EDITORIAL
The relation that the newspaper should bear to the merchant or that the merchant should bear to the newspaper, can be expressed in one word. That one word which to us represents the ideal relationship between newspaper and mercantile endeavor and endeavors is "co-operation."

The newspaper is to the merchant what the secretary is to the chamber of commerce. It's his publicity department—his means of letting the people know that he is on earth; that he is right here in town; and that one of the main reasons for his being here was to meet you and see if he could help you overcome those high-cost-of-living obstacles. A newspaper is to the town what the brass band is to the circus. Of course the circus with no band at all is not worthy of mention. And if the band is punk, the performance is apt to be punk. A good newspaper will make successful merchants; good merchants will make a successful newspaper, and the combination cannot help but make a good live town. Once in a while you run across a merchant who looks upon patronage given to the town newspapers as an act of charity. Charity does not manifest itself in this manner.

The merchant tells each one of the readers of the newspaper the good things they have been missing by not calling round at this place of business, then reach the results. Furthermore, if you know a news item, or become possessed of the inspiration which you think might rebound to the public good—tell it to the newspaper man. Don't bury it in your own breast, let your newspaper distribute it where it will do the most good. Co-operate.

A Pure Olive Oil

brand of Olive Oil is the first pressing of carefully selected Italian Olives. This first pressing yields the virgin oil, the very best, the only kind ever put in containers bearing the OLIVESE trademark. The old Italian method is conceded to be far superior to modern methods, and olive oil so prepared will actually improve with age. OLIVESE comes direct—canned in Italy—from the old Italian orchards and is prepared by the old methods.

If you do not find OLIVESE to be of the highest possible quality—or if for any reason you do not find it entirely satisfactory—you may have your money back without question.

A delightful scene for some one interested in tobacco plants when they witness the large amount of plants for sale at the Rheems green house ready for planting. Variously narrow seed leaf.
A concentration of painting gangs struck this place last Monday morning when J. G. Loraw started on the A. S. Bard double house. Zerphy gang from near Horst's Mill on the E. R. Dougherty house.
The agricultural boom has struck this vicinity. W. S. Helsey candidate for state legislature, has a gang plow and hired teams busily engaged preparing his farms for the planting of 70 or 75 acres with corn.
Two distinguished young men, Scott Smith a school teacher, Sylvester Shank a store clerk, left their homes for the wild west last Tuesday. Their first stop will be St. Paul, Minn., their destination may be California. We all join hands wishing them a success.
The West Donegal township supervisors are experimenting on the roads by attacking the massive traction engine to the road scraper, using it instead of horses. They have a steering apparatus connected on the tongue of the scraper making it work quite successful. George Floyd has charge of the scraper.

RAN AMUCK WITH KNIFE
Billmyer Thrown Into Excitement by a Cutting Affair
The little town of Billmyer was thrown into a state of excitement Sunday again, when a cutting affray took place, and another man was chased by a man named John Webb, who threatened to cut "out the heart of his companions." A man named John Webb, who claims he came from the State of Tennessee, was given employment at the quarries about three weeks ago, and that day with a number of friends began to have a good time in order to celebrate the holiday. Threats after that were made, and finally Webb a man named Williams, 45 years of age, who had been at the quarries for some time. Not satisfied with cutting Williams, he chased the colored fellow whose name he did not learn. When he returned and found Williams bleeding badly, having cut him on the left side of the face with a razor, inflicting a gash nearly four inches in length, directly under the eye down the cheek to the skin, and almost through the cheek, he said he was sorry that he did not cut off his head. The man was captured and held fast and officers notified.

Constable Collins first intended to take the man to Columbia, as Justice of the Peace Fry was not at home, and had to have commitment papers and when he was driving towards Marietta he met Mr. Fry coming home and he returned and got the necessary papers and then Constable Collins took his man to Lancaster jail from Marietta by trolley. He will be brought to the office of Squire Fry early in the week and given a hearing. Meanwhile the condition of the man's injuries can be fully determined. Dr. J. C. Stevens of Bainbridge, the physician of the J. E. Baker company, was summoned, and it required ten stitches to close the wound, the man being very weak from the loss of blood. The charge is disorderly conduct and cutting with intent to kill against Webb.

That's a Good Stunt
The Keystone National Bank at Manheim, has mileage books that it loans out for a very small percentage and at that makes good interest on its money. What would be the matter with one of our local banks doing the same?

Changed the Date
The date of the social by the Ladies' Aid Society of the Lutheran Church has been changed from June 4 to Saturday, June 6. It will be held at the home of Mr. P. Frank Shireman on Thursday, June 6.

Leg Cut Off
Addison Rott, a telegraph operator for the Pennsylvania Railroad, residing at Middletown, in company with his father, visited the cemetery at Elizabethtown on Saturday, Decoration Day, having a brother buried there. On his return home he was at Elizabethtown station to take train No. 51, leaving Lancaster at 10:20 a. m., and was in conversation with his father and did not board the train until it had started away from the depot. In getting on he was struck by the express stand and knocked off and his right leg falling across the rail was run over and cut off, just below the knee.

Nurseryman Engle Injured by Explosion of Dynamite
John G. Engle, of East Donegal township, proprietor of the Engle nurseries, west of Marietta, and one of the most prominent Grand Army men in Lancaster county, made a very narrow escape Friday morning from being killed. Mr. Engle was burning some rubbish about the place, being desirous of participating in the Memorial day service Saturday, and was in a hurry to have things clean for Sunday, when there was an explosion, the contents of which struck him on the forehead just above both eyes. He became very dizzy and putting his hands to his forehead noticed blood was coming from the wound. He hurried to the house and washed the wound as good as he could and then was taken to Marietta to the office of Dr. H. A. Mowery, Market street, who dressed the injuries.
Mr. Engle suffered considerable pain from the injury. It is supposed that the explosion was caused by dynamite left along the road when improvements were made some time ago.
