OUT-DOOR SLEEPING

Little Talks on Health and Hygiene by Samuel G. Dixon, M. D., LL. D.

That which is looked upon as a fad today becomes the necessity of tomorrow. This is largely the case with out-door sleeping.

With the beginning of the active campaign against tuberculosis but a few years or so ago, out-door sleeping was recommended for those suffering from tuberculosis and others whose general physical condition seemed to warrant it.

These pioneers were looked upon by their friends and neighbors with interest and they openly expressed belief that if they survived this exposure, which was doubtful, they would soon tire of the experiment anyhow. As a matter of fact there are a hundred open air sleepers today where there was one a decade ago and it is no longer limited to those who are in ill health.

All who have tried open air sleeping are enthusiastic about it and they constitute an ever growing group.

A sleeping porch is coming to be looked upon as an essential part of the home. Whole families have taken to sleeping in the open and have been so benefited by it that they would never consider anything else.

The proper garb to insure warmth despite the temperature is essential. With a warm room for dressing accessible there is no reason why this invigorating and stimulating custom should not continue to grow in popularity.

Many men and women who of necessity must spend their working hours indoors can obtain during their rest at night, at least a portion of the out-door air that Nature intended us all to have.

Sleeping porches can be constructed on the most modest homes at a comparatively small cost and in the majority of instances they can be guaranteed to save their cost in doctor bills. The change from sleeping in closed warm rooms to out-door sleeping must be brought about gradually, giving Nature time to meet the new conditions. The very old or very young demand more protection than the adult in the prime of life.

AN INTERESTING SALE BILL

Printed 58 Years Ago When Negroes Were Sold at Public Sale

Our townsman Mr. Emanuel Sumpman handed us a copy of the Broom Corn News, printed at Arcola, Illinois, from which we clipped the following:

A. W. Eads has on exhibition at the Eads Bros. Store an old sale bill that is quite a relic. It was printed in 1858 by the Press at Hopkinsville, Ky. and is very much like the sale bills of today except that the date of the sale is displayed at the bottom. In the bill 28 negroes are advertised for sale. Mr. Eads found the paper in the attic of the house on a farm near Hopkinsville which he recently owned. The bill is well preserved. We are reproducing it because of its unusual and interesting features:

PUBLIC SALE
300 Acres of Valuable Land!
28 LIKELY NEGROES!
FIFTY MULES

I will sell at public auction on Tuesday 28th day of December, 1858, at my farm on the Canton road in Christian county 3 1/2 miles from Hopkinsville, 2 tracts of land containing 300 acres about 200 acres are cleared and the balance in timber. The improvements consist of a brick dwelling with five rooms; brick kitchen and smoke house etc. There are on the farm tobacco barns sufficient to cure 60 acres of tobacco, with all necessary out-buildings; two never failing springs, and a number one apple and peach orchard.

The land will be sold for one-third cash down, and the remainder in one and two years, in equal instalments.

The NEGROES consist of men, women, plow boys and girls. There are two hoghead makers, one blacksmith and a common carpenter, two good seamstresses, and a cook. These are a desirable lot of negroes, and such negroes are not often offered for sale. 50 mules, all in good order for market or gear. Three wagons, one yoke of oxen; cattle, hogs, wheat, household and kitchen furniture, farming utensils. This is a desirable farm for soil, health, timber, water and locality.

All of the above property will be sold on credit. Terms made known on day of sale.

Nov. 29th. 1858.

To filter the blood is the kidneys' duty. When they fail to do this the kidneys are weak. Backache and other kidney ills may follow.

Help the kidneys do their work. Use Doan's Kidney Pills—the tested kidney remedy.

Proof of their worth in the following:

Mrs. W. C. Hartzell, S. Poplar St., Elizabethtown, Pa., says: "I and others of the family have used Doan's Kidney Pills on different occasions for kidney complaint and they have given fine relief. My kidneys caused me a great deal of trouble and I suffered from dull, nagging backaches and severe pains across my loins. I couldn't rest well at night, and mornings felt so lame that I could hardly do my household work. Doan's Kidney Pills gave me positive relief."
