Last night in the Odd Fellows' Hall. Cornville's Pre-eminently Enormous New High-School closed the most prosperous season of its career with the Most Unequaled, Unapproachable, and Notably Novel Graduating Exercises ever conceived. No more Wonderful and Incomparable exhibition of oratorical achievements; Artistic, Astounding, Awe-inspiring Vocal exploits; Extraordinary, Pyramidal, and Prodigally proficient musical effects. were ever offered on any Commencement programme in Sacred or Profane History in this or any other land. At 7.30 the curtain ascended, displaying the Eight Young Lady and Gentlemen graduates, the Board of Education, the Teachers and Members of the school surrounded by potted plants and countless flags. Surely an eye-feast of Sumptuous Kaleidoscopic Splendors. Never before has there been such a prodigal display of Spechead live stock consisting of mules, tacular interest; combining the Luxhorse, cows and shoats and a large uriously elegant costumes, Superb toilets, waving Banners, tropical foliage, Celebrities of Cornville life, teachers, scholars, scientists, church dignitaries, historians, athletes, sages, and musicians all correctly costumed. making it a Most Transcendentally Beautiful, Substantial, Surprising, and Satisfying opening to the Pleasurable > performances to follow. Mr. Isadore Jones, the World's Famous musical director and talented leader of the Methodist choir, next weilded his baton over a corps of more than thirty prominent singers and soloists from the United Classes of this Highest of all High-Schools. This Superb sight was most bewilderingly grand, and opened to the eyes of the Countless spectators a greater Blaze of Glory and Music than could be evolved from the Simultaneous presentation of a score of choirs from Cornville's most Lavishly Splendid Churches Display Number Two proved to be a Distinctive and Distinguished Novelty entitled "the Class Will." A perfect whirlwind of fun and humor by the comical Miss Perkins.

A Wonderful and Incomparable exhibition of Exhilarating, Dashing, and Novel elocution was next introduced by the Graceful and Accomplished Miss De Kelly, who recited the Terrific Real Roman Four-Horse Chariotes, a short distance off the Manheim Race from Ben Hur. The Marvelous road, near Krady's Nursery, 2 miles and Magnificent talent displayed sepeast of Mount Joy, horses, cows, lot arates this supreme performance from

I do surely think elocutionists are the paltriest people on earth! One of 'em destroyed our elegant rocky gorge scene, years ago, by havin' a fit and wallopin' around all over the place with his head stuck through the middle of it; and I haven't forgotten him for it yet, either! But, anyhow, what kind of a way is it to get up and recite some piece that was written for the Fifth Reader by some infernal old Roman or other and call that performin'? Schucks! What I consider performin' it either rescuin' helpless maidens from the clutches of designin' villains or buzz-saws, or such as that; or else spinnin' right around on the top of your head in the middle of the stage, or something of that sort that takes genuine talent. The elocutionist, when she ain't a lady, and therefore an object of pity, is generally a spindlenecked, desiccated young man with long, dark hair, who, instead of entertainin' you, only makes you think that he'd be a heap sight more ap- 148 propriately situated if he was hooked up betwixt the handles of a plain but serviceable plow, and causes you to ask, away down deep in your heart, who it was that told him he had talent?
