SPECIAL TO WOMEN

The most economical, cleansing and germicidal of all antiseptics is

Paxtine

A soluble Antiseptic Powder to be dissolved in water as needed. As a medicinal antiseptic for douches in treating catarrh, inflammation or ulceration of nose, throat, and that caused by feminine ill health. For ten years the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. has recommended Paxtine in their private correspondence with women, which proves its superiority. Women who have been cured say it is "worth its weight in gold." At drugists, 50c. large box, or by mail, the Paxton Toilet Co., Boston, Mass.

WOMAN COULD HARDLY STAND

Because of Terrible Backache. Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I suffered from displacement and inflammation, and had such pains in my sides, and terrible backache so that I could hardly stand. I took six bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and now I can do any amount of work, sleep good, eat good, and don't have a bit of trouble. I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to every suffering woman."—Mrs. HARRY FISHER, 1426 Juniata Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

Another Woman's Case.

Providence, R. I.—"I cannot speak too highly of your Vegetable Compound as it has done wonders for me and I would not be without it. I had a displacement, bearing down, and backache, until I could hardly stand and was thoroughly run down when I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helped me and I am in the best of health at present. I work in a factory all day long besides doing my household work so you can see what it has done for me. I give you permission to publish my name and I speak of your Vegetable Compound to many of my friends."—Mrs. ABRAHAM LAWSON, 126 Lippitt St., Providence, R. I.

Danger Signals to Women

are what one physician called backache, headache, nervousness, and the blues. In many cases they are symptoms of some female derangement or an inflammatory, ulcerative condition, which may be overcome by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Thousands of American women willingly testify to its virtue.

Elizabethtown College Notes

The busy days of the spring term of 1914 at Elizabethtown College are almost over. Final examinations have begun and the regular class work will close at noon on Wednesday, June 10th.

Masonic Home News

One of the pleasant privileges that comes to the scribe of Masonic Home Notes is that of recording evidences of interest manifested by the Lodges of our order in the Homes.

The opportunity presents itself at this time, to pay tribute to two Lodges whose efforts in our behalf project them into the lime light of our records.

With pleasure we name Ashara Lodge, No. 398 of Marietta, and Caspilia Lodge, No. 551 of Mount Joy, as entitled to grateful distinction at this time.

The Sunday religious services of the Homes has become an important feature and is attracting a marked degree of interest. In conformance with Masonic principle, these services are unadorned, all creeds appearing equally good to us; hence eminent Divines of the various denominations are heard and a conscience that is influenced by sectarian creed suffers no violence.

Lodges throughout that portion of the jurisdiction of the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania, known as District No. 1, which comprises all the Masonic Lodges of Lancaster County, have become interested in these services and a number of them have been making pilgrimages to the Homes on Sundays, bringing with them, besides members of the Lodge and their friends and families, a prominent clergyman of their locality, and such musical talent and facilities as they possess.

Sunday, June 7, 1914 found Ashara Lodge, No. 398 of Marietta in charge of these services. Forty members of the Lodge, accompanied by their families; Rev. Edward F. Reimer, Pastor of the Presbyterian Church of Marietta; an excellent orchestra; and a double quartet of male singers, in all about one hundred people, journeyed to the Homes for that purpose.

Ideal summer weather greeted the visitors and hailed our neighbors, so that a congregation of three or four hundred persons assembled to give inspiration to, and receive benefit from the occasion.

Music was a dominant feature of the services and being unusually fine, was much enjoyed by all.

The sermon was a scholarly one, and in beautiful language was an edify of the Heavenly Home. The following was the order of worship: Orchestra Prelude, The Holy City; Doxology; Invocation, Lord's Prayer; Hymn; Reading of Scripture; Prayers; Double Male Quartet, There is a Blessed Home; Vocal Solo, Jerusalem, Miss Mary Schock, Mt. Joy; Sermon, Jerusalem the Golden, Rev. Edward F. Reimer; Prayer; Interlude, Orchestra; Double Quartet, Hark! Hark! My Soul! Angelic songs are swelling; Solo, Come Jesus Redeemer, Miss Mary Schock; Hymn; Orchestra Postlude; Benediction. The services were followed by a short sacred concert by the orchestra, when the members of Ashara Lodge and their friends departed, bearing with them the grateful thanks of the management and Guests of the Homes.

