

Lard and Kerosene

WHEN making pies you know that the flakiness of the crust depends to a large extent upon the quality of the shortening. Unless the lard is right, your skill, your eggs, your flour and your milk all go for nothing. You're particular about your shortening, but are you equally careful of the kerosene you put into your lamps, heaters and stoves. Ask for by name and you buy a kerosene that's refined from the best petroleum, by methods which get the utmost possible out of the finest raw material this old earth provides.

Used in a lamp it gives a soft yet brilliant light. It will neither smell nor smoke. In stove or heater it furnishes an intense heat, but always at the lowest possible cost.

And because it's a highly refined kerosene, it adds to the life of the device in which it is used.

Include Atlantic Rayolight Oil in your market list just as you do any other household utility of known reputation. Call for it by name and you get a superior kerosene that costs no more than the nameless kind.

How'd you get about getting rid of a dab of paint on the window pane? The easiest thing in the world - rub it off with Atlantic Rayolight Oil. Never thought of that, eh? But do you know another use? If you do think one up, hold it for a few days and maybe you can exchange it for something your heart desires.

The remains will be buried in Ohio.

Mrs. Geo. Rahm
Sarah S., wife of George Rahm, died at her home in this place Friday from the effects of a stroke. She deceased was sixty-eight years of age and a member of the River brethren church. She is survived by her husband and these children: Harry, Mrs. Ervin Waters and Mrs. Frank Carson, all of this place, and Charles, of Columbia. The funeral took place on Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock from her late home, with services at 2 o'clock at the Evangelical church. Interment was made in Eberle's cemetery.

Mrs. Amos Fridy
A lingering illness, due to cancer, terminated in the death of Mrs. Barbara Fridy, wife of Amos Fridy, residing at Elizabethtown, at three o'clock Sunday morning. She was aged 72 years. Deceased was born in West Donegal and was a daughter of the late Martin Nissley and widely known throughout the northern section of Lancaster county, her relationship being very large. She was a consistent member of the Mennonite church for many years. Besides her husband, she is survived by the following children: Irwin and John, of West Donegal; Simon and Anna, of North Dakota, and Ada, Anna and Mary at home. Funeral services were held this morning at the house and at 9:30 o'clock in the Mennonite church. Interment was made in Bossler's graveyard in West Donegal.

Mrs. Susan Ream
Mrs. Susan Ream, a well known resident of this borough, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Beamesderfer, on East Main street, with whom she had been living. Her death occurred at five o'clock last evening after a very brief illness from the effects of a stroke the day previous. She was in her eighth year, and is survived by three sons, Norman Ream of Harrisburg; Frank Ream of Manheim, Ed Ream of this place, and two daughters, Mrs. John Beamesderfer, with whom she died, and Mrs. Jacob Sheffer of Elizabethtown. One sister, Mrs. John Grove of Elizabethtown, and a step-brother, Mr. Benjamin Whissler of Lancaster, also survive. The funeral will take place from her late home on Friday afternoon at one o'clock and at 1:30 in the United Brethren Church. Interment will be made in the Mt. Tunnel Cemetery at Elizabethtown.

Henry S. Brubaker
Henry S. Brubaker, one of the best and most widely known residents of near Eby's church in Rapho township, died at his home at seven o'clock Monday morning in the eightieth year of his age. Since the death of his wife more than twenty years ago he has been living with his son Benjamin, on the homestead farm. Deceased was ill the past five weeks, suffering from tonsillitis the later appendicitis. He was born near Sporting Hill and has lived in Rapho all his life where he followed farming until a few years ago when he retired. Mr. Brubaker was quite an expert as a botanist and during the past fifteen years he gathered specimens for many of the state's leading colleges and also for state authorities. He has a wonderful collection at his home at the present time. After fifteen years of strenuous work the subject of this obituary completed the compilation of the Brubaker genealogy, a book of 150 pages, which is complete in every respect. The past year he devoted to selling these books. He was a member of the Mennonite church. He is survived by five sons as follows: Benjamin, residing on the homestead farm, two miles east of here; Peter and Abram of this borough; and Elmer and Henry of Rapho. The funeral will take place from his late home on Thursday forenoon at 9 o'clock and at 10 o'clock at Erisman's church. Interment will be made in the cemetery adjoining the church.

Straightening Streams With Dynamite

The ancient Egyptians were noted for their crops because, as history states, they "sowed their seeds in the Nile." This does not mean that they actually cast the seed in the river. At certain seasons of the year the Nile overflows its banks, depositing on either shore a rich silt or earth that is highly conducive to bumper crops, and the wise ancient Egyptians, realizing this, pruned thereby.

