Lowe attended the meeting of the men's missionary congress held in the Salem reformed church, Allentown, Pa. Between 1,500 and 2,000 Reformed ministers and laymen from all parts of the United States were in attendance. The second annual lyceum festival given under the direction of the Pennsylvania Chautauqu Association of Swarthmore, Pa., will be held in the Maytown Hall, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons and evenings, November 24, 25 and 26. Those who attended the entertainments last year found all the numbers rendered of a high order and everyone was well pleased. The programs arranged for this year are just as good and possibly better so that a treat is in store for those attending. These lyceum festivals are not only of the highest class entertainment and amusement, but are educational as well. Season tickets giving reserved seats for the six entertainments cost $1.25. Single admission 35c. The chart for reserving seats will be opened at Artz's store on Tuesday morning, November 23 at 8 o'clock.

Lancaster County Suffrage Conference

The County Committee of the Woman Suffrage Party has called a Conference to be held on Wednesday, December 8, at 2 P. M. in their Headquarters in the Woolworth Building. Reports from the Convention of Nov. 30 in Philadelphia will be heard and plans discussed for holding and increasing the splendid showing Suffrage made in this county in the recent election. Every organized body that has endorsed Suffrage is urged to send a representative, whether club, Parent Teachers Association, Sabbath School Association, W. C. T. U., or any other rank of people who are interested in the cause. Individuals who endorsed it by their votes and the "indirect influences" behind the votes are urged to keep this date for attendance at the Conference. Mount Joy and its vicinity gave 139 votes for the amendment a few weeks ago. This County Committee is looking for some of these Suffragists on December 8.

We Furnish Them

We have arranged with one of the largest manufacturers in the United States to supply any thing in the line of lead, slate, copying pencils, with or without erasers, also many designs in pen holders, with anything printed thereon you wish, at prices that will astonish you. They are a crackerjack advertising novelty and we will be pleased to show samples and quote prices to any one interested.

The Nation-Wide Preaching Mission

Plans for this event locally in connection with St. Luke's Church are now under way. Arrangements are not yet completed. Watch for announcements in the near future. Our friends, not only of the Parish, but of other denominations, are asked to pray for the success of The Coming of the Kingdom of God. It is the Master's work and not sectarian in its scope.

Hosterman Lands Good Beth Sumner V. Hosterman of Lancaster, has been appointed assistant by District Attorney-elect, Cleon N. Bornthelzel, of Columbia.

The Pennsylvania has ordered sixty-three engines to be delivered in the Spring. That will make work for a few mechanics, at least.

RHEEMS

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gainer spent last Saturday at Lancaster, where they were guests of friends. Mr. Benj. Lefever and family of near Lancaster were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Evans. Messrs. Snyder and Gish have a force sampling their 1913 cased tobacco in the A. S. Bard warehouse. Mrs. Wendel Baker of Elizabethtown, was guest of Mrs. H. H. Bard and daughter Amanda one day last week. Mrs. P. C. Sload, Mrs. N. N. Greiner spent last Friday at Philadelphia combining business with pleasure. Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Kauffman of near Petersburg, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jos. W. Kraybill one day last week. Mr. Isaac Kupp of Milton Grove, the assessor of Mount Joy township made his annual trip through this section last week. Mr. Harry K. Ober, the West Donegal township assessor spent last Monday in this place looking up the interests of the township. Mrs. Harry Krall and two daughters of Mount Joy, were guests of Mrs. H. H. Bard who is still confined to her bed on Sunday afternoon. The P. R. R. Co. put three car load of crushed stone upon the approaches of the over head bridge at the Colebrook road the past week. The past few days of frigid weather caused quite a demand for the superior coal at the D. G. Brincker coal yards where a large supply is constantly on hand.

The B. H. Greider double house adjacent to his poultry farm being hustled along by contractor and builder Mr. Clayton Gelweit and a force of five men of Elizabethtown. Mr. S. J. King, who was stricken with typhoid at the St. Joseph's Hospital, Lancaster has gained sufficient strength to sit up in bed with good prospects of leaving for his home in near future. Mr. Frank Pierce is furnishing the crushed stone for J. G. Reist, supervisor of the pike east of this place for a distance of two miles which they contemplate making similar to a modern state road. The Landis Bros., who conduct an up to date dairy farm where nothing but certified milk is sold in quart bottles at Harrisburg, being shipped each day on the 6:59 morning train. In order to retain their sanitary record they received a car load of baled shavings each month.

Rev. Rufus Bucher of near Quarryville, who opened a series of evening meetings in the Church of the Brethren, November the 14th is attracting large audiences each night. Sunday night it required additional benches during the day they make visits going from house to house. Mr. John G. Reist, the Mount Joy township fruit and affairs grower has charge of macademizing the pike using an engine attached to a roller that weighs four ton, which they use upon the crushed stone with oil sprinkled on sufficient to make a compact hard surface which will make this high way a modern street for the many hundred automobiles that pass over it daily.

BERTO ACQUITTED

Judge Landis instructs Jury to Acquit Lancaster Co. Farmer

In court on Thursday, J. H. Berto and his son, Harry, were charged by J. C. Hooper with the larceny by bailee of 51 bushels of wheat, 75 bushels of corn, a buckboard and a buggy. Hooper testified that J. H. Berto was the tenant of his farm, near Elizabethtown, during the summer of 1914, and that the lease under which the farm was tenanted provided that Berto and he were to receive each one-half of the wheat and grain raised and that they were to share the cost of operating the farm in a certain proportion. He declared further that the accused misappropriated the stated quantities of grain and wheat, and the son unlawfully disposed of the buckboard and wagon, which were the property of the farm. Upon a motion by John E. Malone, the attorney for the defendants, Judge Landis declared that there was no evidence to support the charge of larceny by bailee in the matter of the wheat and corn. Harry Berto, the son, as well as several other witnesses, testified that Hooper had bought the vehicles for the son, with the understanding that the latter should pay for them later by work and money. The Commonwealth was unable to establish the contrary. Judge Landis instructed the jury to find a verdict of acquittal to the charges made.
