Celebration at Maytown Pay Homage to Their Teacher of Long Ago.

The Former Pupils of Prof. H. T. Albert, '61-77, Gathered at Maytown Saturday Evening and Held First Celebration of Its Kind in the County

Maytown, Aug. 22—For the first time in the history of Lancaster County was there such a celebration as was held to-night in the Band Hall here, which auditorium was filled to overflowing with people of all ages and especially those who had come to pay homage to their former teachers, Dr. John Beschler and Professor H. T. Albert, who taught in the days of 1861-1877. The stage was artistically decorated with potted plants and cut flowers and on the stage were seated the officers of the association, the members of the choir who lead in the singing, the organist, Mrs. Isaac Carpenter and a number of others who took part in the exercises. The members of the school board of East Donegal were present and occupied front seats in the auditorium, consisting of Abram Grove, Amos F. Eby, C. C. Keiser and S. S. Kraybill. The other member of the board, M. R. Hoffman, was away from home, which prevented him from being present. The instigator of this celebration was William H. Clepper, who was elected secretary and sad to say was laid to rest this afternoon, his heart being in the work so fully that the postponement of the exercises was at first thought of, but the family suggested and knew that Mr. Clepper wished it to go on had he lived and been able to attend. Promptly at 8 o'clock James F. Johnston, the president, called the meeting to order and the audience sang "All Together." The songs used tonight were the ones sung during the school days of these instructors, and which copies of the same had been kept by a number of pupils. Immediately after the singing, the Rev. E. E. Kauffman pastor of the Church of God, gave the invocation; music, "Rain On the Roof;" music, John Brooks and two cornets. Mr. Brooks re-

1861; a letter was read at this point by Miss Culp from James B. Albert, a former pupil; music, "Silently Falling the Snow" five minute talks by ex-pupils was headed by Daniel G. Engle, class of 1865, to which a number responded. Mrs. Johnston, the past speaker, related a number of incidents relative to the visit those days of the country superintendent, concluding with a verse of poetry composed by one of his schoolmates, which brought much laughter from the audience; music, "Blue Juniata," by Billy Boy; music, John Brooks and children on cornets; presentation to the East Donegal School District of the portraits, by Miss Rose Shuman, who in a few well-chosen remarks caused he unveiling of the "old seniors" work had been finished and hoped that they would be put to the proper use and would be highly appreciated; acceptance of pictures by George B. Wilson of Lancaster, a former pupil, as none of the present board were scholars, who had been chosen by the board to receive these large and excellent photographs as tokens of esteem and efficient work on part of the instructors and hoped that East Donegal township, which has a record for high maintenance in schools would continue which is a credit to the county of Lancaster. He related many incidents in the course of his remarks and told of how the committee had worked and through the co-operation of the former graduates was this so successfully carried through tonight. He took great pleasure in having the honor to accept these pictures which belong on the walls of the Central High School adjacent to the portraits of such men as Thaddeus Stevens, Thomas H. Burrowes and others. At the close he was loudly applauded; music, "Shall We Meet Beyond the River;" at this point the address of William H. Clepper, the secretary was read by Miss Bessie C. Johnston and it embodied a number of suggestions for the welfare of the community in general. Among them was that the writer felt that the Alumni Association complete his before he takes his long journey from which no man returns, in preference to a carload of flowers after his demise, which he knows that the aged teacher and instructor will highly enjoy and give him comfort in his last days."

Professor John H. Stehman, one of the pupils is now in Avondale, Chicago, having under his charge thirty-three teachers and nearly four thousand pupils and highly praised the work and instruction given him by Professor Albert, when he went to the little brick school house on the hill.

Altoona, Lancaster, Harrisburg, Marietta, Maytown, Bainbridge and other places were represented at the exercises. It was an impressive spectacle to look over the assemblage and see the gray-haired and aged scholars answer in response to their names when called. As the annual reunion of the Maytown Alumni Association was held today at Accomac there were present many members of the Alma Mater who took advantage of both events and some will on Monday begin their work in teaching schools in various sections of the state and left late tonight for their homes, wanting to be present at the memorial exercises, so they could return and tell their scholars the work done here tonight. Little it was thought when the matter was suggested by Mr. Clepper that it would turn out to be such a grand and decided success.

Why Not Tag Pennsylvania Bachelors?

A great many State legislatures have given consideration to bills taxing bachelors and many convincing arguments have been presented why men who escape matrimony should pay a penalty, but why not tag them as a more painless and effective method of extermination? If the bachelors were tagged the widows could easily find them and Cupid would do the rest. The bachelor is naturally timid, but under the encouraging influences of a merry widow he can easily be led to the altar for there is no more helpless craft afloat than a lovesick swain who has passed the age of discretion and the little imp that plays ping-pong with human hearts has no more capable ally than a woman who loves at second sight, for experience makes Cupid subtle and bold.

The women have tag days to promote most every other public enterprise and why not a tag day for bachelors? We have in Pennsylvania approximately a quarter of a million bachelors and an equal number of
