Visited by Thieves Rascals Are Operating Quite Extensively in the Rural Districts Recently the residence of Mr. F. S. Weidman was visited by thieves who succeeded in making a clean getaway. They forced a window some time during the night and stole a pair of gold spectacles, three dollars in money, a lot of soap, tobacco, one ham, bread and other eatables. The theft was not discovered until the next morning.

Very bold thieves operated on the Good farm, tenanted by Mr. Frank Brosey, the other afternoon. The family was busy in the tobacco field when they noticed several men making a hasty retreat from the house. An investigation showed that they had stolen a lot of canned fruit, 9 quarts of cherries, a lot of eggs and other eatables. There is no clue to the robbers as they succeeded in making a clean getaway.

New Physicians on Duty The newly appointed internes of the Lancaster General Hospital are Dr. Winfred H. Daniels of Jefferson Medical College; Dr. W. M. Emerick of Johns Hopkins, of Baltimore, Md.; Dr. Ralph B. Leidy of Jefferson Medical College, and Dr. John L. Spangler, of University of Pennsylvania. Dr. John W. Cressler has finished his one year interne duty and has been given a diploma of proficiency by the board of directors of the hospital.

Thieves Busy at Marietta Robbers broke into the summer house of J. C. Goss on the E. S. Kelper farm, several miles above Marietta, in Conoy township, and stole a large number of eatables, including sausage, ham and other smoked meats. The entrance was gained by cutting out a screened window.

Fell From Cherry Tree While F. L. Root was engaged in picking cherries at his home in Elizabethtown, he missed his footing and fell to the ground, a distance of twenty-five feet, badly spraining his back. Dr. A. C. Trechler rendered medical attention.

MR. MAN

You certainly have my sympathy when you have tire trouble. I know exactly what that means, as I had my share of it. But now it's

No More Tire Trouble

For mine. My practical experience—nearly 6,000 miles over the roads of Lancaster, Lebanon, Dauphin, Franklin, and Juniata Counties with a heavy touring car and never stopped a second for tire trouble. Doesn't that listen good?

I Use Bettern-Air

This is a filler placed in a tire instead of inner tubes. It rides easier, makes blowouts and punctures impossible and makes your tires wear longer. If interested, write, phone or call on
