

Use Pyrox And Get Quality

To get "quality" in fruits and vegetables, after cultivation has had its due attention, is a matter greatly dependent upon proper spraying.

Spraying with Pyrox will give you the kind of fruit and vegetables you want for your customers—the kind that will tempt them to buy and tempt them to eat.

Pyrox kills practically all leaf-eating insects, destroys fungous growths, scab, rot, etc.

It insures the crop as far as it is possible to insure it by spraying; and fifteen more perfect apples on the tree will pay for all the Pyrox needed for a large apple-tree.

What is true of apples is true also of potatoes; a better potato, such as follows the use of Pyrox, is easier to sell, as a rule brings a higher price, and by tempting the user to consume more, really makes a larger market.

Pyrox protects the potato crop from both bugs and blight; it improves the yield of the crop and the value of it. It is economical because it is effective in its double purpose and because it sticks so well to the vines as to make respraying on account of rain unnecessary.

Pyrox For Stone Fruits

For destroying all leaf-eating insects, as well as for preventing and checking brown rot, peach leaf-curl, plum curculio, cherry leaf-blight and plum leaf-blight, Pyrox has given the greatest satisfaction to our customers.

Pyrox For Small Fruits, Grapes, Etc.

Pyrox kills all the leaf-eating insects that affect the grape, and prevents black rot, brown rot and other fungous diseases. This one preparation serves the purposes for which double applications have been used, and has done so for fifteen years. Pyrox is no experiment; remember, it was introduced in 1898.

Come in and let us tell you more about PYROX.

17-YEAR LOCUST DUE AGAIN

Expected to Make its Appearance in Three Counties of State

Washington, D. C.—Brood 5 of the periodical cicada, commonly known as the seventeen-year locust, is expected to make its reappearance in Ohio, West Virginia and Pennsylvania early in June. This is the territory which brood 5 of these insects visited in the summer of 1898.

The insect when it appears, causes considerable damage to newly-planted orchards and shade trees in this territory. The scientists of the Bureau of Entomology of the Department of Agriculture are, therefore, watching this territory, where the insect is due to reappear, with a view to minimizing its damage.

The locust is due to appear in Fayette, Greene and Washington counties in Pennsylvania.

Struck by a Train

he heard the rumbling noise made by the horse that was hanging on the cow-catcher.

Mr. Seachrist was thrown fifty feet from the crossing and killed instantly. His skull was torn open and the brains strewn along the track. His right arm was crushed and his neck broken.

The deceased had lately been in failing health, which was aggravated by worry over the condition of his son-in-law, B. O. Musser, who had been at the General Hospital for some time. Mr. Musser had been critically ill, but at present is well on the road to recovery.

Witnesses of Accident

There were several witnesses to the accident, one of them being Mrs. Joseph Brown, who lives a half-mile away from that point. She was going to the trolley and was about 100 feet from the accident, and saw the train strike the team and dash Mr. Seachrist to his death.

There were also two other witnesses—Amos Arndt and Ernest King, of Florin, employes of Section Foreman Arndt. Those who were early on the scene of the accident picked up bits of wagon and harness nearly a mile away from the crossing.

The Inquest

Deputy Coroner Dillinger was at once notified, and with his physician, Dr. J. J. Newpher, took charge of the
