Sick Women Made Well

Reliable evidence is abundant that women are constantly being restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

The many testimonial letters that we are continually publishing in the newspapers—hundreds of them—are all genuine, true and unsolicited expressions of heartfelt gratitude for the freedom from suffering that has come to these women solely through the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Money could not buy nor any kind of influence obtain such recommendations; you may depend upon it that any testimonial we publish is honest and true—if you have any doubt of this write to the women whose true names and addresses are always given, and learn for yourself.

Read this one from Mrs. Waters:
CAMDEN, N.J.—"I was sick for two years with nervous spells, and my kidneys were affected. I had a doctor all the time and used a galvanic battery, but nothing did me any good. I was not able to go to bed, but spent my time on a couch or in a sleeping-chair, and soon became almost a skeleton. Finally my doctor went away for his health, and my husband heard of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and got me some. In two months I got relief and now I am like a new woman and am at my usual weight. I recommend your medicine to every one and so does my husband."—Mrs. TILLIE WATERS, 1135 Knight St., Camden, N.J.

And this one from Mrs. Haddock:
UTICA, OKLA.—"I was weak and nervous, not able to do my work and scarcely able to be on my feet. I had backache, headache, palpitation of the heart, trouble with my bowels, and inflammation. Since taking the Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I am better than I have been for twenty years. I think it is a wonderful medicine and I have recommended it to others."—Mrs. MARY ANN HADDOCK, Utica, Oklahoma.

Now answer this question if you can. Why should a woman continue to suffer without first giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial? You know that it has saved many others—why should it fail in your case?

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No one sick with woman's ailments does justice to herself if she does not try this famous medicine made from roots and herbs; it has restored so many suffering women to health.

CRIMSON CLOVER A USEFUL CROP

Interesting Articles Pointed Out in the Farmers' Bulletin

A number of ways in which the early appearance of crimson clover in the spring can be turned to the farmer's advantage are pointed out in Farmers' Bulletins 579, "Crimson Clover Utilization." In the Southern and Central Atlantic States this crop is of particular value. Generally speaking it suffers from the severe winters in the North and from too great dryness west of the Mississippi. In Florida also it has proved less successful than elsewhere.

Crimson clover, says the bulletin, has two great advantages. It is an excellent fertilizer and it can be used for pasture and hay before another green growth is available, the land being then sown with an ordinary summer-grown crop. The clover itself can be sown toward the end of the summer on land where such late crops as corn or tomatoes are still under cultivation. Its use, therefore, does not interfere with other products and its benefits cost little but the labor and seed involved.

To obtain the full value of crimson clover as a fertilizer, the entire green crop should be plowed under, thus adding to the soil a large quantity of nitrogen and humus, or decayed vegetable matter. The poorer the land the greater is the benefit that the succeeding crop derives from process. A yield of 30 bushels of corn per acre may ordinarily be increased by crimson clover to 45, but on richer land an increase of more than 10 bushels is uncommon. A convenient method of calculation is to consider a full crop of crimson clover weighing with roots and tops about 10 tons an acre, as the equivalent of a distribution of 8 tons of fresh barnyard manure to an acre. In this way the soil is greatly enriched each year without interfering in any way with the regular money crops, such as corn, cotton or tomatoes.

It is, however, by no means necessary to sacrifice the entire crop of crimson clover to fertilizing purposes. Excellent results can be obtained by plowing under merely the roots and stubble. This, it is estimated, returns to the soil 40 per cent, as much nitrogen as the green crop. When this is done the clover itself can be used either for pasture, before ordinary grass is sufficiently far advanced to be available for hay which can be gathered in time to leave the land free for another crop.

Crimson clover intended for hay must, however, be cut at the right moment, when the most advanced heads are beginning to show faded flowers at their base. At this stage the plants contain the maximum amount of protein and dry matter, while the leaves are still present and the stems comparatively green. If the harvest is put off, the short hairs on the stems and flower heads become dry and stiff. In this stage there is danger that they may form hard hair balls in the intestinal tracts of horses and mules to which the hay is fed. These hair balls, solid, compact, feltlike structures, nearly always cause death. Early cutting, however, and judicious mixing with other hay will obviate this difficulty to a great extent, and under any circumstances, cattle are rarely affected. By dryfarming, crimson clover hay is considered a roughage feed fully equal if not superior to either red or alsike clover.

