FEELS LIKE A NEW WOMAN

As Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Dispelled Backache, Headaches and Dizziness.
Piqua, Ohio.—"I would be very ungrateful if I failed to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound the praise it deserves, for I have taken it at different times and it always relieved me when other medicines failed, and when I hear a woman complain I always recommend it. Last winter I was attacked with a severe case of organic weakness. I had backache, pains in my hips and over my kidneys, headache, dizziness, lassitude, had no energy, limbs ached and I was always tired. I was hardly able to do my housework. I had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound on one other occasion, and it had helped me so I took it again and it has built me up, until now I feel like a new woman. You have my hearty consent to use my name and testimonial in any way and I hope it will benefit suffering women."—Mrs. ORPHA TURNER, 431 S. Wayne St., Piqua, Ohio.

Women who are suffering from those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should not doubt the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health.
If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

MAYTOWN COMMENCEMENT

The nineteenth annual commencement exercises of the Central High School at Maytown, were held Wednesday night in the Band Hall, and to say that it was well attended is putting it mildly, as the auditorium was unable to accommodate the crowd, the aisles being filled, and many were standing on the outside.

The hall was very beautifully decorated for the occasion with the colors of the class, blue and steel, and the High School colors, black and red, even the programs being printed symbolic of the colors. There were among the decorations potted plants and cut flowers, and the class flower, red rose, figured prominently in the decorations. A number of pennants were strung around the hall. The class and teachers occupied the stage. The order of exercises began promptly with a procession of the graduates and the faculty, with piano accompaniment. After they had been seated, the following program was given: Invocation, Rev. E. E. Kauffman, of the Church of God; chorus by the High School, (a) "Hail, Orpheus, Hail," (b) "Juanita"; salutatory oration, "Men Who Dare," Martin L. Kaufman. In part he said, "Tonight we are stepping forth, ready to assume whatever life has in store for each and every one of us. We are inexperienced and will need many a helping hand. It is very true that we have spent some time in preparation and have now completed the tasks assigned to us. Yet we are young in years and will need many kind words of advice and encouragement. You, our friends, we regard as our counselors in future life, and it gives us no small degree of pleasure to have you with us tonight, at this event that marks the first great milestone in our life. We bid you welcome."

Every age has had its heroes; the man who is noble and brave has been admired at all times. In all ages great men have educated themselves by reading the lives of ancient worthies and emulating the heroes of antiquity; courage has been always a quality of leadership. In the dawn of history, we find men rallying around some noble heroes who had saved them from some disaster, or bestowed some unequalled blessing upon them. The scroll of history is filled with the names of men who dared to risk their own lives and all they had for the sake of right. There have been men who thru sheer pluck have enshrined their names in the annals of history. Today in our strenuous struggles of life, men of courage kindle within us enthusiasm akin to worship. The man who dares to perform some daring feat is attended by adoring throngs. We shower upon him the best we have of fame and wealth. He becomes the ideal of our youth. His name is on the tongues of the crowd. But we are often too prone to mistake the "bully" for the man of real courage. Cool and deliberate though the man of physical courage must be, there is a higher type of courage. In Rome, the huge Obelisk of a million pounds was to be placed on St. Peter's. The Pope proclaimed that anyone who utters a word before the danger is passed, shall die, and as that majestic column ascends, all eyes watch it with wonder and awe. It is about to be put in its place, when the strain becomes too great, the huge ropes yield and slip, everybody is dismayed and flees to escape the impending mass of stone. A voice breaks the sound, "wet the ropes," rings out clear-toned as a clarion, crowds look on, and there on a high post, standing by himself, his eyes glittering with intensity of excitement, is one of the eight hundred workmen. His words inspire, he is obeyed, the ropes swell and bite the stone the column ascends again, the Obelisk is placed upon its pedestal, the daring sailor who in the face of death dared to obey his convictions, has now become the hero of Rome.

MAYTOWN CLASS DAY

The annual class day exercises of the Maytown High School were held in the band hall at Maytown Tuesday evening. The large audience packed the auditorium to the doors, and they were compelled to stand on the outside. The class this year numbers eighteen, which is one of the largest ever graduated. The interior of the hall was elaborately decorated, the motto, "Da labora scire quod sciendum est," was prominently displayed. Around the platform were plants and cut flowers.

The exercises consisted of an orchestral selection by Wittie's orchestra of Columbia; address, John Garber; recitation, Myrtle M. Grove; class day oration, "Lay Down Your Arms," Harry B. Blessing; piano solo, Chester Wittie; class history, Christianna Hostetter; class prophecy, Hiram G. Nissley and recitation, Helen Risser. The presentation addresses were given by the following members of the class: Adam E. Sweigert; Robert H. Zook, Abram F. Hawthorne, Chas. L. Slodan, Anna Bostic and Esther R. Hersh. A piano solo was rendered by Chester Wittie and the class song written by Mary Hoffman, the valedictorian, was sung.

Leaf Tobacco Dealer in Bankruptcy
Truman D. Shertzer, a well-known leaf tobacco dealer of Lancaster, has been adjudged a voluntary bankrupt by the United States District Court at Philadelphia. His liabilities are placed at $41,990.28 and his assets $27,810.75. The referee is Redmond Conyngham, Esq.

The subject, "The Uncrowned King," was discussed by David Lutz. Mr. Lutz said in part: "What is a king or a person that can wear no crown? No matter how small or how few stars it may have, yet there is an honorable reward waiting for the crowned in the life to come." His subject was a very interesting one and worthy of much note. By following the advice of instructors, like the class now graduating did, they have already attained a number of stars and are crowned with success, and it will be their duty, and should be the ever-lasting duty of the members, to try and maintain the honor and loyalty they have already received. Valedictory address, was delivered by Miss Mary Hoffman. She in part said: "In nature nothing exists by itself, everything is linked to some former chain, forming a part of some great cycle. Changes are not abrupt. For every effect there is a cause. A stone is dropped into a pond of water, and there emanates a series of waves in ever increasing circles. The sun rises in the heavens and pours forth light unquenchable. Although distant millions of miles we watch with wonder its apparent path thru heavens, shedding light and warmth upon the cold dead planet, and bringing the seasons with its fruits and flowers. Violets, the small in bulk, will fill a whole house with fragrance. The twitter of birds and the morning air, the seemingly insignificant, cheer the hearts, vigors the mind and sends the blood coursing thru the veins. Gentle as the air is about us, it presses with a weight of fourteen pounds to the square inch. No infant's hand feels its weight, no leaf of aspen or wing of bird detect the heavy pressure, for it presses equally in all directions. Likewise who can measure the light and heat of their summer? Who can gather the odors of last year's orchards?"

The address to the graduates was delivered by Hon. Frank B. McClain, mayor of Lancaster.

The High School then rendered a chorus, "Kentucky Babe," and the benediction was pronounced by Rev. J. D. Krout, of the Lutheran Church. The faculty consists of Prof. E. R. Ruhl, principal; Elva W. Glatfelter, first assistant; Verna Peck, second assistant.

The Board of Directors are: Hon. M. R. Hoffman, president; Amos F. Eby, secretary; C. C. Keiser, Abram Grove, Samuel S. Graybill.

The least bit of work tired me and I didn't have any ambition. I often heard about Doan's Kidney Pills and I got a box. They acted as represented and gave me prompt relief. I haven't had any occasion to use a kidney remedy since. I still recommend Doan's Kidney Pills and confirm all I have ever said about them."
