northwest wind to it like experienced fireman, tearing galvanized and Jno. M. Weaver and Stephen King, two staunch railroaders, perched themselves upon the roof. Among the raging flames they stuck to it like experienced fireman, taring away the shingles and dashing water. It will require two or three thousand shingles to make the repairs.
