Lumbia Hospital claimed Cornelius R. Jones, one of the best known citizens of Marietta. He was taken to the hospital about two weeks ago, where he underwent an operation in the hope of saving his life for cancer of the stomach. He had been ill for some time. Deceased was born in Kentucky and was fifty-two years old. He had resided in this section nearly thirty years. He was by profession a horse trainer and manager and had in his charge some of the fastest steeds in the country, including Paragon and at the time of his death owned some fast stock.

Men's League Met

The Men's League of Trinity Lutheran Church met at the home of Mr. Melvin Grove on Monday evening. After the regular business had been transacted, Rev. I. H. Kern gave a very interesting talk on the European War, also on the effect of war on the laboring man. The League presented Rev. Kern with a crucifix of ebony and gold, in honor of his birthday, and as a token of appreciation of the work he has done for the League. The presentation speech was made by President L. G. Dillinger, followed by a short address by C. A. Wiley. These members and their friends attended: Rev. I. H. Kern, Frank Gantz, Mr. Bishop, James Metzler, L. Percy Helling, William Hendrix, William Dillinger, Bysshe Hellig, Paul Dieter, Harry Hinkle, Charles DeLong, Levi Dillinger, C. A. Wiley, Melvin K. Grove, Christ Walters and Edgar Hagenberger.

How's This for Inventiveness?

Addison Martin of Mt. Joy township, has an automobile equipped with an extra shaft, driving pulley, etc. He can use his vehicle to run a threshing machine, a corn sheller or a circular saw, just as he chooses during the week, and on Sunday it takes the family to church.

Auto Turns Turtle

A big touring car was descending a steep grade at Oak Hill when suddenly the engine balked and the brakes wouldn't work. Down the hill backward and turned turtle at the bottom. Neither of the three occupants were injured.

Save Money & Work With This International Harvester Engine

Buy and use an I. H. C. tank-cooled engine, and before you have used it for long, you will have noted how many separate little sources of economy there are in its operation. I. H. C. engines are throttle-governed, keeping the regulation down very close to the exact power needed. Besides, as soon as an I. H. C. engine is stopped, fuel and attendance costs cease; and no time and fuel is lost in the starting. You will save much, too, because I. H. C. engines run on various fuels, the cheapest or most convenient. I. H. C. engines are simple in construction, easy to care for. Parts are easily removable. The dealer will not allow you to lose time waiting for a new part, if you should need one. There are many features of design, material and construction that it will interest you to know, because they mean economy and dependable operation.

When you are ready to examine an I. H. C. tank-cooled engine, the I. H. C. dealer will be ready to show you. He will give you a catalogue, or we will send you one if you drop us a card.
