THE LUGGAGE SHOP
THE SQUARE

On Monday evening both teams lined up again in a very good contest. The Bethels were first to score, putting a runner across in the third. The Episcopal came back with two tallies in their half of the fourth, scoring with two men down on a pair of bad heaves. It was rather dark when the fifth round was started but in an endeavor to finish the game the Bethels went to bat. Two men were down and second and third were occupied. The batter had a strike and two balls when the umpire called the game on account of darkness. The score was then 2 to 1 in favor of the Episcopal. It was then decided to play the entire game off next Monday night. This will be the third attempt at playing this game.

Diamond Dust
Milley has a neat bunch of gentlemanly ball players. The first real argument of the season cropped out Monday night. That was some game between Landisville and Elizabethtown Saturday. George Brown is quite a twirler and was going nice until he was compelled to retire with a bad finger.

Schock played another good game at first, Saturday. That double play unassisted was a peach. Although Markley allowed but 7 hits and fanned 10 men, he lost a gainst Mountville at Lititz on Saturday 6 to 1.

The Hortings were surprised. They thought they would have a cinch with the local bunch but Jack had his mind changed.

The Bethels were sure tight on Monday night. On three different occasions the Episcopal had men on second and third and couldn't get them across.

Conrad succeeds Mr. Charles Cassel as manager of the Bethel team of the Church League. Charlie left his team in first place with a comfortable lead any way.

Wm. Ellis, the catcher on the Episcopal team, had his hand injured so severely in Monday night's game that he will not be able to play again this season.

"Dick" Brown was all there on right. He pulled down the Adams slowed up and then Ellis cut loose a hurricane of blows that his opponent thought it was raining boxing gloves. The Kid slipped over one of his sleep producers and the pride of York went down, was counted out and carried to his corner. A number of Ellis' friends accompanied him to York.

WHY MOUNT JOY MERCHANTS SHOULD ADVERTISE IN THE BULLETIN

Preaching vs. Practice

If one of your competitors were to "spring" an innovation in the way of a sale, a new matter of displaying merchandise—anything at all—

You would do the same thing just as soon as you could, if you considered it of value to your business. Why copy them in the small things and not in the big things?

The greatest business men are the warmest advocates of advertising.

The fact that they practice what they preach is the factor which made them the greatest business men.

Money spent in the Bulletin will be of far more benefit to you than a thousand times the same amount in the bank.

the kitchen and there was nothing for Milburn to do but establish the baby among the pillows on the couch while he made his toilet in as entertaining a manner as he could invent. He brushed his hair with free flourishes that won gurgles from the small on-locker, and he was rewarded by applause when he removed his shoes with kicks that sent them flying across the floor. When Mrs. Milburn came to say that dinner was ready she found the baby in a state of hilarity.

"You manage her better than anyone else," she declared.

"In other words, I'm the biggest monkey in the family." Milburn endeavored not to look proud.

"I'll take her now while you go down and look at the furnace. I think the fire needs a little coal before dinner."

"Where's Dagget? What do we keep a houseman for? Stoking isn't my—" "Now, you know you don't mind fixing the fire once in a while. I let Dagget go out to Nell's. She telephoned me this morning that the paper hangers had left her house in a fearful state and it's so hard to get anyone in the suburbs to do cleaning that I just sent Dagget out. I knew that he would be a great comfort to Nell."

"Oh, no doubt," remarked Milburn. After dinner when Milburn, with the baby in his arms, was dancing his own version of the tango in the kitchen while his wife washed the dishes, the telephone rang.

"I'll keep her while you answer," said Mrs. Milburn. When he returned, his peculiar expression made her ask: "Who was it?"

"Laura called up to know if the baby was good. She said Tom had asked her to go to the theater, and would we mind keeping the baby. Of course I said the pleasure was all ours, and then she said she wouldn't like to take the baby out in the middle of the night, and the only thing the baby would need was a bottle at three o'clock in the morning. Just a little bottle at 3 a. m., my dear. That's all."

"You needn't be so sarcastic. That won't be any bother at all. I shall have it on the radiator keeping warm and—"

"Even if it should be a bother, we won't mind, for it will be a kind of farewell celebration. Tomorrow we move to a hotel."

"Move to a hotel! Why, what can we do with the house?"

"Rent it, I suppose. Anyway we won't run it any longer as a help-supplying depot and emergency station."

"Why?"

"I meant it, my dear. Tomorrow we'll make a dash for freedom."

Bank Vault Goes Wrong

When the clerks in the First National Bank, Marietta, attempted to open the big vault on Tuesday morning they did not succeed as something had gone wrong with the combination. An expert was secured from Philadelphia and it was necessary to melt out the combination. This work was not accomplished until late Tuesday afternoon. While the officials were put to some inconvenience the
