Birthday Parties

Masters Ward Backenstoe and Richard Zaeffel Entertain Their Friends

Friday evening, Dec. 4th, Master Ward Backenstoe gave a party to his little friends in honor of his eleventh birthday. The children gathered at seven o'clock and the fun began with a "Chestnut Hunt," a prize for the largest number found was given to Russel Brown. A guessing game called "Nuts to Crack" was won by Anna Brooks, who received a prize. After other games that children enjoy they all gathered around a table spread with lots of "good things." A large birthday cake decorated with little red roses that held eleven little red candles, adorned the centre of the table.

Other games followed and when the clock struck ten the children said goodnight and returned home with happy hearts.

Ward received quite a number of beautiful gifts. Those present were: Gilmour Schmaetle, Walter Thofe, Robert Keller, Bigler M. ma, Howard Lindemuth, Russel Brown, Wilmer Eberle, John McGann, Jean Thome, Beatrice Newcomer, Anna

Brooks, Dorothy Heilig, Lena Dillinger, Sarah Miller, Esther Garber, Mary Brown, Lillian Backenstoe, Miss Kathrine Aumiller, Miss Verna Chandler, Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Getz.

On Friday evening Master Richard Zaeffel, son of Mr. Albert Zaeffel, of the Exchange Hotel, entertained a number of his young friends at a party, the occasion being his twelfth birthday. Games were played, there was good music and refreshments were served. Mr. Zaeffel was the recipient of a number of presents from his guests. The following were present: Mr. and Mrs. Julius Bucher, Mrs. Edgar Spangler and two sons Max and Melvin, Mrs. Richard Bucher and daughter Lenchen, Miss Louisa Zaeffel, all of Harrisburg, and the following from this place: Ruth Conrad, Emma Kramer, May Hinkle, Sarah McGinnis, Beatrice Hawthorne, Barbara Heilig, Goldie Heilig, Clinton Eby, John Rahm, Miss Margaret Stokes and Mrs. Frank Conrad served and "Blondy" Millard assisted in entertaining the young folks.

there were rumors of counterfeiters, deserters, poultry thieves, and other suppositions. No one was the wiser, as the alleged lawbreaker was gone and the officers would not talk.

The mystery surrounding the two men who lived the bachelor life near Landisville, one of whom was arrested by State Troopers on Saturday, has been solved. The two men, Adam Seitzinger and Morris Zeigler, are wanted on many charges of stealing, which includes horse stealing, the theft of hen and turkey roosts, the larceny of potatoes, harness and many other things of value. Seitzinger was taken to Lebanon to answer to a charge of perjury. Zeigler escaped, but was later arrested at Ephrata by Constable Warner, who took him from a Reading train.

Constable Steigerwalt receiving word that Seitzinger had been arrested, at once got on the job and on the trail of Morris Zeigler, who could not be found. Having got wind that Zeigler was heading for Reading, he got in communication with Constable Warner of Ephrata, who stopped the Reading train and arrested Zeigler upon the description given him by Constable Steigerwalt. Constable Steigerwalt then went to Ephrata to secure his man and placed him in the county prison.

Constable Steigerwalt got in communication with the Lebanon authorities about Seitzinger's arrest, and was advised to come after his man Steigerwalt will go after his man in the next few days. Steigerwalt also received a detainer from Detective Peter McGovern, of Reading, for Seitzinger, who is wanted there for the stealing of a horse.

Seitzinger and Zeigler will have to answer to the charges of nine cases of larceny. Among the charges against them are: Stealing turkeys, potatoes and apples from John Stillinger, proprietor of the Black Horse Hotel; a set of harness and saddle from William Grosh.

J. Donald Cameron, at the ripe age of eighty-one years, is still enjoying comparatively good health on his ancestral estate at Donegal, says the Philadelphia Record. "Don" Cameron served twenty years in the U. S. Senate, serving two years of the unexpired term of his father, and was elected to three full terms of six years. That so far constitutes the record for long service in the Senate from this State. But if Senator Penrose shall complete the term for which he has just been elected he will have had a continuous service of twenty-four years, which will be the longest in the 124 years of the Federal history of this State.

Shoot on Dec. 19

There will be another big shooting match at A. H. Stump's Farmers' Inn on Saturday, Dec. 19, for a lot of turkeys and geese. Distance, 30 yards. Only factory loaded shells and blocks, all of which will be supplied, may be used. A free supper will be furnished all shooters and everybody is invited to attend. The match will be held rain or shine.

Christmas Savings Fund checks will be cashed at Getz Bros.

STOCK YARDS OPEN

One Section Now Doing Business—Prices Lower—Market Dragg

The Union Stock Yards after being shut down for over a month, being under quarantine necessitated by the outbreak of the hoof and mouth disease among the cattle, reopened for business at Lancaster Monday.

