MRS. MABEN WAS MADE WELL

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Wants Other Suffering Women To Know It.

Murfreesboro, Tenn. — "I have wanted to write to you for a long time to tell you what your wonderful remedies have done for me. I was a sufferer from female weakness and displacement and I would have such tired, worn out feelings, sick headaches and dizzy spells. Doctors did me no good so I tried the Lydia E. Pinkham Remedies — Vegetable Compound and Sensitive Wash. I am now well and strong and can do all my own work. I owe it all to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and want other suffering women to know about it." — Mrs. H. E. MABEN, 211 S. Spring, St., Murfreesboro, Tenn.

This famous remedy, the medicinal ingredients of which are derived from native roots and herbs, has for nearly forty years proved to be a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism. Women everywhere bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Why Lose Hope. No woman suffering from any form of female troubles should lose hope until she has given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (Confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

ARTIFICIAL LIGHTING

Little talks on Health & Hygiene by Samuel G. Dixon, M. D., LL. D.

The hours of our working days have been materially lengthened from what they were a century ago. Necessity being the mother of invention has made this possible by the evolution of our systems of artificial lighting.

It is a far cry from the tallow dip to the tungsten lamp. Reaping the benefits of the increased activities which have been made possible by the advancement of science in this direction it is imperative that every precaution should be taken to save our eyes from unnecessary strain and overwork.

The abundant and diffused illumination from day light is much easier upon the eyes than direct and concentrated artificial light as is commonly used. Therefore, it is desirable to secure the nearest possible approach to day-light. Clear globes should be dispensed with and frosted ones substituted in their place. The eyes unconsciously direct themselves toward glaring lights and a few hours work will result in considerable strain of the eyes.

For general illumination in churches, stores, lecture halls and hospitals reflected lights which cut off the direct rays from the vision seem to represent the most improved system thus far devised. For the work bench, reading, bookkeeping and similar occupations, the direct light shining from a frosted globe on the work and properly shaded to keep it from the eyes, is as yet unsurpassed. Workers and students should exercise all possible care in providing themselves with adequate light as it will result in greatly increased efficiency. Slight defects of sight are apt to become accentuated by the strain incidental to working in poorly lighted rooms.

Let Us Make This a Good Looking Town

If every man who reads this and every woman, too would make it his or her business, the next hour he or she has, to look around the home premises and see how they could be fixed up to look better it would be a great thing for this town. It might not include people to do any more than rake up the sticks that are lying around. That would be a great help alone. But maybe while raking up the loose leaves you would find there is a loose board in the sidewalk, a broken picket in the fence, that the corner of the porch has sagged or that the front steps need a new plank in them. And, as you would want to make a complete job of it, you would see that these reports are made. Maybe the house has needed a new coat of paint for a long time. Perhaps new curtains are needed at the front windows. And the inside of the house is quite as important as the outside, is more important, for it is on the inside you live and where visitors get their real impression of you and of the town. Maybe before you get through, if you will really look about you, there will be several things that can be made to look vastly better with the aid of a few boards or nails or a little varnish or a small expenditure of money. Collectively the effect on this town will be great. There is no economy in letting things run down and putting repairs off. A house that needs repairs is going down hill; and a house that is going down hill is losing value, value both in money and comfort. Let's make this a better looking town and let's begin, like charity, at home.

HOME HEALTH CLUB

By Dr. David H. Reeder, Chicago, Ill.

Necessity of Ventilation:—If we could live out of doors all of the time we would be a more healthy race of people than we are now. One can eat more without harmful results and can get along with less exercise. Badly ventilated rooms are the cause of much disease, more than you would think.

All races who lead an outdoor life are better off physically than we are. We humor our throats and lungs by bringing on many diseases by improper ventilation. Fresh air and sunlight are the greatest of our blessings. It is a pity they are so cheap. They are not half appreciated.

Make the chest flexible so as to be able to accommodate all the air the lungs can hold. Learn to breathe deeply. So many people, women especially, breathe from the vicinity of their collar bones. They do not know what it is to take a deep breath. Have every room in your house well ventilated, but particularly your bedroom where you spend so much of your time.

Do not ride in stuffy cars if you can help it. It is not always possible to stand on the platform of closed cars, but if the car is so crowded you cannot get inside you are lucky. The open cars of the spring, summer and fall are a delight. Never mind if you feel chilly. You can remedy that, just remember how much pure air you are getting for a nickel. Take deep breaths while you are sitting in the open cars; full your lungs full.

If you are so fortunate as to like me, confined to an office during your hours of labor, see to it that the room is well ventilated. Sometimes it is almost impossible. Often someone sits next to a window who is afraid of the least bit of fresh air and the windows are never raised. Insist upon having at least one window lowered from the top more if you can. See if you can get the "frigid cat" away from the window a few minutes while you air the room. Several times during the day open every window in the room for three minutes at least. That will freshen the room and give the lungs a good air bath. Don't be afraid of a little cold air.

It has come under my notice that many people never have a window open at night when they are sleeping. The air in that room in the morning is absolutely foul. A house-keeper took me through the rooms of a hotel one morning. Only about one-third of them had a window open during the night. The stench of the tightly closed rooms was something awful. Some were reeking with tobacco smoke; others smelled of liquor; some full of the odor of perspiration.

People are gradually educated along these lines, and pretty soon they will wake up to the fact that fresh air is absolutely necessary for health.

Wonderful results are being accomplished these days in the treatment of consumption by the fresh air cure. It is not always necessary to go to Arizona and California to get relief. Winter and summer find people who are suffering from tuberculosis staying out of doors, well wrapped up in winter, to be sure, in the cold states, but the cold air goes directly into the lungs, and it is said that tubercular germs cannot survive if the lungs are constantly filled with pure air. Of course, people who are very far along in consumption may not find a cure in fresh air or any kind of hygienic living, but in the first and middle stages tuberculosis can be cured by an outdoor life.

Living out of doors would be fine for us all, but as we are not fortunate enough to be able to do it, let us do the best we can and ventilate the room we are obliged to stay in and fill our lungs with fresh air every chance we get.

Conductors on street cars, policemen who spend most of their time on the streets, and farmers whose work keeps them out of doors about two-thirds of the time, are not always well by any means. It is true they get plenty of fresh air, but in other ways they do not live right. They eat improper food, or to much of it, do not chew their food well, are irregular in their sleeping, or in other habits, do not bathe enough and in a good many ways live out of harmony with nature's laws. In each case they would be worse off were it not for the fresh air they are getting.

WHY MOUNT JOY MERCHANTS SHOULD ADVERTISE IN THE BULLETIN

The amount you pay the publisher for advertising includes a great deal more than space. It covers careful composition, good printing, free delivery and reaches the reader in a form which assures attention. It reaches these people at the most opportune moment—when the cares of the day have been laid aside, when the reader sits down, leans comfortably back and spreads out the paper to learn what is going on. Reading of what is going on is done with the mind in a receptive state—the ideal time and the ideal condition in which to create desire. The Bulletin is the ideal medium to use in effecting that result.
