

MOTHERS OF DELICATE CHILDREN

Should Read the Following Letter—Mrs. Slack's Story About Her Child's Recovery Is Entirely Reliable.

Palmyra, Pa.—"Three years ago my little girl had black measles which left her with a chronic cough and so awfully thin you could count all her ribs, and she coughed so much she had no appetite."

"Nothing we gave her seemed to help her at all until one day Mrs. Neibert told me how much good Vinol had done her little girl, so I decided to try it for my little one, and it has done her so much good she is hungry all the time, her cough is gone, she is stouter and more healthy in color and this is the first winter she has been able to play out in the snow, coasting and snow-balling without any ill effects."

VERY VALUABLE INFORMATION FOR THE FARMERS

Some Points About the Health of Hens—Raise the Good Heifer Calves—Colds and Roup Often Caused by Improper Housing—Other Notes

If the comb of the hen is plump and red, and the face and wattles of a bright color, it is a good sign that she is in health and laying condition.

If confined at such a time she will show great restlessness, wonderful activity and be full of business when at liberty. She will be on the alert at every sound or motion.

On the other hand, if the comb appears shriveled, or the edges of the comb and wattles are of a purplish red, she will be listless, sleepy and sluggish in her movements.

In such a case she is out of condition and is either sick or likely to be before very long.

In the purchase of cows for the dairy it is better to buy those that are about four years of age rather than younger.

By that time the real ability of the cow to produce milk will have manifested itself. In the six years following that age the cow will produce her maximum yield of milk and will produce the strongest and best calves.

Most good milkers conform more or less to the idea of the typical dairy cow having the great girth, big udders and an enormous capacity for food. The cow with the small paunch, small udder and heavy quarters is extremely unlikely to add much to the total milk production of anybody's herd.

The right kind of a cow has large nostrils and mouth, clean cut muzzle, clear bright eyes and shows every indication of good health. The cow that is nervous and fidgety usually is a poor milker.

Remember that most cases of colds and roup are incurred in the fall because the birds are not housed as early as they should be. Fowls are timid in new quarters and are prone to crowd and huddle together on the roosts and drop boards. In this way they become overheated at night only to be chilled when they separate in the morning. It is an excellent plan therefore, to house a few at first and as soon as they feel at home add a few more until the pen has received its capacity. It is an accepted fact that any change in location affects the laying stock, therefore in order to induce early laying the pullets should be put in permanent winter quarters two or three weeks before they are expected to mature.

It is surprising that so many farmers do not raise their good heifer calves. It must be that they do not know what a fine market there is for a good cow. Well bred grade heifers are bringing good prices and pure bred stock have a ready sale at what might be called high prices. In both cases the demand is greater than the supply.

There is another way to look at this matter; in the raising of these calves you find a good way to market your surplus feed. You can get a good price through this channel besides paying for your time and trouble. Figure out the cost of raising a good heifer calf on your farm, what kind of a price she will bring at two years and you will see the profit there is in it.

"The health standpoint is not the only one to be considered in the production of clean milk," says Prof. O. C. Cunningham of the College of Agriculture, Ohio State University, in a new extension bulletin. "Better and other dairy products of Ohio would be greatly increased in value if clean, good flavored milk and cream were always furnished creameries and cheese factories. The loss from poor raw material furnished to condenseries, city milk plants and ice cream factories is enormous. It is impossible to produce from poor raw material the best finished product for which the best price can be secured. To obtain this good raw product, dairymen must produce it under clean conditions and keep it clean and cold until it reaches the consumer or the factory. In this bulletin on the subject of 'The Production of Clean Milk,' Professor Cunningham has taken up the discussion of the bacteria of milk, how they get into it, how they may be kept out and how their multiplication is prevented."

A Horrible Death Richard Derrick, a former Lancaster hotel man, went squirrel hunting near his hotel at Herrville. While climbing over a fence a rail broke and he fell backward. His gun was discharged and the full load of shot entered his face. He died instantly. Deceased was in his 57th year.

For or Against

Another very important matter to consider is the fact that if we had the same number of rural students annually for only seven years, the tuition paid by them would alone pay for this proposed additional building. Last year the amount derived was $1,364.12 from fifty pupils. Does that listen badly?

Won't Increase Taxes Our School Board carefully considered every side of the question before it asked for the loan and found that it would not necessitate the raising of the school taxes a particle of a mill and it could at the same time pay off on this indebtedness annually. Under these conditions how can any property owner conscientiously oppose this loan?

On the other hand, we find after the visit of Prof. Becht, of the State Department of Schools of Harrisburg, who was here on Monday, that if this loan is defeated and the State authorities compel the directors to comply with the laws, (which they surely will) the Board must build an addition, do it at once and get the money by direct taxation. The State law however says that a tax levied for such a purpose may not exceed 25 mills.

