WHY NOT NOW?

Will there be a Sunday School League in Mount Joy Next Summer?

With the fair and Spring like weather the past week or more, and the boys hurling base balls on almost every vacant lot in town, one begins to think of the "Good Old Summer Time." These symptoms have set many of our base ball fans to thinking and many times of late we have been asked the question: "Will there be a Church or Sunday School League in Mount Joy next Summer?"

Of course we are unable to answer that question; but would think that from the amount of interest taken last summer, rivalry, exercise and amusement derived therefrom by our townspeople, the answer should be in the affirmative.

If those interested want a league, why not get together now; not wait until half the season is gone and evenings get too short. With last season's experience there is every reason why the league this year would prove a big success. Who'll make the initial move.

Thoroughbreds, This Time

The green grocery on West Main Street, heretofore conducted by Mr. John Keener, will in the future be in charge of Keener & Brooks, the new member of the firm is Mr. Harry Brooks, who has had considerable experience in the business. They will deal quite extensively in green goods of all kinds. Also fresh fish.

Tobacco News

R. L. Kimbrough Addressed a Meeting of Our Farmers Friday Evening

R. L. Kimbrough addressed a meeting of tobacco farmers in the Mount Joy hall on Friday evening, explaining to them a new plan for pooling their interests and thus securing a uniformly higher price for their tobacco through the medium of a community packing house, to be located in this vicinity. There were about fifty farmers present, about half of whom have sold their last year's crop, and all seemed interested in the move. No steps toward putting the plan into operation, however, were taken at the meeting.

This is Some Centre
Mount Joy is undoubtedly one of the greatest tobacco shipping points in the state. This community being one of the best growing centers for the weed in the county. Would you believe it were we to tell you that fifty carloads were shipped from the Pennsylvania Railroad freight station thus far this season?

A REAL ESTATE DEAL

Mr. J. N. Hershey Takes an Option on About 15 Acres of Land West of Town

This morning Mr. J. N. Hershey of Florin, took an option on all the land of Mr. Elias B. Helman, lying between the trolley tracks and the Pennsylvania Railroad, between here and Florin, west of town.

A certain consideration was paid for the option which is good until Apr. 15, 1915. The deal was consummated thru the efforts of our local real estate agent Mr. E. E. Hiestand.

While neither Mr. Helman, Mr. Hershey or Mr. Hiestand, when seen by our reporter, would say just what this option means, we understand there is a possibility of a big industry locating there. Of course, time and time only will tell.

OPENED NEW CHAPEL

Elizabethtown Now Has an Episcopal Parish House

On Friday the Rev. James Henry Darlington D. D., L. L. D., of Harrisburg, opened the new St. Elizabeth Chapel at Elizabethtown. The building, which was known in the past as the Fahg wagon factory, has been converted into a place of worship by the Episcopalians.

The initial gathering was large enough to test the capacity of the building. After confirming Mrs. Murray of the Masonic Home, the Bishop blessed the altar, cross, altar vessels, organ, pedestal for the font, lectern and prayer desk.

After a sermon by the Bishop and address by Geo. N. Reynolds of Lancaster and Jno. A. Snell of the Masonic Home, the latter the lay reader, Bishop Darlington proceeded to the second floor and dedicated it for the purposes of a Parish House.

The choir of St. Luke's Chapel, of this place, led the singing and also rendered the Jubilate Deo as an anthem, the solo of which was sung by Mrs. Dr. O. G. Longenecker. Miss Elsie Battye was organist and Mr. T. J. Brown ably served in the capacity of choir master.

The opening services were continued on Sunday evening when the members of the Crescent Club of Elizabethtown attended, and listened to an excellent sermo by the rector. The offering on Friday was $37.00.
