MARIETTA

Mask and Wig Club Will Render a Fine Entertainment Friday Night

Orrin B. Humphreys of New York was a town visitor during the past week.

Mrs. J. Andrew Haas has been spending the past week with friends at Reading.

Miss Margaret O'Connor is recovering from a severe attack of ivy poisoning.

Mr. William H. Haas of Philadelphia, spent a day in town with his parents.

Michael Kearney, who has been ill all winter, is somewhat improved this week.

James Donecho of New York, was the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Donecho.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Fitzgerald of the County Seat, were guests of the latter's mother, Mrs. Annie L. Engle.

The new theatre was crowded to overflowing last Friday night in the benefit show for the band. There were $20 paid admissions.

John W. Rich and chum of Philadelphia, were the guests of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry S. Rich, on Fairview street.

Bayard S. Herr is leading in the ten pin tournament in singles now being played at the bowling alley for the championship of Marietta.

Messrs. Frank Derr and John Straub, who are attending the University of Pennsylvania at Philadelphia, visited their parents last week.

Mrs. Edw. M. Miley met with a very painful accident last week when a window, which she had raised, fell upon her hand. While no bones were broken, her hand was badly bruised.

The Marietta Band was around serenading Monday evening and received quite a nest sum of money from our citizens which they will use toward purchasing new uniforms and instruments.

The second annual sauer kraut supper held by the men and boys of the Presbyterian Sunday school in the dining hall of the Church was well attended and a neat sum realized from the articles that were on sale during the evening.

Charles Hofer, the well-known Civil War veteran, celebrated his seventy-fifth birthday anniversary at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Little, where he boards. Music and dancing were features of the celebration, and all had an enjoyable time. At a seasonable hour refreshments were served. Mr. Hofer was a former resident of Newtown, where, for a number of years, he was the able correspondent of the Bulletin.

"A Count of No Account," a farce comedy in three acts, will be presented in Aeri's new theatre, Marietta, Friday evening, March 5, by the Mask and Wig Club of this place, under the direction of H. J. Desher, of Columbia. Brill's Orchestra of Marietta will furnish the music and judging from the large number of tickets sold at this writing they will be greeted with a crowded house. The Mask and Wig Club, the only dramatic organization in Marietta, was organized a few years ago and with the production of "A Count of No Account," will be the fourth show they have given. The officers of the club are as follows: David E. Brandt, President; Leroy E. Brandt, Secretary; John K. Miller, Treasurer, and Harry I. Desher, Director.

The following residents of Marietta have within the past few days celebrated either their birthday or their wedding anniversaries. All are in the best of health and many are well up in years: Mr. and Mrs. Frank McMullen, of the West End, were married 25 years; Mrs. Peter Vonhausen celebrated her 74th birthday anniversary; Mr. and Mrs. George G. Lindsay were married 47 years; William P. Sterrett celebrated his 88th birthday anniversary; Levi Longenecker, the veteran carpenter and builder, who has made many handsome and unique tables of small pieces of wood gathered from various parts of the United States, celebrated his 78th birthday anniversary; Mr. and Mrs. Michael Kling were married 47 years; Leonard Shields celebrated his 64th birthday anniversary. Postmaster John Orth on Sunday celebrated his natal anniversary.

MOUNT JOY BREWERY'S BOCK BEER

On Tap and in Bottle at All Principal Hotels, March 5, 1915

When other signs and groundhogs fail

To consolation bring. It takes the "Bock" to tell the tale That now again comes Spring.

This is a welcome message to a great multitude but a deplorable fact that it is not so to everybody. Misuse and overindulgence of "the cup that cheers," with its detrimental and logical consequences coupled with latter days' fanatical teachings have both created a widespread sentiment, that only a well balanced mind and sound reason is able to resist. To strengthen that sentiment, the Bible has been quoted by lines and paragraphs where it is made to favor the cause but the other side's argument from the same source you have yet to hear.