Caspilia Lodge, No. 551 of Mount Joy is the other Lodge that has placed us under obligations at this time, nor is this by any means the first time we have had to acknowledge their interest and kindness to the Homes. Twice within one week they journeyed to the Homes to perform that sacred Masonic duty, to bury the dead.

On June 1st, they interred the body of Brother T. Frank King, with Masonic Ceremonies at the request of St. John's Lodge, No. 260 of Carlisle, Pa., and on June 5th, they performed the same services for Brother William S. Baude, at the request of Washington Lodge, No. 59 of Philadelphia, Pa.

On June 2nd, 1914, the death of Brother William S. Baude occurred at the Homes. Brother Baude was born July 12, 1851 at Philadelphia, where he resided for 61 years, and was employed as shipping clerk. He was made a Mason on March 11, 1880 in Washington Lodge, No. 59; admitted to the Masonic Homes January 25, 1914 and died June 2, 1914. He is survived by his brother Joseph H. Baude of Philadelphia and his sister Miss Adie P. Baude, a guest of the Homes. Funeral services were held on June 5, 1914 by Rev. I. N. Seldomridge of Elizabethtown, with interment in the Masonic Home cemetery, with Masonic Ceremonies by Caspilia Lodge, No. 59.

The week's visit to the Homes of Rev. Joseph Speers D. D. of Wilkesburg, Pa., terminated on Wednesday, to the regret of all. Dr. Speers' visit was a great pleasure, aid and comfort to the Homes. His illustrated lectures, Sunday religious services, house services, services at Opening of Children's Home, Memorial Day services, comfort to the sick, his lovable personality and sympathetic companionship endeared him to all, making his stay a welcome pleasure and his departure one of regret.

Our Grand Master is on the Ocean. We wish him "Bon Voyage," and a full measure of benefit from his European vacation. We will miss him and his masterly management, but he has left his Home work in the competent hands of an Executive Committee composed of Brother Edward Patton of Philadelphia, William M. Donaldson of Harrisburg, Andrew H. Horshey of Lancaster, and Harry C. Schock of Mount Joy.

With great pleasure we chronicle the name of Brother Harry C. Schock as a member of the Committee on Masonic Homes of the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania. No member of the Fraternity, unconnected with the Homes management has manifested more interest in, and devotion to the Homes than has Brother Schock. That he will make a very useful member of the Committee, will be attested by all who know him.

We congratulate the Grand Master on his appointment; the Committee on the honor conferred upon it by this appointment of its esteemed Past Master and Treasurer.

That there will be something doing about the Homes this Summer and Fall may be surmised from the fact that the contract for the large Darn Cottage has been let, work to begin immediately. The contract for the Berks County House will follow in a few days, and the cornerstone of both will be laid by the Grand Master on his return from Europe, in September.

In addition to the erection of these two cottages, appropriation has been made for the erection of a model dairy barn, model piggery, ten poultry laying houses, granary and store-room, two silos, a full herd of Ayrshire cattle and an increase of poultry stock to 1500 laying hens.

HOME HEALTH CLUB

By Dr. David H. Reeder, Chicago, Ill.

CHRONICS:—(Written for Home Health Club by H. Lindlahr, M. D.)

"Yes, Nature Cure is all right, but it takes so long," almost daily we hear this or similar expressions. Our answer is, "No, it does not take long. It is the swiftest cure in existence." The trouble is that in sanitarian work we do not, as a rule, receive any but the most advanced cases of so-called incurable disease. While people have the least particle of faith in the medicine bottle, the knife or a metaphysical formula, they do not turn to nature. The methods necessitate personal effort, self-control, the changing of cherished habits; these are things which every one of us evades as long as he can. "No meat, no coffee, the cold 'blitz-guss'!" I'd rather die!"

