WHALING A LIVE INDUSTRY

Statistics Show That It Has Not Died, and Has Every Prospect of a Long Life.

Whaling today in the extreme southern waters is centered to a great extent in the Falkland Islands, due to the fact that a license is required by the British authorities of those islands for the privilege of operating in the South sea current, with the South Shetland Islands and Grahamland as bases. The Compañia Ballenera de Magallanes, a Chilean company, is the only whaling concern in this territory. Organized in 1905, it operates administrative offices in Punta Arenas, a trying-out station on the island of San Isidro in the Strait of Magellan, and a base of operations in the South sea current, licensed from the British authorities. The company opens its annual whaling season in the Strait of Magellan in October, with base at San Isidro, where it operates until December, in which month its floating station and three whaling boats steam to the South sea current, to remain until the season closes in March or April. The catch for the last year in the Southern seas was valued at about $245,000. Only occasional right and sperm whales are caught in the extreme southern waters, the usual classes taken being blue, humpback, fin, and sei whales. The whales when killed are brought alongside the floating station and there cut up and the sections tried out into oil. However, one of the Norwegian companies (Solverson's) is erecting a base on Deception Island adequate for trying out the whole whale.

Neat Way in Which Ikey Secured Silver Spoons Which His Companion Had Purloined.

Two gentlemen of the light-fingered fraternity, who were in the habit of dining at parties in hopes of picking up something, were one evening just in time to see the tables cleared; but Ikey, the smarter of the two, succeeded in purloining five silver forks, which he immediately pocketed, to the envy of Moses, his pal, who asked him to share.

During the evening Moses was asked to sing, but refused, saying he was no singer; but if they cared for a little conjuring trick he would entertain them for a few minutes.

The company was delighted, and Moses asked for five silver forks, which were soon brought. He then placed them in his inside breast pocket, and, gently tapping them three times, he exclaimed: "Presto! Fly! Change! Now, if someone will kindly look into my friend Ikey's inside breast pocket he will find them there."

A gentleman obliged, and Ikey, extremely flustered, produced the forks, to the great delight of the company—and Moses.

Unification of Time. The International Conference on the Unification of Time to secure its regular daily transmission to ships at sea and to a number of meteorological stations on land, held an important meeting at the Paris observatory recently. It was decided to create an international association, the statutes of which were drawn up. The association will be formed of delegates from all the participating governments, which at the present moment are 15 in number. The headquarters of the international time bureau are to be in Paris, and the expenses are to be borne by the various governments, those of countries of less than 5,000,000 inhabitants will subscribe an annual sum of $160, those between 5,000,000 and 10,000,000 are to subscribe a sum of $240, and those whose population is above 20,000,000 are to subscribe an annual sum of $400.

The signals are to be sent out at stated hours by wireless telegraphy, and all other useful information regarding the wind, the weather, movements of earthquakes, are also to be communicated from the bureau.

Japanese Female Costumes. A Japanese woman of fashion is by no means a drain on her husband's finances. The cost of her wearing apparel is very small indeed when compared to her sister of the Occident. She wears $13.80 worth of clothing under her kimono, the latter costing about $25. The obi costs another $25. Numerous tiny paraphernalia sum up to $17.25, and a set of footwear amounts to about $9. Combs and hairpins, ornamented with gems, cost $245; a shawl, $7.50; a diamond neck clasp, $150; a total of little more than $300 for a season. This is a very modest outlay when compared to the enormous cost of apparel for the woman of fashion in New York or Paris.

Scientific Bridge Building. Calgary Alberta, has recently solved a problem of bridge construction in a novel manner. The town lies on each side of the Bow river, that portion on the north bank being built on the high bluffs which border the river. To bridge the river on an incline to the top of the bluff would have been to neglect the portion of the city lying at the foot of the bluff. To make a deep cutting would have spoiled much of the property. The problem was solved by constructing a level bridge across the river, and then gaining the heights above by an inclined tunnel bored through the cliffs.

Commendable Brevity. The Hon. Brand Whitlock, who says that if he had the job of writing a city charter he would do it "on a small sheet of paper in a large hand," has evidently left far behind him his days when he worked on "space."—Philadelphia Inquirer.

CITY MAN'S IDEA OF FARMS

Intended Witticisms Will Be Amusing to Those Who Live in the Agricultural Districts.

Farms may be roughly divided into two kinds—the gentleman's or non-paying farm and the common or garden farm. When you have saved up enough money to keep you in your old age buy a farm. Besides getting rid of your money death will come as a welcome relief—thus you will accomplish a double purpose. The abandoned farm is a form of entertainment indulged in by many to whom fero, horse racing and Wall street are not exciting enough. Besides, just as in human beings, no matter how low an abandoned farm may have sunk there is always some good in it. To rehabilitate an abandoned farm and put it on its feet is a great pleasure. First, remove all the plumbing, replacing it with gold-plated pipes and a belt line of shower baths; after this has been finished will be time enough for you to imagine where the water-works are. You will usually find them pleasantly situated at the other side of the county seat. By going to the local political gang and carrying one or two elections you will eventually get a stream of water running into your pipes which will excite the envy of every one within reach of your megaphone.—Life.

WHY MOUNT JOY MERCHANTS SHOULD ADVERTISE IN THE BULLETIN

Let's See, What Was His Name? In 1908 we experienced a very lively contest for the Presidency and Vice Presidency.

No great discovery or catastrophe received more space in the public print than did the utterances, the goings and the comings of the four candidates representing the two great parties.

It would seem impossible for any one to forget the names of these men.

Can you name the candidate for the Vice Presidency on the ticket with Mr. Bryan? Oblivion is the price of silence. Mr. Bryan's name has been kept before the public. His running mate is forgotten.

Don't let the public forget you. Use the Bulletin.

SALE REGISTER A FREE notice of your sale is inserted here for any length of time, provided we print your sale bills. This is excellent advertising because it is read by so many people and a notice such as the following will surely bring the buyers:

Friday, Nov. 13—At the Farmers' Inn, Mount Joy, a carload of extra good, big rugged horses and colts by D. B. Kieffer & Co. Zeller, auct.

Saturday, Nov. 28—At Wittmer's Cross Keys Hotel, Marietta, 2 lots of ground in Marietta, each with 2-story frame dwellings by Mr. George Schoen, executor of the estate of Christopher Schoen and Margaret O'phlin. McElroy, Auct.

WHY MOUNT JOY MERCHANTS SHOULD ADVERTISE IN THE BULLETIN Preaching vs. Practice

If one of your competitors were to "spring" an innovation in the way of a sale, a new matter of displaying merchandise—anything at all—You would do the same thing just as soon as you could, if you considered it of value to your business.

Why copy them in the small things and not in the big things? The greatest business men are the warmest advocates of advertising.

The fact that they practice what they preach is the factor which made them the greatest business men.

Money spent in the Bulletin will be of far more benefit to you than a thousand times the same amount in the bank.