When Solomon in his proverbs says: "Give strong drinks unto him who is ready to perish and wine unto those that be of heavy hearts, let him drink and forget his poverty and remember his misery no more," he is giving us the foremost purposes served by stimulants. What a great improvement a glass of wine or beer would make in many a long face and what a whole-souled nation it would be if we all could raise the sparkling purple cup with a smile and a hearty "prosit" without a risk of hurting anybody's feelings or incurring the sour looks of our next door neighbors. But, alas, such is not life. A widely known evangelist said the other day in his crazed exhortation among other things: "What would you do if you knew that this was doom's day? Would you wish the beer-wagon to stop at your door, etc.," just as if you were committing an openly admitted crime by taking in a case of beer or bottle of wine for a moment's pleasure or to break the monotony of every day life. When fanaticism has gone so far it cannot go much further. Christ, the master of all, whose moral code we are trying to follow, the father of all evangelists, is the only one who had no use for contributions or money; he is the only one who did not ride in golden chariots (or present day limousines owned by merchant princes); who did not have a trainer and outfit and choir-leader and cohorts to blow and blast the horn; that he was there; his own personality was the magnet that attracted the multitudes. He is the only one who ever descended to hell, but did have enough good judgment not to hurt anybody's feelings by telling who were there or who were not there and what more, he is reputed by his favorite disciple, St. John, in his second chapter, to have converted about three hundred gallons water into wine at one single wedding and if he did that, the Lord of creation, which must be true as well as the rest of the Bible, then I feel as conscious and clear of mind as anyone of any other occupation and consider the fruits of my labor of "cheer and joy" as an important asset to this pretty community if it is used right and right only.

Throw cares away, forget your sorrow. A cheerful mind is more than wealth.

Let future worries come tomorrow Here goes a Seidel to your health.

Yours Truly, JOHN HALLGREN

STOCK YARDS OPEN AGAIN

Seven Carloads of Cattle and One Deck of Hogs Received Monday

The Union Stock Yards at Lancaster, closed since the first week in November, except during very short periods, when only sections were open for trading on a limited scale, because of the apthous fever outbreak, were reopened Monday morning under orders from the Federal Bureau of Animal Industry at Washington.

Before noon seven carloads of cattle had been received from Virginia and West Virginia, and one deck of hogs. Cattle and hogs may only come from "free" areas, localities free of the fever, and these include all of the South, except Kentucky. Cattle may also be received from Canada, but they must not come thru Buffalo, N. Y.

Our own county is free of the disease, apparently as no new cases have been found lately. The State is not entirely free of the disease, however, for one new case was found in Dauphin county within the past forty-eight hours.

Father and Mother Badly Hurt, But Children Escape

Returning from church Sunday evening, Henry Hummer, a farmer residing at Union Square, and his wife, were seriously injured, when their horse ran away after the wagon hit a telephone pole. Three small children escaped injury.

The accident happened shortly before 9 o'clock on the road between Naumanstown, where the family attended Fairview Church, at Union Square.

All the occupants were thrown out of the carriage, and the maddened animal dashed up the road, but was caught unharmed about a mile distant. The wagon was smashed to kindling wood.

The three youngsters marvelously escaped any injuries, but the father and mother were not so fortunate. Hummer's nose was badly lacerated and his face cut; his wife had her back badly sprained.

Dr. J. S. Beamesderfer of Manheim was summoned and rendered the necessary medical attention.

Will Build a New Barn

The large barn on the farm of Mr. Jacob Snyder in West Donegal, a short distance south of Rheems, will be replaced by a fine new and modern structure this Spring. The new building will be erected on the site of the present one but will be much larger. It will be 48x96 feet long with a wing 26x33 attached. When completed it will be one of the largest and most modern in that section. Mr. Aaron Grove has the contract for its erection. This farm is tenanted by Mr. Frank N. Hertzler, who until last Spring was a resident of near Bender's Mill, east of here. Work on same will begin as soon as the weather permits.

Entertained in Daughter's Honor

Mrs. J. L. Minich of Landisville, entertained handsomely on Friday evening in honor of the birthday of her daughter, Miss Barbara. Forty guests were present from several places in the county and state. The evening was spent in playing games and cards, after which a splendid luncheon was served.

To Our Patrons and Friends

WE wish to announce to the public of Mount Joy and vicinity that our store is again fitted up for your accommodation. For the past month we have been extremely busy, in getting our store ready for the Easter trade of 1915. We have made many needed improvements and wish to thank you all, together with the Mt. Joy Hall Association for these many favors. We hope to serve you better in the future than we did in the past, and ask a continuance of your much appreciated custom. Thanking you, we remain at your service.