For early pasturing crimson clover is even more satisfactory, its chief drawback being the limited period in which it can be utilized for this purpose. This period, however, is ample to enable the ordinary grass pastures to attain a growth which will greatly increase their carrying capacity later in the season. After the cattle are removed, the uncut plants and the manure left behind are plowed under, the manure of course forming a valuable addition to the fertilizing effect of the clover.

As pasture, hay or fertilizer, therefore, crimson clover offers itself to farmers at a time when the ordinary summer-grown crops are not available. Incidentally, it should be said, this clover is valuable for poultry. A tubful of hand-cropped leaves thrown into the poultry yard will provide the chickens with the best possible green food at a season when eggs are ordinarily high and everything that promotes laying is most welcome. Small patches of crimson clover are, in fact, grown by poultry raisers for this purpose alone.

Methods of growing the crop, the preparation of the seed bed, and the soil and sections best adapted to the purpose are discussed in a previous publication of the Department of Agriculture, Farmers' Bulletin 550, "Crimson Clover: Growing the Crop." Both this bulletin and the new bulletin "Crimson Clover: Utilization," will be sent free on request.

The Rainbow Bazaar held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Myers by the willing workers Society of the Church of God on last Friday and Saturday evenings was a splendid success. The Madam La Zouze's wax figure exhibit was an interesting feature of amusement, while the orchestra rendered pleasing music and caused considerable favorable comments.

STATE SHIPPERS GAIN A VICTORY

Cancellation of Joint Rates is Declared Illegal

TERMINAL CHARGES STAND

Attempt of Trunk Line Railroads in Pennsylvania to Add to Local Expense of Shippers Prohibited by Action of the State Public Service Commission.

Pittsburgh, Pa.—A decisive victory has been gained by the shippers of Pennsylvania through the refusal of the State Public Service Commission to permit the great trunk railroads to cancel the joint rate agreements existing between them and the terminal roads on intra-state business. The decision is in line with similar action by the Public Utilities Commission of New York and under it the railroads are compelled to continue the joint rates. This means that the shipper will not be put to the extra expense and inconvenience of freight transportation when a trunk line and a terminal road are used, as would have been the case had the Public Service Commission permitted the cancellation of the joint rates.

The case reached the Public Service Commission through the action of the Monongahela Connecting Railroad of Pittsburgh and a group of its most prominent shippers, representing many industries and businesses. They took an appeal immediately following the announcement by the trunk lines, the latter part of March, that all joint rate agreements would be abolished April 1. The Monongahela Connecting road's contention at that time was that no change in existing rates could be made without the consent of the Public Service Commission. The thirty days' notice and a public hearing, the railroads had failed to secure the consent of the Commission, but had gone ahead and changed the rates, merely filing the new tariffs.

The Public Service Commission granted a hearing in the appeal and after taking considerable testimony decided against permitting the railroads to change their rates without thirty days' notice. The railroads renewed their attempt to cancel the joint rates, by filing notice with the Public Service Commission on April 15 of new tariffs to take effect thirty days later. This resulted in an appeal by the Monongahela Connecting and other terminal railroads in the state.

A date for a hearing was set and on two occasions the Public Service Commission went into a complete discussion of the case. The result was a decision adverse to the trunk lines and to the effect that the cancellation of the joint rates was unjust and unreasonable and contrary to the laws of the state.

While the decision of the State Commission is in conflict with the attitude of the Interstate Commerce Commission, there is nothing for the railroads to do at present but to continue the joint rates on state business, while cancelling them on interstate business. The attitude of the government officials is somewhat vague on this subject and it is hoped that the tangle will be straightened out by the Interstate Commerce Commission taking some formal action that will justify a hearing in court and a decision that will be in conformity with the action of the State Commission.

The effort of the railroads to abolish the joint rates grew out of an opinion of the Interstate Commerce Commission prepared by the Commissioner, James S. Harlan, which was issued in what is known as the Industrial Railroad Case last February, but was not followed by the usual order or decree. This opinion declared that the short line railroads were not entitled to be treated as such by the trunk lines and should therefore not have any division of the through rate for business originating on the lines of these short roads.

The trunk lines at once accepted this suggestion although not compelled to do so by order, and proceeded to issue new tariffs discontinuing the joint rates with the short line railroads, the effect of which was to increase the freight rates to all persons and industries located on or using the short line railroads for making their deliveries or shipments.

The increase in rates effected in this manner has been declared unjustifiable and unlawful by the State Commission, and all shippers located or doing business on the short line railroads in the State will have the benefit of the flat rates within their district as heretofore, and the Monongahela Connecting Railroad has been maintained in its proper status as a common carrier.