The yards were placed under quarantine on November 3. Over 300 cattle remaining in the yards at the time were shipped away for immediate slaughter and the rest numbering 34 were shot and put under the ground. Since that time the work of cleansing and disinfecting went on steadily and when the order went forth lifting the quarantine the southwestern quarter of the yards was given a thorough recleaning and was opened on Monday. The rest of the yards still remain closed.

Twenty carloads of butchers' cattle were received. Because of the weather few buyers were on hand, and the trading was dull. The stock on hand were of the common to medium grade, nothing really classy being seen. Eight decks of hogs were received and a good clearance was made of them.

Common to medium steers brought from 7 1/2 to 8 cents. Hogs brought 8 1/2 to 8 3/4 cents. A good clearance was effected during the day and at the close of business about two cars of heifers remained. Not a stocker or feeder was to be seen in the yards. These kind of cattle are not received at the yards for the present.

Both Hag a Close Call Paul Herchelroth, of West Marietta, went gunning with his brother John, below Columbia, at a place known as the Kerbaugh's quarries. While climbing up a steep hill the earth gave way, throwing both down the hill and breaking a $35 gun. They both narrowly escaped being shot when the gun went off.

Unclaimed Letters List of letters to be advertised for week ending Dec. 2, 1914: Henry S. Zug, Mrs. Lizzie Zerpey, J. Fred Fenstermacher, Postmaster.

Lost! Don't get the idea that you are lost and can't get what you want. Come and see what we have for Xmas. 25c up. Getz Bros.

SAM ACRI SHOT

Held Up by a Highwayman While on His Way Home Monday Night

Shot through the forearm by a highwayman, after being abruptly stopped with the insistent demand, "Your money, quick," was the unpleasant experience of Samuel Acri, owner of the moving picture house of Marietta, Monday night at 10:30 o'clock, while on his way home from his place of business in that borough.

The highwayman jumped out from a dark spot on Main street, and his demands of "throw up your hands" was met with a ready response by Mr. Acri. No sooner had his hands been placed above his head than the highwayman brought the butt of his rifle down upon Mr. Acri's head. The blow caused the rifle to be discharged, the bullet penetrating thru the forearm of Mr. Acri. The thief fled immediately upon the discharge of the gun, being lost in the darkness of night whence he came. He is described as being of medium weight, but his face was unseen as it was covered with a handkerchief.

Mr. Acri immediately proceeded to a local physician where his wounds were dressed. Tetanus serum was injected into Mr. Acri's arm yesterday to prevent lockjaw. He is well known here, having conducted a moving picture show in Mt. Joy Hall for some time.

Ministerial Meeting The Ministerial Association met on Monday forenoon in the Church of God parsonage. Rev. F. G. Boser presided and led the devotional services. Secretary I. H. Kern read the minutes. Considerable amount of routine business was transacted.

On motion of Rev. C. D. Rishel, it was agreed to defer the election of officers until the next meeting. Rev. N. A. Barr made the closing prayer. The next meeting will be held Monday, January 4, 1915, in the study of Rev. I. H. Kern.

ORGANIZED LUTHERAN CHURCH

Former Lutheran Pastor Still Busily Engaged in the Work

The Evening Mail of Halifax, Canada, under date of Nov. 30, contained the following in reference to Rev. M. J. Bieber, son-in-law of Mr. A. K. Manning of this place:

"A congregation that filled the Sons of Temperance Hall yesterday at both services marked the beginning of a Lutheran Church in this city. Members of the Lutheran Church in this city, from Lunenburg county and other portions of Canada and from the United States, have long since wished for a church of their faith in Halifax. Rev. M. J. Bieber, M. A., the field missionary of the general council of the Lutheran Church, who spent the past ten years in Canada organizing Lutheran congregations in the large cities, spent the last two weeks in Halifax and found a considerable number of Lutherans. A temporary organization was effected after the morning service yesterday by the election of Arthur Zink as secretary and Jesson Hirtle, of Dartmouth, as treasurer. A Sunday School will be organized at ten o'clock next Sunday and a Lutheran league and a missionary society will be formed in the near future.

The Lutheran Church ranks fifth in size among the Protestant denominations in Canada, numbering 300,000 members, and during the last decade, according to the census report, increased 148 per cent in the Dominion."

The Ladies Were Guests The Richland Club observed ladies' night again on Thursday evening when there was a very good attendance of members and their ladies and wives. Five hundred predominated, the prizes being as follows: First prize, Miss Elsie Battye, second, Miss Esther Shelly, first, Geleman, second, Mr. Clarence Newcomer, second, Geo. B. Zeller. Aftercards and presents were served by Mrs. McGirl, Mr. Chas. Hillinger, secretary.

Useful Goods Suits, Overcoats, Hats, Cases, etc.