Mr. Property Owner, how would you like that? Would you rather pay 25 mills than seven? Now these are facts and you can draw your own conclusion. You may say such a high tax rate never existed anywhere but we can cite actual occurrences and right here in our own State of Pennsylvania.

A Few Facts Just revolve this in your mind a little. The three most crowded rooms in the building have the least pupils. In the fourth grade there are 53 pupils, including one rural pupil; in the fifth grade there are 52 pupils and no outsiders; in the sixth grade there are 49 pupils, only three of which are from the rural districts. In other words, in the three most crowded rooms in the building, now accommodating 154 pupils, there are but four from out of town. That's our best evidence that the man who uses the argument of keeping outsiders out of our schools and then there will be plenty of room, really doesn't know what he is talking about. Kind reader, these are facts just as we found them in the various rooms on Monday, so you can now form your own conclusion.

How About Centralization The question has been asked: "How about centralization?" As long as present conditions exist, the time is far distant when the nearby townships will abandon all their present good school buildings (a number of which were built only within the past year) and centralize. This proposition is far more expensive than was at first thought as you can readily see from the few districts that are using that system.

To show that our schools are in demand we would just state that thus far eighteen "outsiders" have been applied for admission for the next term and we feel certain there will be more. Do you want to close the gates of our thriving town to these people? Most emphatically NO with a capital N.

How Badly We Need It Kind patron, have you ever visited our schools? If not we hope you will, and before you vote on that loan. Do you realize how large and roomy were the desks when we attended school? Now, visit our schools and in the recitation rooms you'll find a lot of pupils, some at the board while others sit and wait on their turn. When they are heard at their seats there is no desk room upon which to write. Nay, nay Pauline. There sit dozens of pupils with boards on their laps—stooping, crouching, bending over and almost breaking their backs, trying to write. Just picture that in your mind and for reality go and see for yourself. Then picture one or more of those children as your own.

Visiting Day Thursday So that everybody may be familiar with the present situation Prof. Roundbush will have visitors' day on Thursday afternoon and he invites everybody to come and visit the schools, see for themselves and then use their own judgment.

Mr. Renter To the man that lives in rent we would say: If you don't want your rent increased, vote for this loan but if you feel like paying a little more rent, help to knock it out.

We have now given all the facts obtainable, both pro and con. We have had our columns open for weeks to persons who cared to express opinions for or against and thus far not a line was penned relative thereto. The few objections we have heard thus far, either came from men who have no children, do not own property, or who do not have the welfare of our town and its people at heart. No good, conscientious, well thinking citizen, should or would oppose prosperity and when a man goes to the polls in Mt. Joy next Tuesday, it will not be a question of politics, but a vote for or against a bigger, better and first public school building.

If the attendance and enthusiasm at last night's fusion meeting indicates what the voters are at heart, "Pop" Raymond and his followers will have to hustle some next Tuesday to keep the Easton-Musselman-Hershey - Kraybill - Wiley - Keener-Barnhart gang from having a runaway match at the polls next Tuesday. A good crowd was present to hear speeches delivered by Jno. N. Herlick Esq., of Lancaster; Mr. Ezra Stoltzfus of Gap; Mr. Elias S. Garman of Denver and Mr. Daniel S. Engle of Marietta. The Citizens Band of Mount Joy, furnished the music.

An Appeal to the Citizens of Mt. Joy We, the members of the Mt. Joy A. M. E. Church, have been forced by reason of circumstance to make a special appeal to the people of this town and neighborhood, for aid in our effort to build our Church.

We have done the best we could trying to raise money to complete our building but we are now facing a grave proposition. We are on the brink of winter and unless we shall be able to complete our building before cold, freezing weather, great damage will be done to what we, through the help of our friends, have been able to accomplish. We use these columns to ask all those who can, to help us.

The members will be soliciting your help. This is a worthy cause. Please contribute something.

We wish to give credit to those who have already contributed one dollar or more and we are arranging with one of your good responsible men to receive what will come to us thru this source, and publish a weekly statement giving name and amount given. We hope the public will respond liberally.

Defeated at Lancaster Franklin and Marshall Academy Second team defeated the Mt. Joy Athletic Foot Ball club on Saturday by the score of 26 to 3. The Mount Joy team was greatly outwitted, but put up a stubborn resistance to the onslaughts of their heavier opponents. The work of Kid Ellis on the end for Mount Joy was of the brilliant sort. Time and again he slipped in and tackled his man for a big loss. Hartman, the Academy star fullback played centre for the Second team and was in every play. F. Garman dropped a neat goal from the field. The line-up:

F. & M. 2nd. Positions Mt. Joy. A. A. Schaffner ... left end ... W. Ellis McClean ... left tackle ... Morton Mitterling ... left guard ... Derr Hartman ... centre ... Zink Rieter ... right guard ...