Water is a necessity. The finest brooks up to the largest rivers play an important part in the scheme of things inasmuch as they are nature's way of both irrigation and drainage. But before formed according to nature's dictates their courses do not always jibe with man's desires or needs.

Explosives In Road Building

One of the newer methods of road building that is fast winning the indorsement of the better versed contractor is that of employing dynamite for reducing the heavy work.

Grading through hard ground or rock, for instance, is tedious and requires time and labor. The use of dynamite for blasting such material is a welcome relief. Both rock and hard clay may be loosened in the cut by well placed charges of explosives if holes are drilled into the ground a little way up the bank and loaded. Careful spacing and loading for electrically fired blasts will result in bringing down both classes of materials in the best possible manner.

In loosening shale and rock to facilitate hand or steam shovel work dynamite is also very effective, while stumps may be blasted from the roadside just as though they were being removed from a field to be cleared and cultivated.

Boulders also are easily shattered by suitable loading and when of hard rock may be crushed into surfacing stone. The side ditches as well as the long outfall ditches can also be blasted in keeping with the nature of the ground. In fact, there are no limits practically to the many uses and advantages of dynamite for road building, when careful and thoughtful attention is given to the work.

Incidentally the planting of shade trees for roadside improvement and attractiveness is greatly facilitated by the judicious use of a little dynamite. It is a recognized fact that trees planted in blasted holes grow much more rapidly and progress more favorably than those planted in the average spade dug ground.

Still, it must be said for the Italian that it is doing as well as any expected.

Odd Bits of News

Greenport, L. I.—After hiccoughing for ten months, Cortland Brooks is dead at his home here. When he began to hiccough he was taken to a hospital and put in a plaster, but continued to hiccough even in his sleep. Physicians diagnose his malady as tuberculosis of the spine.

Danbury, Conn.—With his right arm severed near the elbow and the flesh hanging in shreds John Calkins, 24 years old, a chauffeur, drove his automobile with his remaining hand two miles to get surgical aid. His arm was cut off by an ensilage cutter.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"There are some wheels in my head," said a Marlon, N. J., man to the head physician at Cooper Hospital, Camden, N. J. The physician examined the man's ear and found twenty-three small wriggling objects which were identified by an entomologist as the larvae of a fly. The man had been sleeping on the ground, and it is thought a fly laid the eggs, which were hatched by his heat.

Waycross, Ga.—Dr. J. H. Ladmer, member of the city council, had an operation performed to remove a No. 6 birdshot from between his fingers. The shot entered his arm over eighteen years ago and had never troubled him until it worked between his fingers so that he was unable to move them.

Matrimonial Doings In This Section

Garber—Mumma
A very pretty wedding took place at high noon Wednesday at the home of Mr. J. B. Mumma, near Landisville, when his daughter, Lizzie B., became the bride of Jacob R. Garber, son of Mr. and Mrs. Amos Garber of near Elizabethtown. The ceremony was performed by Bishop Peter Nissley, in the presence of about eighty guests. The bride wore a gown of gray pussy willow crepe. Messrs. Ralph Martin, of Elizabethtown and Aaron Shertzler, of Millersville, acted as ushers. After a sumptuous wedding dinner Mr. and Mrs. Garber left amid showers of rice for Niagara Falls and Canada and other points of interest.

Dehoff—Simons
A pretty wedding was solemnized on Sunday morning at the close of the church services in St. John's Lutheran church, Maytown, when Miss Mary Knox Dehoff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Dehoff of Maytown, became the bride of Professor John S. Simons, of Marietta. The ceremony with the ring was performed by the pastor, Rev. Joseph D. Kroun.
Miss Dehoff for many years was a leader of the choir and an earnest worker in church and Sunday school. She was given in marriage by her father. The groom was attended by his brother, Dr. Isaac Simons, of Lancaster, and the bride by Miss Catharine Clepper, of Maytown. The wedding march was played by Mrs. North Loucks, organist of the church. Immediately following a wedding dinner was served to the bridal party and a few friends and relatives at the home of the bride. They left on a tour of western cities and upon their return will reside at Marietta. Miss Dehoff is possessed of a sweet soprano voice, and often delighted audiences. The groom was until recently superintendent of public schools at DuBois, but is now studying law at Lancaster. The bride was the recipient of a number of handsome gifts.

Don't forget the benefit for the above "crowd" in Mount Joy Hall on Saturday evening, Nov. 27.