MASONIC HOME NOTES

(Too late for last week)

With assurances of our highest regards to, and appreciation of the great work done by the Chautauqua Association, we feel called upon to positively declare that it is not the intention of the Masonic Homes of the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania to enter the lists with them in competition for producing to the public the wonders of science, literature and art.

On Tuesday evening, May 5th, the Mount Joy Choral Society, a musical organization of which any community could well be proud, composed of fifty-five voices, with their able conductor, Mr. Paul E. Beck of Litzitz, their accompanist, Miss Miriam Engle and Myers' Orchestra of Lancaster, kindly came to the Homes and in a finished artistic manner, rendered the beautiful cantata, "David the Shepherd Boy."

The great dining room had been prepared for the first time to stage an entertainment, and when this large body of musicians, composed of the best citizenship and society of Mount Joy, were grouped in tiers at the north end and the room filled to its capacity with an appreciative audience, it presented an inspiring sight, a fitting prelude to the grand volume of harmony which reverberated thru the grand baronial hall with the opening chorus.

The solo parts were all rendered with an excellence which defies criticism and were sung by Miss Mary B. Detwiler, Miss Emma Brown, Miss Ruth Stoll, Mr. P. Frank Schock, Mr. Ray Engle, Dr. W. R. Hellig, Mr. Eli Bentzel and Dr. E. W. Garber. The chorus was well balanced, of great volume and beauty, and the perfection of action attests to the mastery ability of conductor Beck.

It was a most kind and graceful thing for our Mount Joy friends to do for the guests of the Homes, and we know it was an unpurchasable tribute. They can rest assured their kindness is as deeply appreciated as their music was enjoyed.

At the conclusion of the program, Supt. N. Franklin Heckler gave expression to the deep sense of gratitude and appreciation of the management and guests for this magnificent entertainment and in token of the same, a rising vote of thanks was tendered.

THE GRAIN MARKET

The bulls in wheat are steadily gaining ground. The position of the bears at the close of change on Saturday was anything but favorable. Shorts continued to cover their outstanding obligations and there was an excellent demand from investors as well. Reports of damage by Hessian fly continue to pour in. The best crop experts in the Southwest have reported losses from the insects, which are now found in such large numbers in the winter wheat belt. The insect reports which have been received have caused a general re-awakening and shakeup of the speculative wheat markets.

The common houses here believe that while there will be some deterioration because of insect invasion the crop of wheat will more than likely turn out to be a bumper affair. Oklahoma is placed as high as 50,000,000 bushels and Kansas at 150,000,000 bushels with some estimates much above these figures.

With hot weather in Argentina and with the corn now held there more or less damaged by the recent rains, the outlook for deliveries on contracts in this country as well as in Europe from the grain grown in Argentina is anything but favorable. Messages were received here from New York saying that exporters were endeavoring to cancel June sales of corn in both America and England. Planting of corn in the United States is believed to be pretty well along. May oats have continued to show more strength than the other futures because of shorts covering from day to day. The Chicago stocks are still decreasing and the visible supply is growing smaller and smaller. While the cash business may be called fair, it is likely to improve as the oats raised in this country has the call over the Canadian.

Men's Bible Class Met

FEEBLE OLD PEOPLE

Are Told How to Regain Strength and Vigor.

As one grows old the waste of the system becomes more rapid than repair, the organs act more slowly and less effectively than in youth, the circulation is poor, the blood thin and digestion weak.

Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic without oil is the ideal strengthener and body-builder for old folks, for it contains the very elements needed to rebuild wasting tissues and replace weakness with strength. Vinol also fortifies the system against colds and thus prevents pneumonia.

Mrs. Mary Ivey, of Columbus, Ga., says: "If people only knew the good Vinol does old people, I am sure you would be unable to supply the demand. I never took anything before that did me so much good as Vinol. It is the finest tonic and strength creator I ever used in my life."

If Vinol fails to build up the feeble, old people, and create strength we will return your money.

The Last Week Of The Great MILLINERY SALE

Will bring forth values far greater than any ever offered before.

So extensive and so mighty was the purchase that it was impossible to exhibit all of it at one time.

We were thus forced to keep portions of it back and from time to time bring them out.

For the last week of this wonderful sale the choicest and best parts have been reserved.

This Saturday—May 23, the remainder of the purchase which is very large itself, will be present at prices that will be the "Talk of the Town." It is not necessary to say more.