The most dreaded terror on the "threshold" seems to be cold water. Undoubtedly, it has kept thousands away from natural treatment and, thereby, from the only possible cure for their chronic ailments. If we could, without heroic methods of treatment still achieve the same results, the sidewalks leading to nature cure institutions would be lined with people. After all, this foolish fear is entirely groundless. The cold water is no more to be feared than baby's "Doggie Man." It is one of our fundamental principles of treatment never to do anything that is painful to the patient. We always temper the wind to the shorn lamb, the water and the manipulations to the sensitiveness and endurance of the subject. Beginning with mild, alternating warm and cool sprays, which are pleasant and agreeable, we gradually accentuate force and temperature until the cold "blitz-guss" becomes delightful, a positive luxury.

It is amusing to watch the extraordinary change in attitude of the patients towards the cold water treatment. Many times we have had to spend hours on earnest persuasion in order to induce a patient to try the first mild spray. A few weeks later, possibly something interfered and refuse to take any treatment whatever, if there was to be no cold water. There certainly is no finer tonic than water, no more delightful sensation than that produced by artistic alternating douches and "blitz." The real cause of this cold water scare arises, we believe, from the boasting of the veterans. When, with protruding chest and elevated chin they boastingly tell their friends of their heroism and of the sangfroid with which they allow the cold hose to be turned on them, the listeners shudder and exclaim. This cold water may be all right for you, but it would never do for me. It is doubtless this bravado of the initiates which keeps many a novice from the first plunge into the mysteries of Nature Cure. If the cowards only know what they missed.

From a business point of view it would be better to leave out the cold water altogether, and it would be much easier, but the rugged honesty which accompanies German Nature Cure has impelled its followers to insist upon giving the whole truth and nothing but the truth, everything that is of benefit to the patient and helpful in making a real cure.

The mode of treatment will depend upon the object to be accomplished. If it is to make the patient feel better, with the least possible expenditure of time, money, personal effort and self-control, than manipulations or metaphysical formulas may be sufficient of themselves, but if the object is to actually cure deep-seated chronic diseases, it will require all methods of natural treatment, intelligently combined, and adapted to the individual case, in order to accomplish results.

Cutting off their heads does not kill the weeds. The first improvement in the treatment of chronic disease is not a cure. An abatement of symptoms is therefore, not always a permanent cure, the latter depends entirely on the elimination of the inner hereditary and acquired constitutional taints and poisons.

When, under the influence of natural living and treatment, the body of the chronic becomes sufficiently purified and strengthened, there arrives a period of marked improvement. All symptoms gradually abate, the patient gains in strength, both physically and mentally, he feels as though there was nothing the matter with him any more.

New Auto Regulations in Lancaster

The police of Lancaster are trying to break up the practice of motorists allowing their machines to stand on the streets in the centre of the city for an undue length of time. For some time past the traffic officers have been taking the numbers of machines which stood over fifteen minutes and the owners were notified. This practice of thoughtless owners of machines not only interferes with the movement of traffic but constitutes a danger to the machine allowed to stand as it is in constant danger of being struck by passing traffic. President Wolf of the Lancaster Automobile Club is co-operating with the police in the effort to eliminate the practice.

Want Road Reopened

The vacating of a road in West Donegal in 1910, when the Masonic Home was established, caused inconvenience to many people there, some of whom are obliged to travel two miles farther than of old in order to reach Elizabethtown. Upon petition to court for a reopening of the road, court viewers were appointed. They held their first meeting on Tuesday at the court house. It was attended by a hundred or more people interested, and another meeting will be held July 24th.

A Veteran Teacher

With the exception of two members of the Lancaster pedagogical force, A. E. Jacoby of Elizabethtown is the oldest teacher in Lancaster county; but he has decided to let some one else bear that distinction next year, and gives up the work of schoolmaster. Mr. Jacoby began his teaching in 1869, in West Earl township.
